

BOY, MOURNED AS DEAD, SHOCKS FUNERAL PARTY; APPEARS AFTER HIS SUPPOSED BODY IS INTERRED

British Aviator, Missing 48 Hours, Is Found

JAP DESTROYERS
IN FRANTIC HUNT
ON OCEAN ROUTE

England Torn With Anxiety for Missing Heroes, as It Acclaims American Aviators.

WIFE OF MACLAREN
IS STILL CONFIDENT

Leader of British Round-World Party and His Pilot Won Decorations for Daring During War.

BRITISH WORLD-FLIER
NEPHEW OF MACON MAYOR.
Macon, Ga., July 17.—(Special.) A. Stuart MacLaren, British aviator, who has been missing nearly two days in his round-the-world flight, is a nephew of Mayor Luther Williams, of Macon, it became known tonight.

Mayor Williams and his family have been watching the advance of the young aviator from the time he started, fearing that something might happen.

"My brother at Oxford wrote me two months ago that he feared something would happen to MacLaren," said the mayor, "but he is courageous and we still have hope that he is all right."

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Tokio, July 18.—A. Stuart MacLaren, the British aviator on a flight around the world, who has been missing since he left Lake Tashimoye, Yutorofu Island, for Paramashiru, Kurile Islands, early Wednesday morning, has been found.

MacLaren and his companions were found safe in a bay on the southwest shore of Uruppu Island, the island adjoining Yutorofu Island, from which the aviator started Wednesday morning.

The news was received in a wireless message from a steamer off Uruppu Island picked up by the Japanese destroyer Isokaze this morning. The Isokaze is proceeding to Uruppu Island.

BY CHARLES M. McCANN.

London, July 17.—Lost somewhere in the lonely, storm swept Kurile Islands north of Japan, A. S. N. MacLaren and his little band of daring British aviators who set out to circle the globe in the airplane "Vulture" are still missing, more than 42 hours overdue at Kashiwabara Bay.

Japanese destroyers which are combing the northern seas for the craft reported that no trace of him had been found up to 9 p. m., on July

Continued on Page 3, Column 3.

GOES HOME TO FACE
TWENTY-YEAR-OLD
CHARGE OF MURDER

Tacoma, Wash., July 16.—Dave Steele, for 20 years a reputable citizen of Nesika, Lewis county, is on his way back to Kentucky today in charge of a deputy sheriff to answer a charge of murder, alleged to have been committed 22 years ago. It is said that a drunken man, walking along the West Virginia side of the Big Sandy river, was shooting into the Steel home on the Kentucky side and that Dave Steel shot across the river and killed him.

Steele was recognized here six weeks ago by a deputy sheriff from Pike county, Ky., here to return another prisoner charged with murder, and his arrest and extradition followed.

ATLANTA BEAUTIES
GET CHANCE TODAY
ON SILVER SCREEN

Film of Applicants, Taken at Spiller's Pool, Will Be Shown at Metropolitan Theater.

Atlanta's beauties will get their first chance to appear on the silver screen this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Spiller's pool, when Tracy Mathewson, veteran cameraman, will make a film of applicants for the title of "Miss Atlanta" in the national beauty pageant to be shown at the Metropolitan theater all next week.

Mr. Mathewson Thursday asked that all pretty girls who are entered in the "Miss Atlanta" tournament, together with all who wish to enroll, be on hand and take part in the filming of the picture.

First of Series.
This will be the first of a series of weekly films to be shown at the Metropolitan, showing in actual pictorial style the progress of the Constitution's search for the city's fairest daughter to carry the local title to Atlantic City early in September to vie with beauties from a hundred North American cities for the title of "Miss America."

At Piedmont and Grant park pools Thursday afternoon, many pretty Atlanta girls were photographed by Constitution staff photographers stationed there, and thus formally entered the tournament. The pace with which entries are being received demonstrates the keen interest felt throughout the city in the annual event, and this is slated to increase by leaps and bounds as pictures of the applicants are published in grave sections and daily issues.

Pretty Girls Invited.

A number of young ladies have called at the studio of Wesley Hitzburg, on Whitehall street, and have entered the event there by being photographed, and submitting entry blanks similar to the one printed at the end of this article. The photos are made without cost to the entrants.

The tournament management again took occasion Wednesday to invite all pretty Atlanta girls to enter the tournament without delay. First photographs of local beauties will be shown in the popular Constitution grave section of Sunday, and from that time on a steady stream of pic-

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Supposed Train Wreck Victim and Funeral Mourners

PREMIERS REACH
CRITICAL PERIOD
UPON DAWES PLAN

Three Prime Ministers and U. S. Observers Declare, However, Satisfactory Progress Made.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, July 17.—The Dawes plan for a reparations deal, intended to be void of sentiment and political, nationalistic feeling, is going through the most critical period of its existence, under the scrutiny of the experts, who spent the second day of the inter-allied conference at work in the committee room on Downing street.

Tonight it was authoritatively stated that America's official observer, Ambassador Kellogg, and his advisers, Colonel James A. Logan, Jr., and the prime ministers of Great Britain, France and Belgium were highly satisfied with the progress made.

The British are said to be particularly pleased because the deliberations are holding closely to the vital

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

BIG POWER PLANT
URGED FOR CITY

$2,500,000 Program for Improvement of Water System Is Proposed. Committee Is Named.

Negotiations looking toward launching a plan for $2,500,000 waterworks improvements, including a dam and power plant on the Chattahoochee river, were authorized by the waterworks committee of both the bond commission and city council in joint session Thursday afternoon.

Alderman J. R. Bachman, chairman of the finance committee and member of the waterworks committee of council; Tom Erwin, chairman of the bond commission, and Frank Innan, of the waterworks committee of the bond commission, were appointed as a special committee to work out a definite plan for carrying out the improvement.

The committee is to meet within the next week in the office of Paul Norcross, waterworks engineer and president of the chamber of commerce, who explained to the committee Thursday the general plan for the improvement.

He showed them rough drafts of the dam, power plant and other units of the development.

Mr. Norcross, corroborated by W. Z.

Continued on Page 4, Column 6.

Top picture: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hinton are shown on the right and left, with J. C. Cox, Mrs. Hinton's father, in the center. In front of this group is John Hinton, who was mourned as dead. Bottom: Another view of young Hinton.

Age-Old Questions Greet
"RESEMBLANCE OF YOUTHS AWESOME," SAYS FATHER
Boy Returned From "Death"

BY LOYD A. WILHOIT.

One of the weirdest combinations of facts and coincidences that ever conspired in the common, everyday garden variety of life to put to shame the wildest stretch of imaginative fiction—that's the only proper way in which to describe the strange case of John W. Hinton.

Young Hinton, who is 15 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hinton, of 115 Pulliam street, is probably the most talked-of youth in the south today; all by virtue of the fact that he has experienced that rare sensation of enjoying robust health and well-being at the same and identical moment when his grief-stricken parents and friends were laying in the tomb the last remains of a boy so marvelously like him that father and mother, relatives and intimate friends passed to the number of more than 300 by his bier and pronounced the corpse to be John W. Hinton.

A Dramatic Reunion.

Furthermore, Hinton has passed

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

"JOKER" IN BILL
SEEN AS DANGER TO STATE BOARDS

Consternation Caused by Measure Calling for Payment of All Funds Into Treasury.

Passage by the house Thursday of a bill providing that all moneys collected under authority of the state must be paid into the state treasury, and drawn out only through appropriations and regular warrants, created consternation in several departments of the state government when it was pointed out that the measure contained a "joker," which, it is feared, will result in depriving many of the bureau and departments of the money upon which they now operate.

The alleged "joker" is seen in connection with the proviso in the general appropriations bill, passed last year, which appropriates half of all money collected by the state to the

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

STATE PORT BILL
COMES UP TODAY

Ten Appointments of Governor Walker Confirmed After Objections to Slate Ironed Out.

Consideration of the state port bill, which has been postponed on numerous occasions in the state senate, is set for a special order at today's session of the upper house. The measure, which was introduced by Senator Cason, of the 1st district, and others, seeks to propose to the voters of Georgia an amendment to the state constitution, authorizing an increase in the state's bonded debt, for the purpose of constructing state-owned terminal facilities on deep water at some Georgia port.

The bill provides the bonded indebtedness shall not exceed $15,000,000. The port at which the terminal facilities would be constructed is not designated, but would be decided at a general election of the people of the state. However, it would probably be situated at either Savannah or Brunswick, both of which cities are making strong bids for the port.

Tax Resolution Passed.

Probably the most important legis-

Continued on Page 3, Column 6.

SHAVER IS CHOSEN
PARTY CHAIRMAN
TO HEAD CAMPAIGN

Formal Announcement of His Selection as Organization Chief Is Expected Today.

PLEDGES OF SUPPORT
CONTINUE IN FLOOD

George L. Berry Now Seems Only Holdout. Davis Makes First Call Since Nomination.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, July 17.—Although formal announcement still is withheld there is every indication that Clem L. Shaver of Fairmount, W. Va., has been selected as chairman of the democratic national committee, in which capacity he will conduct the campaign for John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee.

Announcement of this selection and of the general campaign organization is expected to be made before Mr. Davis leaves New York tomorrow evening for Islesboro, Maine. Some statement with reference to the campaign organization had been looked for today, but just before leaving his temporary headquarters for his home at Locust Valley, Long Island, Mr. Davis said he could make no statement on the subject.

Shaver Already Busy.

Mr. Shaver, who conducted the nominee's pre-convention campaign, had a long conference with Mr. Davis during the day and also discussed campaign plans with Senator King, of Utah, and Thomas Spellacy, of Connecticut, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the appointment of campaign director in the east.

Arriving at his temporary headquarters in an uptown hotel just before noon, Mr. Davis had a busy seven-hours home to prepare for his trip to Maine. He consulted with a number of party leaders, chief among them Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, who, as chairman of the nomination committee, will formally apprise Mr. Davis of his nomination. Senator Walsh said after his visit that the campaign manager and the date of notification had been the chief

Continued on Page 8, Column 3.

BATHER AT LAKE
DIES FROM FALL

George W. Cureton of Greenville, S. C., Fatally Injured as He Slips in Jump From Tower.

Injuries suffered when he fell 35 feet from a cable to the bank of the Brookhaven lake at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning, proved fatal to George W. Cureton, prominent resident of Greenville, S. C., and he died at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at a private hospital here. He suffered several broken bones in the fall and was so badly injured internally that physicians feared even to attempt an operation.

Other bathers at the pool were unable to explain the accident. It is thought, however, that Mr. Cureton's grip slipped as he jumped from the diving tower onto the cable and that he plunged to the ground, landing at the water's edge. The cable, an amusement device for bathers, stretches from the 50-foot tower to the water. A pulley, equipped with handles, slides from the tower to the water, providing a thrill for the bather who hangs from the handles.

It is thought that Cureton, being unfamiliar with the device, leaped from the tower instead of gradually putting his weight on the cable, and that the sudden jerk tore loose his grip.

Mr. Cureton was a paint salesman employed by the Detroit Graphite company, and was assistant manager of the southern division offices with headquarters at Greenville. He was a member of the Voinsett club, of Greenville; of the Greenville Country

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

JOHN W. HINTON,
BELIEVED DEAD,
FACES PARENTS

Atlanta Boy Thought To Have Been Victim of Train Wreck Near Cartersville Tuesday.

SERVICES ARE HELD IN BOGART CEMETERY

Hinton Arrives on Scene as Funeral Party Was Return Trip. About to Board Train on

John W. (Woody) Hinton, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hinton, of 115 Pulliam street, after being mourned for dead for several days and supposed to be the central figure in a funeral held at Bogart Thursday afternoon, is alive and well with his parents here, and Collis Harris, 16, of Blakely, is believed to be sleeping in the grave prepared for young Hinton.

The case of mistaken identity of a boy whose mangled body was found Tuesday on the railroad tracks near Cartersville, was cleared just after the supposed funeral for young Hinton in Bogart Thursday, when the parents of the boy believed to be dead were suddenly confronted by their excited son. Young Hinton, it developed, had been visiting at the home of a relative 26 miles from Bogart.

Identifies Oung Victim.

Cartersville authorities, informed of this fact, Thursday night obtained from Horace Singletary, of Blakely, who was seriously injured at the time the boy believed to be Hinton was killed, a statement that the dead youth's name was Harris.

Singletary is reported to have stated that the reason he had not disclosed the identity of his companion earlier was because he (Singletary) was in love with young Harris' sister, and that he feared the news of her brother's death might end her regard for him.

The remains of the youth killed in the accident had been identified as the Hinton boy by his parents and other relatives, and had been viewed by numerous friends and relatives and a large number of schoolmates. They were so certain that the body had been viewed by an insurance adjuster and adjustment papers signed.

Garbed in Mourning.

The funeral party, garbed in mourning, was about to board an Atlanta train, when the youngster, whose whereabouts had been discovered by G. H. Warbington, the boy's cousin by marriage, came face to face with them.

A scene of wildest confusion reigned at the parents and the son were reunited. News of the story rapidly circulated, and a crowd quickly gathered. At this moment the train rushed up, and without waiting to buy tickets, the overjoyed Hinton and his friends climbed aboard.

Passengers from two coaches gathered about the group and heard and discussed the strange case for two hours as the train made the trip from Bogart to Atlanta.

William H. Hinton, of 115 Pulliam street, the boy's father, plans legal

The Weather
FAIR AND COOLER

Weather—Forecast:
Georgia—Fair and cooler Friday;
Saturday local thunderstorms.

Local Weather Report.
Highest temperature 88
Lowest temperature 71
Mean temperature 80
Normal temperature 78
Rainfall in past 24 hours, inches .00
Excess since 1st of month, inches .252
Deficiency since January 1, in. .06

Ts. m. Noon. T. p. m.
Dry bulb 74 84 84
Wet bulb 70 75 70
Relative humidity 82 65 72

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations

STATIONS	STATE	WEATHER	Temperature	Rel. Hum.	Wind
AND	WEATHER	Temperature	Rel. Hum.	Wind
ATLANTA, Ga.	cloudy	84	88	00
Birmingham, Ala.	rain	70	84	02
Boston, Mass.	cloudy	66	84	00
Buffalo, N. Y.	cloudy	60	84	00
Chicago, Ill.	cloudy	60	84	00
Cincinnati, O.	cloudy	60	84	00
Cleveland, Ohio	cloudy	60	84	00
Dayton, Ohio	cloudy	60	84	00
Des Moines, Iowa	cloudy	60	84	00
Evansville, Ind.	cloudy	60	84	00
Hartford, Conn.	cloudy	60	84	00
Indianapolis, Ind.	cloudy	60	84	00
Jacksonville, Fla.	cloudy	72	78	00
Kansas City, Mo.	cloudy	60	84	00
Knoxville, Tenn.	cloudy	60	84	00
Laurens, S. C.	cloudy	60	84	00
Little Rock, Ark.	cloudy	60	84	00
Mobile, Ala.	cloudy	60	84	00
Montgomery, Ala.	cloudy	60	84	00
New Orleans, La.	cloudy	60	84	00
New York, N. Y.	cloudy	60	84	00
North Platte, Neb.	cloudy	60	84	00
Omaha, Neb.	cloudy	60	84	00
Phoenix, Ariz.	cloudy	70	84	00
Pittsburgh, Pa.	cloudy	60	84	00
Raleigh, N. C.	cloudy	60	84	00
San Francisco, Calif.	cloudy	60	84	00
St. Louis, Mo.	cloudy	60	84	00
Salt Lake City, Utah	cloudy	60	84	00
Savannah, Ga.	cloudy	60	84	00
Tampa, Fla.	cloudy	60	84	00
Toledo, Ohio	cloudy	60	84	00
Vicksburg, Miss.	cloudy	60	84	00
Washington, D. C.	cloudy	60	84	00

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

When Kimball Corner
Was a Wild Thicket

In 1844, when the site of the Kimball House was nothing but a virgin forest, only a few stores stood within the little settlement to become Atlanta.

One store was opened by Loyd & Collins. Kile began his grocery. Dunn set up a bonnet shop and Norcross established a general store.

Volumes of water since those days have flowed under the bridge!

The village of Terminus grew into Marihasville and then Atlanta. The Kimball became a rendezvous for politics and society. And fifteen years before any other Atlanta newspaper of today was even in existence, The Atlanta Constitution began telling the South about the bargains in Atlanta merchandise. Even as in the '60's, housewives and business men of this city in 1924 are buying by The Constitution because they have found that it pays.

steps to permit him to remove the corpse from its present resting place in the Hinton family lot, and inter it in another lot in the same cemetery.

The Hinton boy, who had been missing since he ran away from home six weeks ago, was found at the home of an aunt, Mrs. N. L. Hamilton, of Smithsonia, Ga., where, he told his parents, he had been for the past week and a half. It was only by accident that his whereabouts were learned, as, according to his father's story, Mrs. Hamilton had failed to answer inquiries from him concerning the boy.

Boy Is Found.

Mr. Warbington, who resides in Atlanta, had attended the funeral, where he expected to meet his wife, who was visiting at the Hamilton home in Smithsonia. When Mrs. Warbington failed to attend the services, her husband motored to Smithsonia, after the funeral, to see her.

As he entered the Hamilton home he was greeted by the boy, and the youth and Mrs. Warbington in his automobile he sped back to Bogart, a distance of twenty-six miles, just in time to find the relatives before they buried the body.

Neither the boy nor members of the Hamilton household were aware of his supposed death until Warbington's arrival in Smithsonia, and it was for that reason that Mrs. Warbington had failed to meet her husband at Bogart.

Ran Away From Home.

The boy, with Clifford Echols, 14-year-old Atlanta youngster, ran away from home six weeks ago, and nothing had been heard from him until word of his supposed death was received.

Mrs. Hinton, the youngest's step-mother, positively identified the body at Cartersville, and the remains were brought to the home here to await interment. The boy's father entertained no doubts but that the body was that of his son, and the hundreds of relatives, students and classmates who viewed the body, young Echols was the only one who thought the body was not that of the Hinton boy.

No Suspicion at Grave.

The coffin was opened at the grave Thursday, but still no suspicion was expressed that the body was not that of young Hinton. In fact, the color of the eyes, and build, the Hinton boy and the dead youth are identical. The boy killed in the crash even wore an army shirt similar to that worn by the Hinton boy at the time of the latter's disappearance.

The Hinton boy, who was in sixth grade at the Formwalt school, disappeared from his home a few days after Christmas in 1923, and at that time also was located at the Hamilton residence. He returned to his home and, hoping to keep him contented, his father allowed him to withdraw from school and go to work. He apparently was well satisfied, and his parents had no intimation he was planning his latest trip until his actual disappearance.

Telegraphs For Ticket.

The Echols boy, who left Atlanta with him, tired of "tramp" life after about a week, and telegraphed his father for a railway ticket home, Raleigh, N. C. On his return he told Hinton's parents that his son was on his way home.

Young Hinton told his parents that after reaching a city, the name of which he did not know, and which is about 100 miles from Atlanta, he and Echols were offered a ride to Atlanta by a passing motorist. They returned to this city, and after spending several days here, unknown to their parents, left with the same motorist, who took them to South Carolina.

After spending several weeks in the Carolinas and Virginia, young Hinton returned to Athens, where he spent about two weeks visiting relatives, and then went to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Hamilton.

Despite frantic efforts of Mr. Hinton to locate the boy, and the letters of inquiry to Mrs. Hamilton, the failed to tell the youngest of the search being conducted by his parents, and for some reason did not answer the letters.

IDENTITY YOUTH AS COLLIS HARRIS.

Cartersville, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Incidents rivaling the appearance of John W. Hinton, 15-year-old Atlanta youth, after his parents had interred a body which they believed to be their son's, and who later appeared, occurred here tonight, when Horace Singletary, of near Blakely, Ga., identified a picture of the dead youth, buried at Bogart this afternoon, as Collis Harris, 15-year-old son of Josh Harris, of Blakely. Horace was seriously injured when an L. & N. train swooped down on him and Harris as they slept in the yards here.

"I did not tell who the dead boy was because I am in love with his sister Ethel, and I did not want her to think I was responsible for the death of her brother," young Singletary declared to police officials here tonight after he had been told that the dead youth was not an Atlanta boy, and was urged to "come clean."

Stopped at Atlanta.

"Collis and I left Blakely last Saturday night to go to see a brother, Fleming Harris, who works for an automobile manufacturing concern at Flint, Mich. I was going to see a cousin, Bonnie Jenkins, there also."

"We got to Atlanta Monday and caught a train headed for Cartersville, but we were run off the train about ten miles out of Atlanta, and got an automobile to bring us here. We had a time-table and intended to get the train out of here. When we lay down on the tracks we thought the train would stop to get water before passing and we would get it then. The next thing I knew someone was dragging me from under the train."

Singletary To Recover.

Doctors here tonight said that Singletary would recover. He first said that he did not know the dead boy. According to the report of the city council, James Maurer, Harrisburg, Pa., head of the State Federation of Labor, and Parley Christensen, farmer-labor candidate for president in 1920.

He said that both were dead, and that the fact that they had been unable to get a cigarette, and that in how he came to be with the boy was slain, and they fell asleep talking, he said. He told this in order to keep Harris' sister from knowing that he was with her brother when he was killed, he said.

Relatives of the dead youth tonight were in communication with officials here, and said that they would take immediate steps to have the body disinterred and moved to Blakely. They positively identified the description as Collis Harris, L. C. Hobbs, chief of police at Blakely, stated before Singletary said that he had seen Harris' youth with him that he saw Harris and Singletary leave Blakely late Saturday night.

Singletary said that he had been working on a farm owned by an uncle, Bob Singletary, before leaving Blakely with Harris.

LA FOLLETTE MEN CLAIM 25 STATES

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, July 17.—The campaign to make Senator Robert M. La Follette president will be given its big opening boost here Friday and Saturday, when its leaders from all sections of the country—constituting the national committee—gather about the table together behind closed doors to select a vice presidential candidate and map out the drive.

These high-lights were gathered at various leaders tracked in and out of the office of the Wisconsin senator.

1. There were optimistic predictions of success, Arthur E. Holder, secretary of the national committee, declaring he was convinced that La Follette would carry twenty-five states.

Bolters From Both Parties.

2. The vice presidential situation has narrowed down to three names, it was said. While these were not made public, it is known that those most strongly considered include Peter Witt, of Cleveland, member of the city council; James Maurer, Harrisburg, Pa., head of the State Federation of Labor, and Parley Christensen, farmer-labor candidate for president in 1920.

3. Senator Lynn Frazier, republican, of North Dakota, announced himself for La Follette, adding to the defection of Wednesday of Senator Wheeler, of Montana, from the democratic candidate, with probable support of La Follette.

Claims Pivot States.

4. Some of those close to the movement were predicting that the American Federation of Labor would endorse the La Follette candidacy at its annual convention at Atlantic City in August.

Explaining his prediction, Holder said he looks for surprising success in the middle west, west, and southwest, where perhaps some eastern states in the La Follette column. Discounting claims made for Coolidge in California, through Bryan, he said there was no doubt that La Follette would carry both of these states, as well as Iowa. All are much disputed battle-grounds.

Holder said he was much encouraged over prospects in New Jersey and Connecticut, from which states he was receiving thousands of letters. Much interest is being manifested also, he stated, in Georgia and Texas. He said he had great hopes for Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois.

No Fears for Solid South.

Others are equally as optimistic as Holder, while the more conservative wedded that the Wisconsin senator will carry enough states to force the election into the house. While the movement has received encouragement from the south, it is not believed that the strong democratic vote there will be seriously affected.

Chief interest in the meeting beginning here Friday is in the choice of a running-mate for La Follette. While Witt, Maurer and Christensen appear to run strongest, numerous other names are being considered, including J. H. Hopkins, chairman of the "committee of 48," Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen, and John A. McSparren, of the Pennsylvania state grange. Senator Wheeler, of Montana, is not being seriously considered, it was said Thursday.

Progressive leaders were very exuberant over the possibility that they will be able to elect La Follette, following his announcement Wednesday that he will not support the democratic candidate, John W. Davis. There was a much joy over the announcement, from Frazier, a defection from the republicans.

Selection of a vice presidential candidate will be the first business of the executive session of the Machinists' building here. The committee will then discuss financial matters, and the annual report of the branch headquarters will then be taken up. Besides the main headquarters at Chicago and here, it has been recommended that branches be established in executive session at the Machinists' building here. The committee will then discuss financial matters, and the annual report of the branch headquarters will then be taken up.

The committee will also select eight additional members, to bring the total number of 42 up to the full personnel of 50.

Huge Submarine, Twice Those Now, Launched by Navy

Portsmouth, N. H., July 17.—A submarine, twice as large as any built previously for the United States navy, was launched at the navy yard here today.

This big undersea fighter, to be known as the V-1, is the first of a fleet of nine that will be able to accompany the battle fleet at sea in any weather and at any speed of which the fleet is capable.

Exact statement as to the radius in which the V-1 can operate was not given out by the naval authorities, but indication that she could cross the Atlantic and return without replenishing fuel or supplies was given in the statement "that the V-1 can make any voyage of which the fleet as a whole is capable."

The vessel is 241 feet 6 inches over all, has a maximum breadth of 27 feet 6.8 inches, a surface speed of 21 knots, a speed of 9 knots submerged, and a surface displacement of 2,164 tons. She is so nearly self-sustaining that she will not need the services of a mother ship when in port. She will carry a whale boat and a motor launch each 24 feet long.

Fresh water, in ample supply, the heat of exhaust gases from the Diesel engines being used with a special oil-fired boiler and a number of electric heaters to evaporate water and provide steam.

The ventilation system is described as much more extensive than that fitted on any previous United States submarine, including provision for revitalizing the air by the addition of oxygen. The V-1 will carry seven officers and 80 men.

BATHER AT LAKE DIES FROM FALL

(Continued from First Page.)

club and a non-resident member of the Capital City club here. He also was an active member of the First Baptist church of Greenville. He was 32 years old, was born in Greenville and had resided there all his life.

He was interested in all forms of athletics. He formerly played baseball as a member of the Asheville team and once tried out with the Philadelphia American league club. He was a frequent visitor to Atlanta and could always be found at Georgia Tech football and baseball games.

His family was notified immediately and his widow and parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cureton, left for Atlanta Thursday night. The body is now at the undertaking establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son, but probably will be taken to Greenville today for funeral and interment.

POWERS AND BETHEL WILL BE TRIED TODAY

Trial of R. B. Powers, of Greenwood avenue, and C. W. Bethel, of a downtown hotel, under a warrant issued in municipal court, charging them with a misdemeanor in connection with an alleged attempt to dispose of stock in a mining company without first obtaining consent and approval of the securities commission, was continued until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

On the plea of Attorney John R. McClelland, representing Powers and Bethel, defendants were allowed bond in the sum of $2,000 each instead of $5,000, as originally assessed.

AGE-OLD QUESTIONS GREET BOY'S RETURN

Continued from First Page.

phases) had just completed the dismal task of laying in the tomb what you firmly believed to be the body of one so dear as a youthful son, should have that same son rush into your arms without warning—what would you say to him?

Would you be able to say anything? Would you have the presence of mind to praise a benevolent providence that had restored to life one you almost knew to be numbered with the dead? Would your mind work with sufficient swiftness and dependability to prompt you to fold him to your breast and tell him of your love, now intensified by the recent realization of your loss?

You might do one of these things, but the parents of John W. Hinton—exposed as they were to so overwhelming a surprise, and the mechanism of that thing called human nature abruptly thrown into confusion—did not.

Here's what the father of John W. Hinton said when he beheld the "corpse": "Woody (that's the boy's nickname), where in the world have you been?"

And there spoke the father of all times—today, yesterday and tomorrow. That's what fathers have been asking missing sons from the time of Moses to a thousand years hence they will be propounding the same query.

Mrs. Hinton, his step-mother, ran ture to form in point of human nature from a feminine standpoint. Her question was:

"My God, how can this be true?" The grinning central figure in the recent funeral wasn't able to enter any lengthy explanation as to how "it" could be true, but contented himself by assuring all persons present that "it" was true to a fault.

At this point the awestruck parents regained some part of their poise, and grief over the death of their boy gave way to joy at his miraculous return.

The world miraculous is used advisedly. If you had been living in the same house, had eaten at the same table and seen and talked with a person every day for fifteen years; if you had seen a dead body you were prepared to swear was the corpse of that dear one; if 300 intimate friends and relatives had viewed the body, and all had pronounced it the corpse of the person you loved—wouldn't you term it a miracle if the one you thought dead should be found alive?

Awe-Some Similarity.

"I have read of physical doubles," said the father, "but never in my life have I encountered or even heard of such a thing; but the similarity between my son and the dead boy was so amazing, I am forced to believe that anything that man can imagine in his wildest dreams is possible."

The similarity between my son and the dead boy is identical with the statement that it is possible for a father and a mother to be deceived in the person of their own son, but when I reflected that I myself have just been the victim of such a deception, I am forced to believe that anything that man can imagine in his wildest dreams is possible.

"I gazed long and earnestly on that face, and as I looked I knew that it was the face of my son—old in death. I remembered that he bore in the center of his forehead a small scar, so to make doubly sure of my identification, I searched for the scar."

"And there it was. I knew that my boy had a watch of a popular make I inquired, and found that in the holding of the dead boy was a watch of that same make. Then I knew that it was my son."

A Touch of Comedy.

It's part of human nature for comedy to creep in where deepest tragedy has just swept its sable train. Thursday night when John Hinton returned to Atlanta with his jubilant parents, Reginald Hinton, his eight-year-old cousin, who lives at 113 Pulliam street, happened along.

"Reggy" approached the group with a mournful countenance to tender his sympathy anew.

Suddenly he spied John Hinton, and his mouth flew open to a capacity it had never shown even in consumption of "hot dogs."

With a supreme effort he shook off that impulse to take to his heels, and with eyes literally popping out of their sockets he approached the object of a glowing funeral tribute only a few hours before.

Being urged, he consented to gingerly pinch the arm of his late lamented cousin.

"Johnny," he finally managed to stammer, "is it you sure 'nuff?"

And being assured that it was Johnny "sure 'nuff," he joined with willing hilarity the chorus of welcome that swelled from the scores of John Hinton's boy friends who flocked about him as the party came to The Constitution news offices to tell "all about it."

"How does it feel to be dead?" someone asked the boy.

"Gwan, feller; I ain't never been dead," returned young Hinton with true boyish candor.

Special Summer Rates, $3.00 per day in Grove Park Inn, Asheville, Finest Resort Hotel in the World.—(adv.)

ATLANTA BEAUTIES GET CHANCE TODAY

Continued from First Page.

tures will be published until the close of the tourney on August 13.

The winner of the local event, together with a chaperon of her own choosing, will be sent without expense to Atlantic City on September 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 to participate in the national beauty tournament and vie for the title of "Miss America," the nation's most beautiful bathing girl and holder of "the golden mermaid," a statue wrought in pure gold and valued at $5,000.

Pleasures of Trip.

While in Atlantic City, "Miss Atlanta" will take part in a week of gorgeous and colorful spectacles on the ultra-fashionable boardwalk, with yacht cruises, rolling chair rides, balls and entertainments of all kinds sandwiched in.

Judges in the national pageant will be foremost artists, sculptors and the artful producers of the country, and any Atlanta girl who has her arm plumed on art or the stage could take no more important step

Manager, Beauty Tournament, The Constitution:

I desire to enroll as an applicant for the title of "Miss Atlanta" in the National Beauty Tournament.

My name is Miss.....

My address is.....

I can be reached at telephone.....

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

Photographer:

toward her goal than by winning the post of "Miss Atlanta."

In the Atlanta event, The Constitution welcomes all pretty girls; a fair field is assured all, and full consideration will be shown all entrants. The tourney will be conducted on a high plane, and no pretty girl need hesitate to enter her name, or any part

CARROLL INQUEST TO BE HELD TODAY

A coroner's jury this morning will probe the death of J. L. Carroll, 44, well-known Atlanta automobile tire dealer, who died from a pistol bullet wound in the head Thursday morning, said to have been self-inflicted.

All circumstances concerning the shooting, which occurred early Thursday morning, had not been learned by the county police late Thursday night, they announced. However, the shooting is reported to have taken place in a bedroom in the home of his brother, J. T. Carroll, of Chattahoochee, with whom the man now dead had been living for several months.

Attracted by the sound of the shot, W. H. Jentzen, a brother-in-law, J. T. Carroll and Mrs. J. L. Carroll rushed into the room about the same time, it is said. Stretched across the bed they found J. L. Carroll with a gaping wound in the temple and a revolver close by.

No note was left to explain why he should shoot himself, and, according to relatives and friends, they knew of no cause for it. So far as they knew, his business affairs were in good shape.

Besides his widow and brother, with whom he lived, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Carroll, of Tucker, and two other brothers, M. C. and C. M. Carroll, both of Tucker. Funeral arrangements will be completed following the inquest Friday morning.

Rival Gypsy Bands Stage Free-for-All In Chicago City Hall

Chicago, July 17.—Riot squads, detectives, county highway police and traffic cops were summoned today to help quell a free-for-all fight between two bands of gypsies in the Chicago city hall.

"King" Bimbo, leader of one tribe, is alleged to have consented to the marriage of his young son to Rosie Marks, 15-year-old daughter of the king of a rival tribe. Bimbo, Rosie's tribesman ally, succeeded in obtaining a dowry of $2,500 from her relatives and refused to return the money when Rosie declined to have his son for a husband.

The case was given to a jury late today and the court room was cleared. The gypsies met in the corridors of the eleventh floor of the building and in a moment the entire floor was a struggling riot of chaos. Deputy sheriffs, policemen and guards escorted one band down one set of elevators and hustled the other tribe down by another route. Then policemen lined up outside the city hall to keep the tribes apart when they emerged.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE IS PHYSICALLY FIT

Washington, July 17.—President Coolidge, after nearly a year in the white house, is physically fit.

The president today accompanied his father, John Coolidge, to Walter Reed hospital to allow the latter to undergo a physical examination. While there the president himself decided to be examined and the finding of the army doctors was that he is in "good physical shape."

The father also passed the examination.

at CABLE'S

You will find the very latest Victrolas and Victor Records as featured on Page 2 of this paper

Mail Orders Filled Same Day Received.

CABLE'S

55 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.

ECZEMA

Money back without question. HUNT'S GUARANTEED SKIN DISEASE REMEDIES (Hunt's Salve and Soap) cure all the treatment of Itch, Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter, etc., without the use of medicine. Try this treatment at our risk.

Price $1.00 at Munn's Drug Store

50 N. Broad Street Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Cuticura Toilet Trio

Send for Samples To Doctors, Laboratories, Dept. 3, Munn, Mass.

MEN AND WOMEN

If you are sick of being sick, tired of taking patent medicines, do not cut the matter off at the root, but consult me at once and receive my opinion of your case.

Practice limited to Nervous, Blood, Kidney, Stomach, Bile and all chronic diseases of men and women. Hours, 9 to 6, Sundays, 10 to 1.

DR. J. L. ROBAK, Specialist

293 Marietta St., Atlanta, Ga.

British Round-World Fliers

(World Copyright by London Times.)

The three members of the British round-the-world expedition, from left to right, are: Lieutenant W. N. Plenderleith, Major A. Stuart MacLaren and Sergeant R. Andrews.

MacLaren's Flight Laid Out JAPAN-ALASKA JUMP ACCLAIMED "TOUGHEST" To Be Covered in 293 Hours

(Copyright, 1924, in U. S. and Canada, by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

Squadron Leader A. Stuart MacLaren set out from England with two companions March 25 on an around-the-world route laid out over 23,254 miles.

It was estimated that this could be covered in 292 3-4 flying hours.

Although MacLaren hoped to reach London by June 28, he was delayed several times when he reached the east coast of Asia.

In Burma he took over a substitute plane, sent in from Japan, which was originally intended to be used from Japan eastward.

Before starting he arranged to have a second reserve plane and motor await him in Canada.

MacLaren organized the expedition himself, being given official permission, although it is a private undertaking. MacLaren enlisted the help of the Asiatic Petroleum company, the Vickers interests and D. Napier & Company, which firms furnished him with machines, engines, fuel and oil.

While the American world fliers, who set out shortly before MacLaren's departure, chose the westward route, the Englishman chose the eastward, which had been mapped out by the late Sir Ross Smith.

The Route.

The British route divides itself into five sections.

1. Calshot to Karachi, 4,890 1-2 miles.

2. Karachi to Tokyo, 5,879 1-2 miles.

3. Tokyo to Vancouver, 5,417 1-2 miles.

4. Vancouver to Ottawa, 2,127 miles.

5. Ottawa to London, 4,939 1-2 miles.

The first section is the accepted route to India, and it was first flown by Squadron Leader MacLaren himself in 1918.

Americans Blazed Pacific Trail.

As far as possible each difficult place along the whole route was tabulated in advance, and every aerodrome and water landing. The earlier stages have unit bases of the royal air force, but the route from India onward is one to throw an aviator largely on his own resources, lying through Indo-China to Hongkong and Shanghai and then with a 3,000-mile jump by sea to Japan.

North of Japan the route was laid out through the territory flown over by the American world-flight party.

Leading west and south, via the Kurile islands, Kamchatka, the Aleutian chain and Alaska to Vancouver, B. C., a stretch of 5,417 1-2 miles, foggy and uninhabited.

The Canadian traveler Thielvel laid stores for MacLaren in the Kurile region.

The dangers in this region include not only rocky islets, fog and storms, but slow-moving birds, one of which could easily foul a propeller.

The Canadian air force, prepared from the beginning to welcome MacLaren at Vancouver with all possible help for the long flight across Canada. The itinerary was laid out to include a seven-day halt at Montreal and the taking on of an engine with a higher compression ratio, giving more power from the same fuel consumption.

For the Atlantic. The alterations arranged for the machine in Canada include the installation of an additional fuel tank and a wireless apparatus of limited radius.

St. John's, Newfoundland, was selected as the jumping-off place for the Atlantic flight, the route lying to the Azores, 1,550 miles away—the longest stage of all. The average daily stage contemplated in the beginning was 300 to 500 miles.

Use Amphibian Machine.

The way from the Azores home leads through Madrid, Bordeaux and Paris to London.

MacLaren, differing from most long-distance airmen, has preferred an amphibian machine; that is, a flying boat with a land under-carriage, which can be withdrawn above the keel line. This makes possible easy water landings. MacLaren arranged to discard the under-carriage altogether on the Japan-Vancouver section.

This lightening of the plane made it possible for MacLaren to invite Lieutenant Colonel L. E. Broome to accompany him on that stage of the trip. Lieutenant Broome, a mining engineer, knows those inhospitable regions well and has already done invaluable work in superintending the provision of supply dumps in the barren islands of the north Pacific from the Thielvel. Colonel Broome has made a map of the whole route from Tokyo to Vancouver and the task was so formidable that it took him four months to accomplish it.

MacLaren's route ranges in latitaining confidence in her husband's safety.

"I cannot help believing that he is as described his prospective course to me and had told me that the worst confronting him seemed to be perfect."

"I returned home a very happy girl and it was only when I listened in safe," she said, "I have an instinct that tells me he's all right."

The news that my husband was missing came to me at the end of a happy day. The American fliers on a radio program that I heard what has happened to my husband. Major MacLaren is missing. I heard the broadcaster say.

"After that happy day that came as a terrific blow—but I know he's safe."

Thousands of messages of cheer and hope are coming in to sustain the daring aviators, wife in her period of trial and anxiety.

"All day and all night long," she said, "people are telephoning and telegraphing me not to worry. Some of them, who know that country he is in, point out that there are many islands in the vicinity. His airplane is wonderfully amphibian and even if he had come down into the sea he should be able to float for a long time. Then again, there's a small boat attached to the ship to which he and his companion should be able to take if necessary."

Worried, Not Despondent.

Pointing to a little map on the wall, on which she had checked and marked her husband's progress as far as Yotofu, the airman's wife concluded:

"It is his life's ambition to be the first Briton to encircle the world through the air and I believe that ambition will be realized."

"I'm not worried, but I'm not despondent. Something tells me he's safe."

She is buoyed up by the declarations of Lieutenant Lowell Smith, leader of the American fliers, who pointed out Thursday that the fishermen in the Kuriles know that world fliers are traveling over their barren isles and will aid any airman in distress.

Plane Not Inspected.

Despite all the optimism here, however, it is learned reliably that when MacLaren left England he departed in a rush in order to avoid official inspectors who were sent from London to his Calshot base to look over his plane.

The machine never passed a final inspection, it is said, and some airmen here hint that it might not have been in the best of condition. It is also stated that MacLaren was overloaded with spare parts and that this surplus load would have tended to strain his engine as he always traveled at top speed.

Reputation for Daring.

MacLaren has the reputation here of a skilled and daring flier. In 1922 he made one attempt to circle the globe, but was forced to abandon the flight.

His present flight was begun at Calshot, England, late in March, after careful preparations. But luck seemed to hamper his every move, however, for he has thrice been held up for extensive periods because of engine trouble and accidents. When he left Tokyo he was more than two and a half months behind his schedule.

MacLaren's machine was built by Vickers, and is equipped with Napier-Lion engines. It has a 1,900-mile cruising radius.

Two machines were provided for the trip.

First Machine Wrecked.

The first was wrecked in Burma.

and MacLaren was flying the second reserve craft when he left Japan. The ship, which was supplied with both land and sea landing gear, but it is understood that the land wheels were to have been dumped for the trans-Pacific hop.

MacLaren, who is 32 years old, had a brilliant war record, winning the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Distinguished Flying Medal and the Air Force Cross. He served with distinction in Somaliland in 1921.

With MacLaren is Flying Officer W. N. Plenderleith, 25 years old, who is also a war veteran. Engineer Sergeant Andrews, aged 24, was the third member of the party which left England.

NO NEWS RECEIVED OF BRITISH FLIERS.

Tokyo, July 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—Although there has been no news received here up to this afternoon of A. Stuart MacLaren and party of British aviators flying around the world since they left Lake Toshimoye, on Yotofu Island, in the Kuriles, at an early hour yesterday morning, no anxiety is felt here as yet for their safety.

MacLaren should have completed a flight to Maramashiru Island, about 450 miles north of his starting place, by noon yesterday. However, it is believed likely that he descended at some intermediate point in the Kuriles from radio or other communication with the outside world.

Broughton Bar, Shimushu Island, where the advance party for his flight laid down fuel and supply base, is believed the most probable point of his landing.

The Japanese destroyer Isokaze has searched as far north as Shimushu Island without finding any trace of the aviators, and the destroyer Hamakaze, which was on duty at Parashashu to aid the fliers, is searching southward, thence.

The original MacLaren party included, beside the commander, Flying Officer W. N. Plenderleith and Sergeant R. H. Andrews. These three were joined here by Lieutenant Colonel L. G. Broome, who led the advance party which laid down a number of supply dumps at points in the Kuriles, the Aleutians and Alaska, so that the missing are four in number.

The latest reports on the weather in the Kuriles, where the American fliers were delayed by storm and fog, said it was cloudy but that there was no wind, which circumstance is regarded as favorable to the fliers' safety.

AMERICAN FLIERS ARRIVE AT BROUGHTON.

Broughton, England, July 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—The American army around-the-world airplanes arrived here from Croydon at 1:08 o'clock this afternoon.

The aviators found awaiting them every facility for the rapid overhauling of their machines, including all the necessary spare parts, extra wings, instruments and controls. If the survey to be made shows any of these parts are required, including new engines to be installed before they hop off from Kirkwall, they will be ready for instant installation. If the survey shows only moderate wear and tear it is anticipated the work can be completed in three days.

Croydon, England, July 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—The American army world fliers hopped off this morning for Broughton, near Hull, where their planes will rest for a week or ten days while pontoons are being fitted in preparation for their jump to the Orkney Islands.

Half a dozen English planes were in the air when the Americans took off and started with them on the 155-mile hop. The same American and British officials who yesterday welcomed the fliers to England were present today to wish their guests a good journey.

The pilots of the round-the-world planes will remain in Broughton about two days. They will return to London while the machines are being overhauled. The mechanics will stay in Broughton to supervise the renovation.

RADIATOR DELIVERY MAY DELAY U. S. FLIGHT.

London, July 17.—The American round-the-world fliers who jumped from Croydon to Broughton, near Hull, Thursday, may be held up there a trifle longer than they expected, due to the fact that small radiators, needed for their transatlantic flight, have not yet arrived.

It is expected that the job of installing pontoons on the planes will take about three days.

STATE PORT BILL COMES UP TODAY

Continued From First Page.

lution disposed of at Thursday's session of the senate was passage of a substitute resolution of Senator Hamby, of the 4th district, providing for appointment of committees from the house and the senate to consider jointly all tax reform measures introduced during this session, and to report its recommendations back to the general assembly. The original resolution of Senator Hamby was unfavorably reported by the finance committee.

The upper house, in executive session Thursday morning, approved the ten amendments submitted last week by Governor Walker, following a favorable report by a subcommittee appointed to investigate one appointment. While the session was conducted secretly, it was understood in capitol circles that the appointment which temporarily held up confirmation of the other nine was that of Sam L. Slate as state auditor. This was smoothed out and no objection was raised Thursday to Mr. Slate's confirmation.

List of Officers Confirmed.

The appointments include Paul Turner, judge of Henry county court; H. L. Long, judge of Leesburg city court; Will Stalling, judge of Soperton city court; Josephus Camp, state superintendent of printing; T. R. Bennett, state superintendent of banks; C. H. Giles, solicitor of Baldwin county court; Sam L. Slate, state auditor; Thomas E. Miller, solicitor of Lanier county court; C. W. Brinson, judge of Wrayville city court, and R. G. Jordan, judge of Macon city court.

The senate Thursday adopted six resolutions introduced by Senator Pace, of the 15th district, providing for appointment of committees of three senators to investigate six recommendations contained in the state auditor's annual report.

The Atlanta viaduct bill, which provides for amendment to the charter of Atlanta to permit construction of viaducts over the railroad tracks at Pryor street and Central avenue, was up for consideration in the senate, but on motion by Senator Smith, of the 35th district, it was set for special order next Tuesday.

Education Resolution Deferred.

A resolution to approve the federal educational bill, which would create a department of education in the president's cabinet, was introduced in the senate Thursday by Senator Spence, of the 8th district, for approval. When adoption of the resolution was called for, there was objection raised and it was ordered referred to the senate education committee. The committee was scheduled to Thursday afternoon, but a quorum was not present, and the meeting could not be held.

The committee on special judiciary, which met after adjournment of the regular session, voted to return an unfavorable report on the bill to amend the law setting forth requirements of certified public accountants. The measure last week had been referred to a subcommittee, which reported it back unfavorably.

The senate corporations committee recommended the passage of several local bills calling for amendments to charters of various cities.

JAMES J. RUSSELL BURIED THURSDAY

Funeral services for James J. Russell, who died Wednesday at his home, 37 LaFayette drive, were held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the residence with Rev. C. J. Hammel officiating. Interment was in West View, with Barclay & Brandon in charge.

Mr. Russell, who was 81 years old, was president of the firm of J. J. Russell & Son, merchandise brokers, for more than 30 years. He was born and educated in Augusta, Ga., moving to Atlanta nearly 50 years ago. He served with the Confederate forces throughout the civil war. He was active in church circles and served as steward of the First Methodist church for 25 years.

Mr. Russell is survived by four sons, James W., Edmund C., Gadsden E., and Robert S. Russell; a daughter, Mrs. William S. Riddle, of Jamestown, R. I., and five sisters, Mrs. F. S. Washburn, of Rye, N. Y.; Mrs. E. W. Cole, of Nashville; Mrs. George Hammel and Mrs. John J. Cohen, of Augusta, and Mrs. Sallie Dibrill, of New York city.

Are you in the market for real shoe bargains?

We are closing out 1,300 pairs of $7.75 to $10.00 Slippers in every wanted style and heel at.....

$5.75 Pr.

Also a big group of custom grade slippers in tan, white kid, satins, etc., at $7.75 Pr.

An entire window devoted to a display of these exceptional values.

Main Floor

Stewart

GOOD SHOES FOR EVERYBODY

FRED S. STEWART CO.

ATLANTA, GA.

Tea Room
Rear Main Floor

Whitehall & Hunter Sts.

J. M. HIGH CO.

Telephone
MAin1061

LUGGAGE
On Fourth Floor

ALWAYS A GOOD STORE--CONSTANTLY A BETTER ONE

Crystal Necklaces
Formerly $1.25 to $2.50

Repriced 79c

Cut crystal necklaces were never more fashionable than they are now. One to match every dress is the thing.

These are of imitation topaz, amber, aquamarine, emerald, jade and sapphire.

Two hundred strands, 79c.

Indestructible pearl necklaces in graduated strands 24 inches in length. Solid gold spring clasp. Guaranteed not to discolor.

Jewelry Section—Main Floor

Elastic Girdles
Wear One and Be Comfortable

Special at $1.19

You'll have good figure lines and you won't know corset discomfort these hot days if you wear one of these girdles. Made of pink brocade with four sections of elastic down the sides. 12 inches in length. All regular sizes, $1.19.

Sale of Corsets, $4.95

Pink silk brocade corsets from several of the best-known makers. Sizes for women who are stout. These were priced $8.50 and $10.

Corset Section—Third Floor

Silk Stockings
Standard Brands Regularly $1

Reduced to 79c

Choose from these makes: Burson, Conqueror and Buster Brown. And as you doubtless know, they are perfect—we sell no other kind.

Some are of pure thread silk with lisle tops; others of silk mixed with fiber.

In black and colors, 79c.

Children's Sox, 25c

Odd lots of children's plain and fancy three-quarter and regular sox. All sizes in the lot. Former prices were 35c to 50c pair.

Hosiery Section—Main Floor

Sale!

Tub Silk Dresses

Formerly $15.00 Up To $19.75

$10.95

In Sizes From 16 Up to 42

ONE HUNDRED of these dresses of heavy quality, fast colored broadcloth silk—dresses good for every hour of a summer's day from dawn until dark. Every woman should have at least two such dresses in her vacation wardrobe.

Choose from pin stripes, awning stripes, candy stripes, cluster stripes and plain colors. And there's every good color.

Plain, straight line frocks, dresses with wide circular tucks, self-material sashes, white silk collars and cuffs, pearl button trimming, and here and there is one with a bit of lace. Save $4 to more than $8 on these dresses at $10.95.

High's Dress Section—Second Floor

Normandy Voiles
5,000 Yards, Regularly 59c

Special at 33c

Lowest price we have quoted this season on genuine Normandy voile and in all probability the lowest you have seen. You are going to find these in all-over and flock dot designs in all wanted colors. Special Friday, 33c yard.

$1.79 Sheets for $1.38

Mohawk sheets with soft finish; you know their reputation for service. These sheets are 81x90 inches. They have hemmed ends.

Cotton Section—Main Floor

Boys' Bathing Suits
Well-Liked One-Piece Styles

Sale Priced, $2.95

One-piece wool Jersey bathing suits that do not get weighted down with water. Made by a tip-top bathing suit manufacturer. Some of them in plain colors; others in combinations of colors; plenty of variety. Sizes 28 to 36.

Boys' Union Suits, 59c

Buy these for summer and early fall for your lads, mothers. Athletic style union suits of white pajama checks. Sizes 2 to 12 years.

Boys' Section—Third Floor

Sale of Sweaters
Originally $8.95 to $10.95

FIGHTING SEVERE ABOUT SAO PAULO

Washington, July 17.—The Brazilian revolution is assuming serious proportions, and fighting continues on a large scale, it is indicated in messages received here all during the day from various sources.

With receipt of word that shells from federal batteries outside fell within half a block of the American consulate at Sao Paulo, the center of the revolt, on July 12, it was learned that this government will dispatch war vessels to the coast of Brazil whenever this step becomes necessary for the protection of American lives and property.

However, the immediate sending of battle ships is not expected in any official quarter here, and it was said that a request from the American consul at Santos for the dispatch of war vessels there has been approved by neither the American embassy at Rio de Janeiro nor the state department here.

Heavy Action Reported.

Latest reports indicate heavy action about Sao Paulo. Three thousand government troops arrived in Santos Wednesday and entrained for Sao Paulo, according to advices to the state department. The federal troops are bombarding the town from Ypiranga and other places, it stated.

Reports to the Brazilian embassy

Thursday, sent from Rio Wednesday, stated that federal forces had obtained possession of a great part of Sao Paulo, and added that "the good results expected from the operations of our troops along the whole front will not take long."

Reach Center of City.
Government troops have reached the municipal theater, the center of the city, the message stated.

"Numerous fugitives, abandoning the rebels have reached Ribeirao Preto and other cities of the interior," the message said. "Our troops have captured additional prisoners and our cavalry has made incursions into the most central streets of Sao Paulo."

REBELS SUCCEEDING.
MONTEVIDEO LEARNS.

Montevideo, Uruguay, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fighting between the Brazilian government forces and the insurrectionists at Sao Paulo is continuing without advantage to either side, according to authoritative advices received here early today. Recent arrivals from Santos declare that port is virtually closed and the situation extremely grave.

A prominent South American who arrived in Montevideo on the Italian steamer Duca D'Osia from Santos in an interview asserted that the rebels at Sao Paulo apparently were in control and that the federal troops besieging the metropolis have as yet been unable to dislodge them.

"I can state that the revolutionaries have been masters of the situation since the first moment," said the South American. "On the day of the outbreak State President Da Costa was obliged to seek refuge in Rio de Janeiro. The rebels now engaged in the fighting number about 20,000, not counting the large contingent of civilians who morally support the revolutionary movement.

"Instead of retreating, as the various official communiques report, the rebels are advancing daily. In Sao Paulo they gained possession of the city, fighting foot by foot. There is no doubt that they can gain possession of Santos when they wish to do so. That city is poorly defended and full of sympathizers with the revolution. The reason no decisive actions are being fought is that the government fears a big battle, as it has no faith in its soldiers. It is afraid they will go over to the enemy any time. This is the reason why it does not dare use its line troops, as it is asserted they are ready to revolt. The government only has faith in its naval forces. The federal forces that have participated in any serious action were 2,000 sailors that were taken to Santos by the battleship Minas Geraes. For this reason the government is not vigorously storming Sao Paulo, preferring to wait. Thus the rebels are having their own way in the city."

"The movement is directed against President Bernardes. The rebel manifesto, which was shown me in Rio de Janeiro, states that the rebels demand only the resignation of State President Da Costa, but also that of President Bernardes."

PREMIERS REACH CRITICAL PERIOD

Continued from First Page.

purpose for which the conference assembled, that of adopting broad, far-reaching measures for making the Dawes scheme workable.

Framework Perfected.

One important phase of the conference working that of perfecting the organization to be set up in each country for handling payments to be made by Germany under the new scheme, was completed today and a draft of the proposals embodying the agreement is ready for the approval of a plenary session of the conference, which probably will be held Saturday.

Thus a third of the work laid out for the conference has been accomplished within thirty-six hours of Premier MacDonald's formal welcome to the delegates. But the most optimistic of the envoys who have gathered in London to attempt to put an end to the reparations "angle" of the past six years do not suggest that it is the most important or the most difficult third of what is to be done before the Dawes plan is effective.

It is pointed out that making plans for receiving and distributing reparations was easy sailing, but that the real rocks, around which the allied plenipotentiaries must steer, are the proposals hidden in the two sub-divisions of the conference known as commissions one and two. The first is dealing with the problem of an international loan for Germany and the question of an American member of the reparations commission as arbiter on the subject of defaults. All this must be accomplished without diminishing the authority of the reparations commission, thereby endangering Premier Herriot's position as spokesman of the French government at the London meeting.

Penalties Give Trouble.

Another problem before this committee is what penalties to inflict if Germany willfully defaults under the Dawes schedule.

Committee two, which is attempting to devise means to restore the fiscal and economic unity of Germany, has encountered difficulties owing to the French requests for assurances that an international loan, upon which the whole working of the Dawes plan depends, shall be underwritten before the question of German unity is brought up.

It is understood that even the British treasury experts are not altogether sure about the flotation of a big loan, but foreign officials maintain that this point is one for the bankers and reparations commission, and need have no disastrous effect upon the broad lines which the present conference should seek to maintain.

On the question of sanctions in case of a German default, the French delegation would not discuss the proposals they are understood to have put forward at the committee meetings today. It is understood that France favors putting the sanctions into definite shape, so the complete program will be ready for application at any time Germany is adjudged delinquent.

Kellogg Not Present.

Ambassador Kellogg did not participate in the conference work today, but Colonel Logan, who attended the session of committee No. 1, maintains that the tone of the deliberations was satisfactory and that as much progress had been made as it is reasonable to expect considering the issues involved.

Although the exact nature of American participation in the conference has been explained repeatedly, there continues to be a widespread misunderstanding of the exact significance of the presence of the American ambassador and Colonel Logan.

When Colonel Logan announced in the committee room last evening that the Washington government did not object to an American citizen being selected to act on the reparations commission in order to establish a default on Germany's part, the statement was heralded by usually authoritative newspapers here as one of the most dramatic developments in the whole series of post-war conferences.

This emphasis upon the attitude of the Washington government toward Americans, who may be asked to assist in operating the Dawes scheme, has already been explained by American officials. At the embassy, the American spokesman commented on the misunderstanding of the American position, but the news still runs through the press as the feature of the conference. An evening newspaper headline reads:

"New U. S. move in reparations—United States to accept reparations task."

Dominions Dissatisfied.

While the conference is dealing with the reparations problem, Great Britain's little family row about how the dominions are to be represented continues. Ireland and Canada, it is understood, are still dissatisfied in regard to overseas representation in the person of the colonial secretary.

It is stated at the foreign office that the dispute will be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned before the next plenary sessions, probably by means of the panel system, whereby the dominion commissioners in London will rotate day by day at the table.

Premier MacDonald gave a luncheon today to Ambassador Kellogg, Premier Herriot and Theunis and Professor De Stefani, the Italian finance minister, at the Athenaeum club, the famous haunt of writers, statesmen and scientists and tonight the British government entertained the delegates at a dinner at Lancaster House.

Ambassador Kellogg, Colonel Logan and Frederic R. Dubreux, secretary of the American embassy, attended the members of the delegation. Owen D. Young was included as a tribute to his valuable services rendered to the allied governments as a member of the Dawes committee.

"Some," said the stage director to the young actress, "can wear certain colors, and some cannot." "Well?" "And the same applies to wearing them on your face."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Benefit of State-Owned Port Cited in Banquet to Solons

Governor Walker and Both Houses of Legislature Guests of Savannah Port Committee.

The great benefits to be derived by Georgia from establishment of a state-owned port at Savannah, set forth by Gordon Saussey, of Savannah, before an assemblage of more than 400 persons, including members of the Georgia state legislature, at a banquet tendered the general assembly at Hotel Ansley Thursday night by the Savannah state port committee.

The bill, which provides for the people of Georgia to vote upon an amendment to the state constitution, so as to provide for state-owned terminal facilities at some deep-water port, is now pending in both branches of the legislature, and is scheduled for consideration by the senate today.

Makes Ardent Appeal.
Mr. Saussey made an ardent appeal to the legislators to make it possible to develop the state of Georgia by passing the port bill, so as to allow the Georgia portion of the south Atlantic coast to progress on an equal basis with other southern and Atlantic ports, and to permit Savannah to maintain the supremacy he claimed for her in costwise and foreign shipping.

Mr. Saussey enumerated a dozen other benefits from which port facilities could be handled and shipped to European and New England states from Savannah if the people of the state will vote for construction of the port.

The speaker appealed to the lawmakers "to make it possible to establish terminal facilities by passage of the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible."

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

Mr. Saussey explained that by establishment of the port, the people of Georgia would not be taxed a penny, but the money would be raised by the measure, and the state would be repaid when the port began functioning. He cited the facilities of Savannah as the city for the measure, and the people of Savannah and myself will persuade the people of the state that such a plan is highly feasible.

the moves for investigation of the commission. He said a probe would accomplish nothing and the legislature could easily make better use of its time. Representative Bennett is opposing John T. Boileau, who is seeking reelection.

Representative Woodruff, of De Kalb, a candidate for the commission, opposing Commissioner J. D. Price, is also understood not to favor an investigation, although he has made no public statement on this point. It is believed both members feel that the voters this fall, and it is better to leave it that way.

The house started work at 9 o'clock Thursday, an hour earlier than usual, determined to make up for time spent away from Atlanta on Wednesday, when the legislators were guests of Athens.

Representative Pope, of Walker, introduced a resolution to thank the people of Athens for their splendid hospitality, which was adopted unanimously. A similar resolution was adopted in the senate.

Among a dozen new bills introduced in the house Thursday was one by Representative Wood, of Fulton, to impose a tax upon "Drive-It-Yourself" enterprises. Representative Arnold, of Lumpkin, introduced a bill to amend the act providing for the commitment of patients to the state sanitarium, changing requirements and manner of commitment and number eligible from each county.

An emergency fund to the military department of the state, of $25,000, was introduced by Copeland, of Lowndes, and Fleming, of Hancock.

BIG POWER PLANT URGED FOR CITY
Continued from First Page.

Smith, waterworks general manager, told officials that the rapid growth of the city would in a short time develop an emergency in connection with the waterworks supply. Improvements already made with the 1921 bond money, he said, established highly efficient and sufficiently large connections between the city and the source of the water supply, but have not provided for a sufficiently large source of supply.

The original project for installing a new intake, for which $900,000 of the bond money was allocated, has been held up because of advice of engineers, including Mr. Norcross, that the intake at present is not located at the right place and that a new intake should be built in conjunction with a dam and power plant to increase the intake capacity and at the same time provide the entire system with hydroelectric power. The dam suggested by Mr. Norcross would have a height of about 40 feet and would impound enough water to supply city electric lights and other hydroelectric requirements.

The members of the two committees were divided in their reactions toward the plan, Alderman Bachman being the only one to voice unqualified approval. He urged that a large strip of land on each side of the river, which would be needed if the development were attempted, should be bought by the city out of funds allocated to the new intake. The purchase would make it easier to go ahead with the project if more money from bonds or other sources were supplied, he said.

Alderman Bachman said that he believed the charter amendment requiring water receipts to be held sacred to waterworks expenses and improvements should be adopted and excess of receipts over actual cost be applied to creating a reserve out of which to build major improvements. That plan had been suggested last year by Mayor Walter Sims before the school department emergency developed, which resulted in council raising the water rate in order to make an emergency appropriation to schools.

A bond issue of $1,500,000 or more would be the only other source of sufficient money to carry out the project. The special committee is not only to decide upon a program of waterworks improvements should follow, but also to work out a plan of financing them, either by bonds or conserving revenues. These plans are to be recommended to the bond commission and then to council and, in any case, finally submitted to a vote of the people.

All his life the old Scotsman had been heckled, and as he was about to die his wife thought she ought to offer him some consolation. "Jamie," she said, "ye are about to go, but I will soon follow ye." "I suppose so, Jean," he answered, weakly; "but so far as I am concerned ye need be in no hurry about it."—Fathfinder.

The first talking movie evidently was a crying baby.—Milwaukee Journal.

Special Summer Rates, $9.00 per day, Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N.C. Finest Resort Hotel in the World.—(adv.)

A scheme, which has aroused great local interest in Iraq, which is the subject of negotiation with the government, proposes to bring under cultivation 1,000,000 acres of desert by diverting the upper waters of the Euphrates into Lake Habbaniyah. The flood waters of the Euphrates are to be poured into the lake by means of an inlet canal at Ramadi. A new waste canal will then have to be constructed to let off the possible discharge to a wide depression south of the lake. The waste canal is necessary, as the present lake waters used for the raising of crops and the lake will, therefore, have to be washed for two or three years.

He urged that a large strip of land on each side of the river, which would be needed if the development were attempted, should be bought by the city out of funds allocated to the new intake. The purchase would make it easier to go ahead with the project if more money from bonds or other sources were supplied, he said.

Alderman Bachman said that he believed the charter amendment requiring water receipts to be held sacred to waterworks expenses and improvements should be adopted and excess of receipts over actual cost be applied to creating a reserve out of which to build major improvements. That plan had been suggested last year by Mayor Walter Sims before the school department emergency developed, which resulted in council raising the water rate in order to make an emergency appropriation to schools.

A bond issue of $1,500,000 or more would be the only other source of sufficient money to carry out the project. The special committee is not only to decide upon a program of waterworks improvements should follow, but also to work out a plan of financing them, either by bonds or conserving revenues. These plans are to be recommended to the bond commission and then to council and, in any case, finally submitted to a vote of the people.

All his life the old Scotsman had been heckled, and as he was about to die his wife thought she ought to offer him some consolation. "Jamie," she said, "ye are about to go, but I will soon follow ye." "I suppose so, Jean," he answered, weakly; "but so far as I am concerned ye need be in no hurry about it."—Fathfinder.

The first talking movie evidently was a crying baby.—Milwaukee Journal.

Special Summer Rates, $9.00 per day, Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N.C. Finest Resort Hotel in the World.—(adv.)

Now—Cooler Breakfasts

Tomorrow's breakfast prepared with tonight's dinner—a QUICK QUAKER delight

Try this new recipe

HERE is the richest, most delightfully cooling of hot weather breakfasts. Made of oats, it's supremely nourishing and invigorating, too.

As you prepare dinner tonight, cook your regular breakfast quantity of QUICK QUAKER (the new Quaker Oats that cooks in three to five minutes).

When done, pour into a pudding mould and let cool. Then place in a refrigerator over night. Cut in medium thick slices and serve at breakfast with fresh or cooked fruits or berries and sugar—float with rich milk or cream.

The combination is delightful. A world noted chef discovered this new way. Just for the joy of it, try it.

Standard full size and weight packages—Medium: 1 1/4 pounds; Large: 3 pounds, 7 oz.

Quick Quaker
Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes

FREE

One Gallon of POLARINE OIL

At Opening of New Standard Oil Company Service Station

Lee & Harman Sts. ATLANTA

Saturday, July 19

To each customer purchasing five gallons of Crown Gasoline on the opening day, Saturday July 19th, at this new Standard Oil Company (Ky.) Service Station at Lee and Harman Streets will be given free of charge, a card, (same as reproduced to the left herein), with four coupons entitling the customer to receive free One Bulk Gallon of Polarine Oil up to, and including, Saturday, August 16th. The customer will have the privilege of taking this oil, one quart or more at a time, upon presentation of the Coupon Card and any unused coupon not detached therefrom, at any Standard Oil Company (Ky.) Service Station in Atlanta.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Polarine Coupon No.

COUPON No. 4

COUPON No. 3

COUPON No. 2

COUPON No. 1

CROWN GASOLINE

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

INCORPORATED IN KENTUCKY

Headache Sufferers

Try MUNYON'S Headache Remedy

Headlines Tell Of Accident Toll

Headache Sufferers

Try MUNYON'S Headache Remedy

Headlines Tell Of Accident Toll

Headache Sufferers

Try MUNYON'S Headache Remedy

Headlines Tell Of Accident Toll

Headache Sufferers

Try MUNYON'S Headache Remedy

Headlines Tell Of Accident Toll

Headache Sufferers

Try MUNYON'S Headache Remedy

Headlines Tell Of Accident Toll

Headache Sufferers

GIRL, EIGHT, DIES FROM SHOT WOUND

Constitution Bureau, Masonic Temple Annex, Phone 1069.

Rome, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Eddie Bell Elkins, 8, of Rockmart, died Thursday morning at a local hospital.

The cause of her death was from a wound she received in her right leg from the accidental discharge of a gun. She was brought to the hospital Wednesday afternoon and every effort was made to save her.

The body was taken to Rockmart this morning.

Ridley To Lead.

Rome, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—The Rev. Caleb Ridley, of Atlanta, will lead a revival meeting that will open at the McDonald Memorial church Monday, July 28. It was announced by Rev. W. T. Stone, pastor of the church.

Rev. Stone says that arrangements have been made to get the city auditorium in case his church will not hold the audiences expected to come to the meetings. Other churches have promised their cooperation and a city-wide revival is expected.

New Industries for Rome.

Rome, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—H. H. Shackleton, who visited New York and other eastern points to interview the heads of several industries, who are interested in locating businesses at Rome, reported today that prospects are encouraging for the location of several new industries here within the next 12 months. Mr. Shackleton made the report to the foreign industries committee, of which H. E. Kelley is chairman.

FAIR AND WARM WEATHER LIKELY FOR CITY TODAY

Fair and warm weather today was the forecast issued Thursday night from the local office of the United States weather bureau by C. F. von Hermann, meteorologist.

The heat Thursday reached its peak with 88 degrees during the early afternoon, a temperature which Mr. von Hermann said is unusually low for this time of year as a result of unusually heavy moisture in the atmosphere. The storm of early in the week has lost its effect and is not responsible for the salubrious quality of the weather.

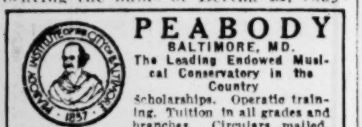

Thunderstorms might result today from an unusual change in atmospheric conditions, it was stated, but were not likely to occur. Temperature probably will remain below 90 degrees.

DEATH TAKES AUTHOR OF NICK CARTER TALES

New York, July 17.—John R. Corryell, originator of the Nick Carter detective stories, died Tuesday in Bradford, Maine, his literary associates here have been informed.

The Nick Carter stories, most of which were written by the late Frederick van Rensselaer Day, were suggested by Mr. Corryell, who wrote the first few.

Mr. Corryell also wrote later novels bearing the name of Bertha M. Day.

Enjoyable Days Charming Nights

KENILWORTH INN

Spend your summer at Kenilworth—in the cool, piney breezes, among North Carolina's grandest mountains. Days of restful recreation. Nights of calm, restorative rest. Golf, Motoring, etc.

Every element of comfort, convenience and recreation abundantly provided. Flawless service. Surpassing cuisine.

Write for illustrated literature and rates. Early reservations advised.

KENILWORTH INN
Asheville-Biltmore, N. C.

PEABODY

THE LEADING ENDOWED MUSICAL CONCERTS IN THE COUNTRY

Scholarships, Graciously training. Tuition in all grades and branches. Citizens mailed.

HOTEL MASON JACKSONVILLE FLORIDA

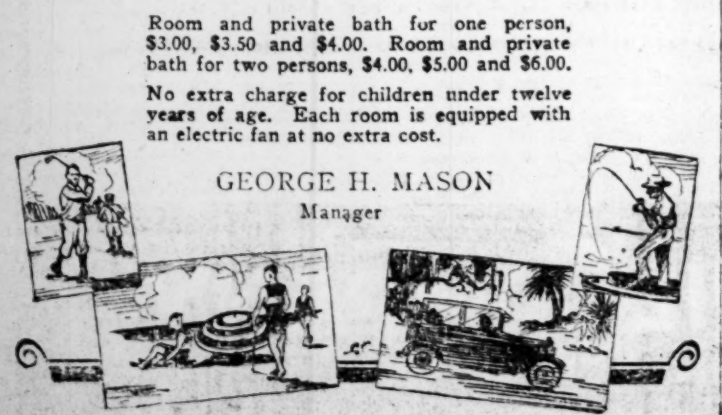

ATLANTIC AND PABLO BEACHES are the most attractive on the Atlantic Coast and offer unlimited pleasures for those who contemplate spending their summer vacation at the Seashore.

For your convenience we are offering a most attractive Summer Rate from June first to November first. Roof Garden Dining Room open all year.

Room and private bath for one person, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00. Room and private bath for two persons, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00.

No extra charge for children under twelve years of age. Each room is equipped with an electric fan at no extra cost.

GEORGE H. MASON
Manager

58 of 206 Solons On Record To Aid Biennial Session

When the biennial sessions bill, generally regarded as the most important measure facing the general assembly this year, reaches the floor of the house for final action within the next few days, it will start its journey towards a vote with 58 of the 206 members already on record as favoring its passage. These are the members who voted for the bill when it was passed by the house during the session of 1922.

The house bill at that time received a favorable report of 143, while 38 voted against it, and 26 were absent. Of the total membership of the house that year, 79 are members of this year's body. Of this number, 58 voted for the bill, 10 voted against it and 11 were not present.

The 58 members who have already officially recorded their votes for biennial sessions are:

Those Voting for Bill.

Atkinson, of Chatham; Beck, Bird, Boatwright, Boswell, Braddy, Branch, Carr, Childs, Collins, Culpepper, DeFour, Delapierre, Dykes, Fletcher, Grovesstein, Haddock, Hatcher, of Burke; Hines, of Decatur; Hines, of Sumter; Houston, Hyman, Jones, of Coweta; Knight, Logan, McClure, McGarity, Maddox, Mann, Mayo, Miles, Moore, Parrish, Penland, Perkins, of Muscogee; Perryman, Phillips, of DeKalb; Phillips, of Telfair; Pickens, Price, Riley, Russell, Ruthertford, Sapp, Shetlesworth, Singletary, Smith, of Bryan; Steele, Strickland, Tatam, Tripp, van Landingham, Way, Whitworth, Williams and Worthing.

After the measure passed the house in 1922 it did not reach the senate floor for passage until just as the session was adjourning sine die on the final night of the session. Requiring a constitutional majority of 34 votes there, it received 28 when there were only 34 senators present all told.

This time, when introduced in the senate last year, 37 senators had signed the bill as co-authors with Senator Mundy, of the 28th district. It received a vote of 44 in the upper house last year, and reaches the lower body as unfinished business this session.

Approved by House Committee.

It was overwhelmingly approved in the house committee on constitutional amendments, only two of that committee voting against it.

It is probable that it will come up in the house for final passage next week.

The senators who signed it as co-authors last year are as follows:

Mundy, 28th; Henderson, 32d; Moore, 7th; Pace, 13th; Phillips, 18th; Moran, 30th; Keith, 36th; Grantham, 46th; Barker, 3d; Green, 43d; Chastain, 41st; Little, 31st; Owens, 48th; Whitaker, 34th; Duke, 28th; Boyd, 19th; Johns, 27th; Stovall, 29th; Kennon, 6th; Hodges, 20th; Hullender, 44th; Carson, 1st; Loftin, 37th; Adams, 47th; Gillie, 16th; Miller, 2d; Smith, 23d; Douglas, 25th; Garrison, 33d; Beauchamp, 22d; Latimer, 39th; Kennedy, 49th; McLeod, 24th; McLeod, 9th; Conner, 14th; Arnow, 4th, and Gilstrap, 51st.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR TRUCK COMPANY

Buffalo, N. Y., July 17.—Federal Judge John R. Hazel today appointed Arthur S. Moore, of Rochester, receiver in an equity action brought by the Continental Motor corporation, of Richmond, Va., against the Selden Truck corporation, of Rochester. Figures introduced in court showed liabilities of $1,792,134.40 and assets of $2,018,673.91 on the books of the Selden corporation on May 31.

SOVIET PRISONERS GIVEN VACATIONS

Moscow, July 17.—All the prisoners serving in soviet jails for minor offenses will be given vacations in order to participate in gathering the harvest. This applies especially to peasants and former red army soldiers who are serving terms for offenses committed owing to their reduced circumstances of living.

DR. JACOBS WRITES FATHER'S BIOGRAPHY

Clinton, S. C., July 17.—(Special.) It is announced by authorities at Thornwell orphanage that the biography of Dr. William Plumer Jacobs, founder of the orphanage and its president until his death, has been written by Rev. Thornwell Jacobs, L. D., his youngest son, now president of Oglethorpe university, Atlanta, to whom he committed the task in his last will and testament. It contains Dr. Plumer Jacobs' life-long diary and the stories of Presbyterian college and Thornwell orphanage.

MISTAH SPEAKAH

By RALPH T. JONES.

Mistah Speakah—

Privileged resolution—

"Whereas, members of the general assembly desire all available information on all topics coming before them for decision;

"Whereas, the integrity of the entire membership of this body being such as to make it presumptuous to admit the possibility of unethical methods of approach meeting with any success—

"Whereas, it is the desire of this body to render just decisions on all matters before them and recognizing that every question has at least two sides—

"Be it resolved—That all lobbyists, of any age, sex or condition in life, are hereby invited to visit the house of representatives and the state senate whenever they can spare the time, to give the benefit of their information and opinions to these, their representatives and servants, of the people, who are trying to act as their people would have them."

In all seriousness, doesn't it seem a trifle childish and mildly evasive of the workings of conscience, for members of the general assembly of a great state to attempt to throw around themselves impenetrable defenses against alleged "lobbyists?"

For the term "lobbyist" should not, in truth, be one of reproach. It should rather be a distinction for, if nothing else, it denotes a citizen who is sufficiently interested in the lawmakers of the state to attend the sessions as closely as he, or she, can. And he knows one of the great needs of the day is a greater interest in legislative and government problems on the part of the average voter.

Surely all sincere members of any legislative body should welcome any opportunity for value, dignified and candid discussion of any question with any citizen. And if the voter is exceptionally well posted on the particular question discussed—as most "lobbyists" are—the expression of his opinions should be all the more valuable to the legislator.

And if, as has been hinted, improper approach, involving "influence" and even bribery, is tried, there isn't a member of either house who is not intrinsically too honest—who does not respect his oath of office too much—to accept such improper approach.

For the members of the Georgia legislature are gentlemen in the highest interpretation of the word and they are, as such, immune from the contamination of corrupt influences.

All this being true, why fear a "lobbyist?" Indeed, why not welcome him, as a valuable aid in an eternal search for truth in regard to every problem which comes up?

Mistah Speakah—

On adoption of the resolution, call the previous question—

All members are requested to vote on one side or the other—

More we adjourn.

REPUBLICANS FOCUS ATTENTION ON MAINE

Washington, July 17.—Republican campaign managers, recognizing the significance attached in the popular mind at least to the quadrennial September elections in Maine, are giving considerable attention to that state in laying their plans.

President Coolidge has inquired as to the situation in Maine in several of his recent political conferences, notably in the course of those held yesterday with Secretary Weeks and Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, and it is expected the Maine campaign will be one of the subjects considered at the conference here early next week between Mr. Coolidge and National Chairman Butler.

Republican leaders, in discussing the Maine situation today, were inclined to consider as over-emphasized, at least in recent years, the old adage that "As Maine goes, so goes the nation." Nevertheless, some of the party's best orators will be sent to Maine prior to the state election in September.

President Coolidge probably will not appear in Maine prior to the election, but the question of speaking engagements there for Charles G. Dawes, the vice president, has been put up to Chairman Butler and Everett Sanders, manager of the republican speakers' bureau.

COOLIDGE GETS REPORTS ON IDAHO, WEST VIRGINIA

Washington, July 17.—Views of the political situation in two states, West Virginia and Idaho, were presented today to President Coolidge and added to his accumulating store of information as to the general situation by the republican party in the forthcoming campaign.

The West Virginia situation was detailed to Mr. Coolidge by Guy D. Goff, former department of justice official, and now republican candidate to succeed Senator Elkins, of West Virginia. Mr. Goff predicted that the republican national ticket would carry the home state of John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee, by 50,000 or 60,000 votes.

Representative Smith, of Idaho, talked over the political conditions in his state with the president, also predicting that the republican candidates for president and vice president would receive Idaho's electoral vote, although conceding that Senator La Follette had a strong following and possibly would carry the state.

Mr. Coolidge tomorrow will receive an outline of the situation in Maryland, an engagement having been made by white house officials for Senator Weller, the republican senator from that state.

TALL "GORILLA" MEN ARE CALLED MYTH

Kelso, Wash., July 17.—The tale of "tall gorilla men" or, as some called them, the "ape men" who were credited with having attacked a party of trappers in the mountains here last week, is a myth, two forest rangers declared today. These rangers, J. H. Huffman and W. M. Welsh, who investigated the stories brought back by the trappers, said that the stories that had been reported to have been thrown at a cabin were hurled by human hands.

"Now that your son is through college what's he going to be?"

"Can't tell for a couple of years. You see, he went to a co-ed institution, and he's booked up for two years solid to act as usher at weddings."

Boston Transcript.

Sustained Flight Record Is Broken By French Pilots

Chartres, France, July 17.—Pilots Drouhin and Coupet, the French aviators who set out to break the sustained flight record for airplanes, landed triumphantly after remaining in the air for 37 hours, 50 minutes and 10 seconds. Their machine was a 450-horsepower Farman biplane.

Drouhin and Coupet bettered the former record held by Lieutenant Lowell Smith by almost an hour. The endurance flight succeeded in spite of a violent wind and rainstorm which buffeted the circling fliers and threatened Thursday to hurl them off their course. But for the violent banging of the wind, which made Coupet ill, the pair could have remained aloft another three hours.

"We had 100 gallons of gasoline left when we landed," Drouhin said when he stepped from his machine. "We could have continued for another three hours easily."

"Wednesday night," the flier continued, "we were on the point of landing because the rain made it impossible to see. We were blown far off our course."

MRS. RICHARD GOULD DIES AT BRUNSWICK

Brunswick, Ga., July 17.—Mrs. Richard Gould, member of a prominent south Georgia family, and among the pioneer settlers of St. Simon's island, died here suddenly last night of heart failure.

Mrs. Gould recently fell and sprained a limb. She never fully recovered from the accident. She is survived by four sons, Richard, James and Tottor Gould, of St. Simon's, and Horace, of Rhode Island; and four daughters, Misses Mary, Selicity, Julia and Alberta Gould.

Burial will take place here.

SASKATCHEWAN VOTES TO REPEAL 'DRY' LAW

Regina, Sask., July 17.—Opposition to the "bone-dry" prohibition act and approval of government sale of spirituous and malt liquor in sealed packages was shown by the voters of Saskatchewan province in yesterday's plebiscite.

Returns available from more than half the total vote of the province show a ratio of nearly 5 to 3 against continuation of the present "bone-dry" law which went into effect February 1, 1921.

Licensing of places for the sale of beer was disapproved by the voters, who gave a majority to the plan to confine distribution of "all spirituous and malt liquor" to "sale by government vendors in sealed packages."

Three district points were submitted to the voters as a guide for the provincial legislature, which is not legally bound to follow the outcome of the plebiscite, but heretofore invariably has been governed by these expressions.

First, the voters were asked if they were "in favor of prohibition in Saskatchewan," and in slightly more than one thousand polling places the vote in favor of prohibition was 40,689 and against it 61,301.

Two questions were asked on method of sale of liquor, if its sale was approved, one confining sale to government vendors, and the other, besides the government sale, permitting "also sale of beer in licensed premises."

The voters were divided on the distribution question, but available returns indicate that the government sale only is approved, as it has a decisive lead in returns already reported.

Observations of Oldest Inhabitant: The difference between the girl who wears a one-piece bathing suit and the girl who used to wear one with a skirt, and who also wears stockings, is that the latter always went into the water.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Religious Storm In Ghetto Lulled By Jenny's Funeral

New York, July 17.—Demonstrations of racial and religious antagonism which for two days have sundered the Jewish and Italian sections of the Ghetto, were subdued today, as police escorted the body of Jenny Lefkowitz, wife of Dominick Scolio, to the Church of the Most Precious Blood and thence to Calvary cemetery.

Authority was compelling the peaceful fulfillment of Jenny's dying wish. She who had forsaken the Jewish religion for love, who had embraced the faith of her Italian husband, and who, during the months of her dying had been an outcast, "already dead" to her parents and her sect, was receiving a Christian burial.

Born and reared in the Ghetto, Jennie and Dominick had been playmates since he was 11 and she 10. Two years ago they married. Jennie's parents told their friends "she's dead." And Dominick's parents told their friends "we have no son Dominick."

Last June, when she learned death awaited her, Jennie joined the church of her husband.

She died Tuesday night. The ever-aloof eyes of the Ghetto saw a priest enter the Scolio home and the news spread like prairie fire. Soon the adjacent streets were filled with jostling, frenzied thousands.

All yesterday and last night they swarmed the streets of the Ghetto. Police reserves were called and violence was averted.

Thongs lined the streets today by thousands. They gestured and muttered, but there was no violence. Though the little cortege was heavily guarded, police were taking no chances. Instead of taking the body from the bride's home to the church next door, Our Lady of Sorrows, the funeral directors were ordered at the last moment to proceed to the Church of the Most Precious Blood.

IAP COLONY PLANNED FOR GEORGIA, REPORT

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—A Japanese, said to be an attaché of the Japanese legation to the United States, accompanied by W. R. Tucker, farm extension agent of the A. R. & A. railroad, is making a tour of south Georgia and Florida with a view of finding suitable lands for his countrymen who are being ousted from the farms of California to settle.

The A. R. & A. official is reported to be anxious to settle a Japanese colony on lands near Darien, formerly operated as rice plantations and which are said to be well suited for truck farming. The party left for Brunswick to inspect the location offered there.

Bandits Hold Up Automobile Party And Attack Girls

Milwaukee, July 17.—A bandit trio early this morning kidnaped two girls—twins—after holding up and robbing their companions at the points of pistols at Eighth and Howard avenues.

At 3 o'clock this morning the two girls were found in a dazed condition on the south side and brought to central police station by a passing automobile driver.

One, it was found, had been brutally attacked by two of the men and the other was on the verge of collapse. She had not been attacked, although her clothing was torn to shreds in her fight with the three men.

The girls were riding with Erwin Nichols, 24 years old, and Herbert Brandt, 27 years old, in a sedan.

At Eighth and Howard avenues, a large touring car drove up alongside their car, the property of Brandt. The trio commanded them to stop, threatening to shoot.

Brandt halted his car and the three men then ordered the girls to enter their car. Hesitating, the three men again menaced the girls with their pistols and when the girls attempted to elude them, they fairly dragged them into the car.

While one of the men stood guard over the girls, the other two ordered Brandt and Nichols to turn toward the city and drive away. Firing three shots after them.

Brandt and Nichols notified the sheriff's office then reported the matter to the parents of the girls.

J. J. BROOKS DIES AT MACON HOSPITAL

Macon, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—J. J. Brooks, manager of the telephone exchange at Gordon, Ga., died at a local hospital today from a fractured skull. Last Tuesday he fell 25 feet to a pile of rocks.

In addition to managing the telephone exchange, Mr. Brooks was a planter and had resided in Wilkinson county all his life. He is survived by his widow, three sons, six daughters, nine brothers and a sister.

He was a Mason and a Baptist.

"DIG FOR DAVIS" CLUB FORMED AT RICHMOND

Richmond, Va., July 17.—"Dig for Davis" is the accepted slogan of the local John W. Davis-for-President club, said to be the first organization of its kind in support of the democratic presidential nominee to be organized in the south.

SEASHORE EXCURSION Saturday, July 19th

Georgia Railroad announces cheap excursion fares. Wrightsville Beach $15.00; Charleston $6.50; Beaufort, S. C. $6.50. Tickets to Wrightsville Beach good ten days. Tickets to Charleston and Beaufort good five days in addition to date of sale. Phone WAL 2726 for Pullman reservations. GEORGIA RAILROAD.—(adv.)

VALVE-IN-HEAD

Buick

Sell Buick build a Buick

In Atlanta Today

Right before your eyes Buick mechanics will build a Buick. And when the car is finished it will be driven down the platform runway under its own power.

But there is something even more interesting and significant in this performance than just the building of the car itself. This car will be built exclusively from the stock of the local Buick organization.

Nor is this all. The same truck and crew will visit every other city in the United States where there is a Buick branch or distributor and in each city will also build a Buick from units taken from their stocks.

All car owners will recognize instantly the great significance of this most unusual demonstration.

It demonstrates as nothing else can the complete standardization of Buick parts and service. For standardization alone makes this possible.

It demonstrates how complete are the stocks of parts carried by Buick branches and distributors everywhere—and the advantages of using Genuine Buick parts.

It demonstrates most dramatically that wherever a Buick owner may live or wherever he may drive, he is always assured the continuous use of his car.

Today

Wall St.—At Whitehall St. Viaduct

1 P. M.

Be sure to see this Marvelous Demonstration of Standardization!

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager

Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class matter.

Telephone Main 5000

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 15, 1922.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
By Carrier or Mail.
Daily and 1 wk. 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 yr.
Daily... 20c 50c 1.50 3.00 5.00 10.00
By Mail Only.
Daily... 15c 40c 1.20 2.40 4.00 7.50
Single Copies... 5c 10c 15c 25c 40c 75c

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, 100 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., is advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at the following places: Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner); Schulte News Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to contributors of local articles, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments are in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively authorized the use of publication of all news dispatches, credited, uncredited, or otherwise, appearing in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

Member of North American Newspaper Alliance.
The N. A. N. A. occupies the same position in the news field that the A. P. does in the news field. The Constitution is the only member in this section.

THIS IS THE CONFIDENCE THAT WE HAVE IN HIM, THAT IF WE ASK ANYTHING ACCORDING TO HIS WILL, HE HEARETH US.—1 John 5:14.

UP TO THE EDITORS.

The Georgia Press association will meet at Waycross Monday and will continue in session for three days. The editors will then join an expedition into the heart of the Okefenokee swamp and conclude the week with an excursion to Brunswick, and a sound and river trip to Fernandina.

The sessions at Waycross, including the set program of speeches and the open forum discussions, promise to be one of the most interesting and helpful meetings ever held by the association.

One of the addresses that is looked forward to with peculiar interest will be delivered by Dr. DeLoach, director of agricultural extension work for the Armour company, of Chicago.

This will deal with the boll weevil situation, and will cover in detail the successful campaign made on the big Armour cotton farm of 500 acres near Arlington, in south-west Georgia.

This demonstration farm was established in 1922, immediately following The Constitution's thorough and comprehensive survey of the weevil situation throughout the entire belt. It was instituted for the purpose of putting into practical effect, with ordinary farm labor, mostly negroes, the "rules of reason" for growing cotton successfully in spite of the boll weevil that were laid down in The Constitution's series of studies.

These rules have not only been proven entirely correct by the demonstrations on this farm, but have now become the acknowledged program in every cotton state for successfully controlling weevil infestation. Indeed, the United States government has accepted them to the letter, and has promulgated the same rules through millions of pieces of department literature broadcasted among cotton farmers everywhere.

In 1922, following The Constitution's boll weevil series, hundreds of farmers in the south rigidly applied them, and with radically reduced cotton acreage, and with intensive, quick cultivation, coupled with the proper use of calcium arsenate, made more cotton to the acre cultivated than even in the pre-weevil days.

In 1923 the new system was far more extensively adopted, and in 1924 the prospects are that Georgia alone, under the reduced acreage plan, will make a million bales of cotton. And this in connection with an even more satisfactory condition resulting from the utilization of surplus acreage in the growing of food and feed, and other-than-cotton money crops.

The Georgia newspapers have been, as a whole, unusually forceful in their campaigns for boll weevil control. Exceedingly able work was done this past spring by The Albany Herald.

There is a lack of concentration, however, behind a fixed program. Much ammunition has been wasted by shooting in the dark, or at random.

What the press of Georgia, and every other cotton state, needs to do is to formulate a standard program for farming under the new conditions, and then to put every energy behind that specific program.

In the fact that cotton acreage must be reduced, under weevil conditions, to five and not more than ten acres to the plow, the question of intelligently and profitably handling the surplus acreage is as important as that of handling the cotton acreage.

The coming meeting of the Georgia editors will have before it no more important problem than that of a definite farm program.

UNJUSTIFIED CRITICISM.

Many of the newspapers of the country are severely criticizing the Georgia legislature for rejecting the federal child labor amendment. They are incorrectly and unjustly charging that the action was in the interest of the textile and canning industries in which "children are employed."

These criticisms are uncalled for. Georgia took the tenable position that the amendment is a serious invasion of state's rights. It was the position taken by Georgia members of the house and senate who voted against the amendment.

But, aside from this, the provisions of the measure itself are extremely unwise in that it officially stamps youths of 18 as children in need of state guardianship. The age of consent for girls in all of the southern states is below 18, and many southern boys are out of college and ready to begin the battle of life at that age.

The Constitution believes firmly in the standardization of so-called child labor, and it has always advocated reasonable child labor laws, but just as it has no sympathy with those reformers who make reform hateful to practical, sensible people just so it has no sympathy with the fanatics who framed a measure so unreasonable as to make nursery charges out of young men and young women of an age sufficiently matured to know and meet and master the problems of life.

Boys of 18 and girls of 18 are entitled to work without being "regulated" by the state. They are capable of doing so, and any regulation such as is sought by the federal amendment can only serve to lower their morale at a crucial time in their lives, and humiliate them with a feeling of weakness and dependency that may destroy their hopes of future success.

By "child labor" the average man and woman of practical sense thinks of mere children of less than 15 years of age. No one ever dreamed that a congress of the United States, under pressure of a lobby of fanatical and wholly incompetent "reformers," would include young men and young women of 18.

The amendment, if ratified, cannot possibly be enforced because it operates directly against the law of nature, which has and always will take precedence when brought in conflict. "Reform" of this kind usually does more harm than good, and it is better that the 20th amendment be defeated than to let it go into the organic law of this country in the present shape.

This tendency toward bureaucracy and centralized government in Washington is getting to be a most menacing one, anyway.

The sovereign states are entirely capable of handling matters of strict internal concern, affecting the morals, the health, the intellectual, the cultural and the economic interests of her people. Tinkering with the constitution, and federalizing, under its supreme authority, every matter involving a state's local rights and privileges, must be curbed, or democracy will be more of a dream than a reality in the United States.

Certainly, child labor should be regulated, standardized, and legally estopped or controlled. But a normal 18-year-old girl and an 18-year-old boy are neither children in the sense of physical or intellectual incapacity.

Georgia should improve and strengthen her present child labor statutes, but the assembly acted correctly in rejecting the 20th amendment. Its ratification is doubtful.

A report says that considerable additional real estate has been found by the tax investigators. Perhaps this really had been off visiting around somewhere.

The man who wants a Georgia farm should buy it now while lands are cheap and terms are easy. Next year the opportunities of the present may be passed.

"Bill to prevent auto stealing" reads a headline over a legislative news story. If Bill can do it, bully for him.

Several home-returning convention visitors attest that Georgia "moonshine" is far and away ahead of New York "hooch."

Among the thoughtless ones, camping outdoors often means the "burning of the woods."

It is announced that games made in this country and shipped abroad amount to $3,000,000 a year. If we could manage to sell our surplus supply of baseball enthusiasm we ought to bring in an additional sum of something like nine hundred billions of dollars.

And the weary convention delegates will soon be hobbling home to the rest-up.

Just think of automobile parties being dubbed "fin-can tourists."

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Russian Humor.

Russian novelists, even those belonging to the ultra-modern school, have pictured us a people whose psychology is one of deepest melancholy, who look upon life as a futile battle, stern and mystical, contemplative rather than active. In contrast with that picture, probably in itself the outcome of suffering and misery, experienced by the authors, for nearly all of them had a taste of the hell of Siberia, the new Russian comic strips and humorous periodicals come like a refreshing antidote. Naturally a good deal of the cartoons are of a political nature. Istvet'ski's latest edition to arrive in this country shows a grinning red soldier on whose fixed bayonet the statesmen of Europe are sickening "recognitions." Yet they do not spare themselves from taking a thrust at the sluggishness and slowness of the average Russian one comrade remarks to the other in a comic weekly: "The ice in the river here has not melted yet." To which the other replies: "It's true even our ice is terribly behind the times." Broad-sides are leveled at the British labor party and Premier MacDonald, who is seen kissing the hands of the king of England. Often the humor is a sort of safety valve. As in the case of a noose around the neck of a man, it is thrown an important light on the character of the people in that obscure and dark land, half European, half Asiatic, of which the world actually knows so little.

... ..

Religious Peace And Political War.

"In the interest of religious peace France must treat its citizens of different denominations with equal good will, but that does not mean that the republic as a temporal power should treat with the pope as a sovereign, for he represents a spiritual force only, whose discipline we do not wish to touch," says M. Herriot in the French chamber in explaining his stand on the rumors that the French ambassador to the Vatican is to be asked to make that declaration itself you will create division amongst the people," shouts General Saint Juste. "You general, murderer, shut up!" comes from Simond Reynaud, orthodox radical. At this moment Garceur comes down the aisle shouting: "Long live the soviets." Two socialist deputies, Parys and Clausat, throw themselves upon him and pummel him right and left. Then Martel, leader of the communist bloc, strips for action. That is enough. M. Painleve, president of the chamber, puts on his hat, signaling that the session has been adjourned. The usual noise follows, curses, epithets, loud exclamations, and the session is over. It is so on for twenty minutes. Then Reynaud announces that he will withdraw the word "murderer." Whereupon he is seized by the arm and the premier finishes his discourse on religious peace. The Figaro describing this scene winds up with the words: "A truly majestic scene." Yes, in a tavern.

Sons of The Moon.

For the first time in missionary work the Lutheran church of America proposes to use the airplane. Dr. E. A. Late, formerly of the British aviation service, is to be the pioneer missionary aviator. He sails shortly on the Aquitania and will make his headquarters in Liberia. From there he will visit several uncharted islands in the heart of the black continent. To the natives the sight of an airplane will be like a miracle and ought to be a great help in the reputation at once as something at least akin to the supernatural. Jules Verne's versatile mind once pictured two white men, one in a hot air balloon in the heart of Africa, natives stood around the basket awestricken and in a spirit of worship. The balloon was taken for a heavenly body and the aviators were called the sons of the Moon. But there was another story to tell when the real moon rose up in all his silvery majesty above the rim of the forest, and remember well, the white men had to do some "tall" explaining.

A Thousand Years Too Old.

Tombs of Chinese princes, said to be 4,000 years older than the tomb of the Pharaoh Tutankamen, have been discovered by a Russian archaeologist, M. Koslov, in Mongolia. Under ground he found a temple filled with relics and antiques of rare value, richly engraved. The walls were wrapped in silk and the walls of the grottoes that radiate in all directions are hung with the costliest silks and tapestries. Eminent Chinese hieroglyphics, M. Koslov says that the hieroglyphics, which have been translated by him, establish the age of the mummies at 7,000 years. Tut, Mr. Koslov, 7,000 years is a long time. Couldn't you read those tablets again, perhaps they are moon years or something of the sort? He has excellent authority in Nebraska, who will tell you it's all a mistake, for, according to him, the world is only 4,000 years old. But then M. Koslov is sent out by the Russian government. Those bolsheviks are simply unamenable to reasonable argument.

Singing to Freedom.

Ernest Toller, young German poet, has sung his way to freedom. He was thrown into prison for lauding the new republican government in the news of Bavaria's opposition to the news of this. He also steadfastly opposed bloodshed during those days of turmoil and excitement. While in prison he wrote a play, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which became the most successful production in German theaters during the past two years. The junkers detested it and made the more certain that he was a dangerous enemy of the state. He served his full term of participating in the revolution. The play and a subsequent one called "Hinkemann," depicted Germany with an ugly reality. Not the country of genial beer garden parties, but of starving children, cruel, blood-thirsty reactionaries and ridiculous monarchists, with spiked helmets, that were the picture drawn by Toller. No wonder the "blood and iron" eaters wanted him kept out of the way.

Bohemia's Saviors.

The famous Czech-Slovak Legionnaires have had their first reunion. It will be recalled that this courageous

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Russian Humor.

Russian novelists, even those belonging to the ultra-modern school, have pictured us a people whose psychology is one of deepest melancholy, who look upon life as a futile battle, stern and mystical, contemplative rather than active. In contrast with that picture, probably in itself the outcome of suffering and misery, experienced by the authors, for nearly all of them had a taste of the hell of Siberia, the new Russian comic strips and humorous periodicals come like a refreshing antidote. Naturally a good deal of the cartoons are of a political nature. Istvet'ski's latest edition to arrive in this country shows a grinning red soldier on whose fixed bayonet the statesmen of Europe are sickening "recognitions." Yet they do not spare themselves from taking a thrust at the sluggishness and slowness of the average Russian one comrade remarks to the other in a comic weekly: "The ice in the river here has not melted yet." To which the other replies: "It's true even our ice is terribly behind the times." Broad-sides are leveled at the British labor party and Premier MacDonald, who is seen kissing the hands of the king of England. Often the humor is a sort of safety valve. As in the case of a noose around the neck of a man, it is thrown an important light on the character of the people in that obscure and dark land, half European, half Asiatic, of which the world actually knows so little.

... ..

Religious Peace And Political War.

"In the interest of religious peace France must treat its citizens of different denominations with equal good will, but that does not mean that the republic as a temporal power should treat with the pope as a sovereign, for he represents a spiritual force only, whose discipline we do not wish to touch," says M. Herriot in the French chamber in explaining his stand on the rumors that the French ambassador to the Vatican is to be asked to make that declaration itself you will create division amongst the people," shouts General Saint Juste. "You general, murderer, shut up!" comes from Simond Reynaud, orthodox radical. At this moment Garceur comes down the aisle shouting: "Long live the soviets." Two socialist deputies, Parys and Clausat, throw themselves upon him and pummel him right and left. Then Martel, leader of the communist bloc, strips for action. That is enough. M. Painleve, president of the chamber, puts on his hat, signaling that the session has been adjourned. The usual noise follows, curses, epithets, loud exclamations, and the session is over. It is so on for twenty minutes. Then Reynaud announces that he will withdraw the word "murderer." Whereupon he is seized by the arm and the premier finishes his discourse on religious peace. The Figaro describing this scene winds up with the words: "A truly majestic scene." Yes, in a tavern.

Sons of The Moon.

For the first time in missionary work the Lutheran church of America proposes to use the airplane. Dr. E. A. Late, formerly of the British aviation service, is to be the pioneer missionary aviator. He sails shortly on the Aquitania and will make his headquarters in Liberia. From there he will visit several uncharted islands in the heart of the black continent. To the natives the sight of an airplane will be like a miracle and ought to be a great help in the reputation at once as something at least akin to the supernatural. Jules Verne's versatile mind once pictured two white men, one in a hot air balloon in the heart of Africa, natives stood around the basket awestricken and in a spirit of worship. The balloon was taken for a heavenly body and the aviators were called the sons of the Moon. But there was another story to tell when the real moon rose up in all his silvery majesty above the rim of the forest, and remember well, the white men had to do some "tall" explaining.

A Thousand Years Too Old.

Tombs of Chinese princes, said to be 4,000 years older than the tomb of the Pharaoh Tutankamen, have been discovered by a Russian archaeologist, M. Koslov, in Mongolia. Under ground he found a temple filled with relics and antiques of rare value, richly engraved. The walls were wrapped in silk and the walls of the grottoes that radiate in all directions are hung with the costliest silks and tapestries. Eminent Chinese hieroglyphics, M. Koslov says that the hieroglyphics, which have been translated by him, establish the age of the mummies at 7,000 years. Tut, Mr. Koslov, 7,000 years is a long time. Couldn't you read those tablets again, perhaps they are moon years or something of the sort? He has excellent authority in Nebraska, who will tell you it's all a mistake, for, according to him, the world is only 4,000 years old. But then M. Koslov is sent out by the Russian government. Those bolsheviks are simply unamenable to reasonable argument.

Singing to Freedom.

Ernest Toller, young German poet, has sung his way to freedom. He was thrown into prison for lauding the new republican government in the news of Bavaria's opposition to the news of this. He also steadfastly opposed bloodshed during those days of turmoil and excitement. While in prison he wrote a play, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which became the most successful production in German theaters during the past two years. The junkers detested it and made the more certain that he was a dangerous enemy of the state. He served his full term of participating in the revolution. The play and a subsequent one called "Hinkemann," depicted Germany with an ugly reality. Not the country of genial beer garden parties, but of starving children, cruel, blood-thirsty reactionaries and ridiculous monarchists, with spiked helmets, that were the picture drawn by Toller. No wonder the "blood and iron" eaters wanted him kept out of the way.

Bohemia's Saviors.

The famous Czech-Slovak Legionnaires have had their first reunion. It will be recalled that this courageous

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Russian Humor.

Russian novelists, even those belonging to the ultra-modern school, have pictured us a people whose psychology is one of deepest melancholy, who look upon life as a futile battle, stern and mystical, contemplative rather than active. In contrast with that picture, probably in itself the outcome of suffering and misery, experienced by the authors, for nearly all of them had a taste of the hell of Siberia, the new Russian comic strips and humorous periodicals come like a refreshing antidote. Naturally a good deal of the cartoons are of a political nature. Istvet'ski's latest edition to arrive in this country shows a grinning red soldier on whose fixed bayonet the statesmen of Europe are sickening "recognitions." Yet they do not spare themselves from taking a thrust at the sluggishness and slowness of the average Russian one comrade remarks to the other in a comic weekly: "The ice in the river here has not melted yet." To which the other replies: "It's true even our ice is terribly behind the times." Broad-sides are leveled at the British labor party and Premier MacDonald, who is seen kissing the hands of the king of England. Often the humor is a sort of safety valve. As in the case of a noose around the neck of a man, it is thrown an important light on the character of the people in that obscure and dark land, half European, half Asiatic, of which the world actually knows so little.

... ..

Religious Peace And Political War.

"In the interest of religious peace France must treat its citizens of different denominations with equal good will, but that does not mean that the republic as a temporal power should treat with the pope as a sovereign, for he represents a spiritual force only, whose discipline we do not wish to touch," says M. Herriot in the French chamber in explaining his stand on the rumors that the French ambassador to the Vatican is to be asked to make that declaration itself you will create division amongst the people," shouts General Saint Juste. "You general, murderer, shut up!" comes from Simond Reynaud, orthodox radical. At this moment Garceur comes down the aisle shouting: "Long live the soviets." Two socialist deputies, Parys and Clausat, throw themselves upon him and pummel him right and left. Then Martel, leader of the communist bloc, strips for action. That is enough. M. Painleve, president of the chamber, puts on his hat, signaling that the session has been adjourned. The usual noise follows, curses, epithets, loud exclamations, and the session is over. It is so on for twenty minutes. Then Reynaud announces that he will withdraw the word "murderer." Whereupon he is seized by the arm and the premier finishes his discourse on religious peace. The Figaro describing this scene winds up with the words: "A truly majestic scene." Yes, in a tavern.

Sons of The Moon.

For the first time in missionary work the Lutheran church of America proposes to use the airplane. Dr. E. A. Late, formerly of the British aviation service, is to be the pioneer missionary aviator. He sails shortly on the Aquitania and will make his headquarters in Liberia. From there he will visit several uncharted islands in the heart of the black continent. To the natives the sight of an airplane will be like a miracle and ought to be a great help in the reputation at once as something at least akin to the supernatural. Jules Verne's versatile mind once pictured two white men, one in a hot air balloon in the heart of Africa, natives stood around the basket awestricken and in a spirit of worship. The balloon was taken for a heavenly body and the aviators were called the sons of the Moon. But there was another story to tell when the real moon rose up in all his silvery majesty above the rim of the forest, and remember well, the white men had to do some "tall" explaining.

A Thousand Years Too Old.

Tombs of Chinese princes, said to be 4,000 years older than the tomb of the Pharaoh Tutankamen, have been discovered by a Russian archaeologist, M. Koslov, in Mongolia. Under ground he found a temple filled with relics and antiques of rare value, richly engraved. The walls were wrapped in silk and the walls of the grottoes that radiate in all directions are hung with the costliest silks and tapestries. Eminent Chinese hieroglyphics, M. Koslov says that the hieroglyphics, which have been translated by him, establish the age of the mummies at 7,000 years. Tut, Mr. Koslov, 7,000 years is a long time. Couldn't you read those tablets again, perhaps they are moon years or something of the sort? He has excellent authority in Nebraska, who will tell you it's all a mistake, for, according to him, the world is only 4,000 years old. But then M. Koslov is sent out by the Russian government. Those bolsheviks are simply unamenable to reasonable argument.

Singing to Freedom.

Ernest Toller, young German poet, has sung his way to freedom. He was thrown into prison for lauding the new republican government in the news of Bavaria's opposition to the news of this. He also steadfastly opposed bloodshed during those days of turmoil and excitement. While in prison he wrote a play, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which became the most successful production in German theaters during the past two years. The junkers detested it and made the more certain that he was a dangerous enemy of the state. He served his full term of participating in the revolution. The play and a subsequent one called "Hinkemann," depicted Germany with an ugly reality. Not the country of genial beer garden parties, but of starving children, cruel, blood-thirsty reactionaries and ridiculous monarchists, with spiked helmets, that were the picture drawn by Toller. No wonder the "blood and iron" eaters wanted him kept out of the way.

Bohemia's Saviors.

The famous Czech-Slovak Legionnaires have had their first reunion. It will be recalled that this courageous

Better Than All the Patent Medicines in the World

EXCUSE ME, THAT SOUNDS LIKE THE OLD DINNER BELL

There are at least 50 shops in midtown devoted to the merchandising of bird cages. It used to be a bird cage was for a bird but lately they are the grand motif of the interior decorator. Where they used to put a what-not they now put a bird cage.

He came from one of those towns where the leading citizen fell dead in the postoffice and wasn't found for three days. He has been in New York three years. Today he wears a monocle and scarves and shirts to match his clothes. He has set up a restaurant on the other day and complained bitterly to the head waiter because the petite marmite was too well seasoned. It sometimes takes these boys suddenly to get away from a place to show Manhattan deft touches in city slicking.

The very same lads may be found at tea time casually mentioning they are dining tonight on Morgan's yacht—and at the same time stifling a yawn. It goes over in New York, but let them try to pull it around the boys on the cracker barrel in front of the village store back home!

I recall going back home from school one Christmas holiday in pet trousers, sawed off coat and suspenders, and I remember one of the boys saying: "So Della Fox waved at you, did she? Now I'll tell you. My ego burst with a bang. Before going home I had that feeling of 'Bring on the world, and I'll show it.' But before I left I felt the common clod I was."

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

THE CARE OF TEETH.

Eighty of every 100 pupils in the schools of Anna, Ill., were found to have cavities in their teeth, anywhere from 1 to 17 cavities. One in four of the pupils had cavities in their teeth. One in every six of the pupils had cavities in their teeth. More than one-half of the pupils had cavities in their teeth. More than one-fourth of them had perfectly clean teeth.

That is a fair average condition of the teeth of children and youths, I should say.

Now let us see how come.

School Life, published by the bureau of education at Washington, tells the data I am quoting. Of all the pupils whose teeth were examined, 47.9 per cent used a toothbrush irregularly, 44.6 per cent used the brush daily, and 7.5 per cent used no brush.

Does it pay to use a toothbrush? I am carefully refraining from committing myself on that. I neither affirm nor deny it. I merely inquire, What do you think?

The survey does not inform us whether the 7.5 per cent of pupils who do not use a toothbrush had the best teeth of the lot, but I should like to have an opportunity to make a good wager with some one who believes in brushing the teeth, on a question like that.

Until we get away from our present custom of restricting children to ultra-sterile and denatured food the more or less regular use of the toothbrush will probably remain an essential of mouth hygiene. I therefore believe that the use of the toothbrush to make use of the toothbrush daily as part of the toilet, from the earliest possible time after the cutting of the first teeth to the time of the eruption of such of the third molars (wisdom teeth) as the individual is to have.

About half of us go through life shy of the toothbrush. We are afraid to make use of the toothbrush daily as part of the toilet, from the earliest possible time after the cutting of the first teeth to the time of the eruption of such of the third molars (wisdom teeth) as the individual is to have.

Once in a month or two, even yet, I find myself feeling and go and brush my teeth to ease my conscience. But I tell the honest truth I know very well that I am merely easing my conscience, not doing my teeth any good.

The recent trend of all scientific research is strongly in the direction of making the teeth the most important part of the human body. The teeth are the most important part of the human body. The teeth are the most important part of the human body.

Questions and Answers.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

Alcoholism.

PLAN COMPROMISE IN HISTORY FIGHT

An effort to get the board to adopt one of the six American history texts approved by the teachers' committee and declared acceptable to the U. S. C. and Sons of Veterans, will be made at the special meeting of the board of education today, called to break the deadlock which developed Tuesday between advocates of the Gordy history and the Mace-Petrie history. At that time the board divided, five to five, through seven ballots.

Both the text books which received votes Tuesday had been attacked by groups of citizens representing patriotic organizations. The histories which have not been attacked are Evans', Thompson's, Andrews', Hall-Smith's, Garner-Brown's and Haddock's. The four which have been attacked as "unfair to the south" are Gordy's, Mace-Petrie's, Stephenson's and Burnham-Boyd's.

100 INVITATIONS SENT FOR MEETING ON NEW YORK SHOW

A state-wide meeting, to be held in Atlanta Monday morning, July 22, at 10 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce building, to discuss the extent of Georgia's participation in the southern exposition to be held in New York in 1925, has been announced by B. S. Barker, executive secretary of the southern committee.

Mr. Barker, who is deeply interested in the exposition and anxious that Georgia participate, declared that invitations to more than 100 members of commerce and industry in various towns and cities in the state had already been mailed to attend the meeting. He said that he was expecting at least two representatives from each town in the state.

Governor Clifford Walker, who is making a special effort to stimulate interest in the state highway, has one hundred personal invitations to mayors to attend the meeting. The exposition, to be held in New York on January 19-31, inclusive, 1925, will show southern products exclusively. Every southern state has already agreed to enter.

KING IS APPOINTED BILTMORE AUDITOR

A. T. King, formerly with the Commodore Hotel in New York city, has been appointed auditor of the Atlanta Biltmore and has assumed his duties, according to announcement by the management.

Mr. King succeeds R. L. Stockwell, who had been in charge of the auditing and accounting department since the opening, and who has returned to New York city.

Mr. King has been connected with the John McElrath organization for the past 18 months.

Stop Suffering From Asthma and Hay Fever

If Asthmador does not instantly relieve the very worst attacks of Bronchial Asthma, difficult breathing, and the Asthmatic symptoms accompanying Hay Fever your money will be returned, is the terms upon which all druggists are selling Asthmador and Asthmador Cigarettes. No matter how inveterate or obstinate your case, or how often or violent the attacks, Asthmador will instantly relieve you, usually in ten seconds, but always within fifteen minutes. Druggists throughout the U. S. have been authorized to sell Asthmador on a guarantee to return the money in every single case where it does not give instantaneous relief, or is not found the very best remedy ever used. You will be the sole judge yourself, and under this positive guarantee your own druggist can be depended upon refunding your money if not benefited. Also sent on same guarantee, per parcel post, C. O. D. or on receipt of price, 50c. If not kept by your Druggist, by addressing H. Schiffman & Co., 1734 N. Main, Los Angeles.—(adv.)

Automobiles For Hire
Rates $3 Per Hour
Cadillac Auto Service
Phone WAL. 0028

666 is a Prescription for Colds, Grippe, Dengue Fever, Constipation, Bilious Headaches and Malarial Fever.

This is number four of a series of recipes which have proven the most popular in Atlanta.

FROZEN SALAD AND CHICKEN PATTIES

A Luncheon within itself

(Recipe furnished by Mrs. Stahl, Davidson-Paton-Stokes Green Tree Inn Room)

FROZEN SALAD
One can cherries, one can shredded pineapple, one can peaches, one cup sugar, one and a half cups mayonnaise, one cup whipped cream, juice of one lemon. Drain juice from fruits, chop, mix with other ingredients and freeze.

CHICKEN PATTIES
Make a rich cream dressing, thinning out with chicken broth. To this add the white meat of one chicken and half a cup of celery diced. Season to suit. Serve on a lettuce leaf.

Use Sterling Silver in your home. Our stock is complete. Come in and see!
For Thirty-Seven Years
Gold and Silversmiths

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.
TOMORROW: Maple Parfait.—(Recipe furnished by Mrs. Fenlon, Chamberlin-Johnson-DuRose TEA ROOM.)

Georgia Solons Tour Carolinas To Inspect Roads

Thirty members of the general assembly, accompanied by half a dozen prominent Georgians interested in building of good roads, left Atlanta Thursday for an auto tour of North and South Carolina, on which they will study the road systems of those states and endeavor to gain information which will be of value to Georgia in its campaign for a hard-surfaced system of highways linking all county seats.

Representative Mann, of Glynn county, sponsor of a measure for a $30,000,000 bond issue for roads, led the party, which started from the Ansley hotel at 1 o'clock. The legislators are scheduled to reach Atlanta on the return trip by noon Friday.

The itinerary will carry the party through the western section of South Carolina and through the Land of the Sky region of North Carolina. They will be met at various points by representatives of construction and maintenance forces of the highway departments of the two states, who will escort the visitors on their journey and explain the outstanding features of the system.

The complete itinerary follows: Thursday—Leave Ansley hotel 1 p. m., Georgia Terrace, 129 m., to Lawrenceville 2 p. m., Windsor 3 p. m., (stop 10 minutes) Athens 4 p. m., (15 minutes) Rockledge 5 p. m., (10 minutes) Royston 6 p. m., (10 minutes) Hartwell 7 o'clock Friday—Arrive Anderson about 10 o'clock, and go to the Spaulding hotel at 11 o'clock, and to Charlotte at 7:30 p. m. Saturday—Leave Charlotte 8 a. m., to Forest City at 11 a. m., lunch at 12 at Black Mountain at 4 p. m., to Asheville at 5:30 p. m., spending the night at Asheville. Sunday and Monday—Asheville to Chimney Rock, 10 a. m., to Hot Springs, 4 p. m., to Greenville for the night. Leave Asheville 6:30 Monday a. m., via Socoma, Cornelia and Gainesville to Atlanta noon Monday.

Members of Party.
Among those who made the tour were the following: Senators Gillis, Grantham, Harrison, Keith, Mason, Moore, Mundy, Phillips and Spence.

Representatives Adams, of Towns; Burt, of Marion; Camp, of Coweta; Calloway, of Copeland; Davis, of Elbert; E. Warren, of Elbert; Fleming, of Hancock; Hatcher, of Muscogee; Holton, of Howard; Jones, of Cook; Jones, of Floyd; Mayo, of Mann; Mansell, of Rutherford; and Turner, of Wilkes.

Others in the party included W. R. Neal, state highway engineer; H. S. Culpepper, maintenance engineer; Frank T. Reynolds and Knox Thomas, of the Georgia Automobile association. W. Tom Winn, of the Georgia Automobile association.

CARAVANS PLAN UNIQUE FEATURES FOR FIRST MEETING

The first of a series of special entertainment programs to be inaugurated by Caravan Club No. 1 will be presented Thursday night, July 31, at Macabees temple, 217 1-2 Peachtree street, according to announcements Thursday. Joe Elliott, native Atlantan, who has played in the nation's biggest cities under Keith and Loew direction, is in charge of the arrangements and will play a stellar role here.

Caravan is the latest order within Macabees circles and is the playground for Macabees who desire other than the strictly business and secret order charm of the organization. It is likened to separate degrees offered in other secret orders and has lately been made a permanent feature, according to State Commander R. E. Leatherman.

At regular intervals special ceremonies, musical features and "stunt" affairs will feature meetings of Caravan members. The first of these will be directed by Joe Elliott, comedian, blackface artist, song and dance specialist and general humorist. He has been heard in Atlanta on previous occasions since he left Keith's "big time" circuit and Loew's management. He will be aided in the presentation here of six acts of vaudeville by a group of professional artists, he states.

The meeting on July 31 will mark the official inauguration in Atlanta of the newest feature of Macabees, an order within the Macabees order proper, officials point out, which will be devoted to wholesome fun, regular entertainment and unique features, interspersed with only the absolutely necessary business matters.

"KEY FOR MAYOR" SUPPORTERS HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

An attempt to rally Atlanta business men to the support of a "Key-for-Mayor" movement was revealed Thursday when a number of business men received circular letters of invitation from a committee of five to attend a "Key-for-Mayor" meeting at the Wincoff hotel at 8 o'clock tonight.

Signers of the invitation were Claude L. Barwell, former police commissioner; Harry G. Poole, Frank M. Brotherton, Ben R. Padgett and Robert V. Haslett.

Mr. Key stated that he would not attend the meeting and that his attitude toward the race was that he was personally not inclined to make the sacrifice it would entail but he would enter if the people insisted.

No new bills were introduced in the senate Thursday, but the following resolutions were introduced: By Pace of the 13th—Providing for appointment of various committees to consider and report on certain recommendations of the state auditor.

By Pace of the 13th—To amend section 7, act 1, of the constitution of Georgia relative to debts incurred by committees and municipalities.

By Pace of the 13th—Approving recent revision of the constitution of Georgia providing the assistance of the librarian for study in the public schools.

NEW SENATE BILLS
No new bills were introduced in the senate Thursday, but the following resolutions were introduced:

By Pace of the 13th—Approving recent revision of the constitution of Georgia providing the assistance of the librarian for study in the public schools.

Three Negro Boys Nabbed by Police On Theft Charge

Trapped in the boiler room in the basement of the Formwalt street school, which it is believed they had entered to rob, three young negro boys were jailed Thursday afternoon by Call Officers M. D. Cartwright and J. E. McDaniel under a charge of burglary.

The boys, who gave their names as Robert Thomas, James Brown and "Bud" Richards, are all under 16 years of age. They said this was their first attempt at burglary, although they manifested clever skill in an attempt to elude the police, who made a record run to the school building when summoned by those living nearby.

When arrested a sack was found nearby containing a collection of alarm clocks which had been collected from various rooms in the school; also a pair of shoes and other articles. Hearing the noise of the police coming in the window through which they had entered the boiler room, the boys had hastily retreated to the basement, entering the boiler room and hiding behind a piece of machinery. The tin fell back in place, giving the impression that it fit solidly against the wall.

About to give up their search for the youths and believing the negroes had escaped before they arrived, the officers were ready to leave the basement, when Officer Cartwright caught sight of the boys and gave a push. He saw two black little feet about a foot from his hand.

Pulling the little negro out, he found the other boys lying on the stomachs with their faces buried in their hands. The trio grinned when the police told them how near they came being successful in their attempt to hide.

NEW MILLINERY FIRM TO OPEN STORE TODAY

One of the largest and most elaborate millinery displays in the south will be made today when the Nance Millinery company opens its new establishment at 24-26-28 Broad street, directly across from Rick's department store.

Millinery will be handled exclusively, it was announced by L. C. Nance, proprietor, who stated that the establishment would be open and ready for business this morning. The very latest and highest examples of French millinery will be on display, and an attractive "French" room has been arranged for convenience of patrons.

A general line of trimmed hats, sport hats, including styles for children, will be placed before the trade, Mr. Nance announced.

A vaudeville show will be operated to accommodate the trade and to fill special orders as well as to keep the stock up to standard.

Closing the date on which badges were to be secured a week in advance did not prove a popular plan, so Police Captain Charles A. Bowen made announcement that badges may be secured from Recorder Argard at 130 Peachtree street up to 4 o'clock this afternoon. Badges will be $2 each, and everyone attending the barbecue must be provided with a badge. Nobles will be required to show their 1924 Shrine cards.

Dancing on the beautiful terrace of the East Lake club will begin at 6:30, splendid music having been secured for this portion of the entertainment.

NEW TRIAL DENIED WALTER CANDLER IN BYFIELD SUIT

Walter T. Candler, Thursday, was denied a new trial in his suit to cancel his note for $20,500 given Clyde K. Byfield in Paris in July, 1921, following charges by Byfield that Candler had attacked Mrs. Byfield in her stateroom on board ship en route to Europe. Judge J. D. Humphries' decision will be appealed to the court of appeals of Georgia, counsel announced.

Candler lost the case when tried in Fulton superior court, Judge Humphries presiding, two months ago. His action was brought to obtain a verdict canceling the note on the ground it was given under threats and duress exerted by Byfield. The jury found for Byfield the full amount of the note with interest from date.

Attorneys John M. Slaton, Ben Conyers and Walter T. Colquitt represented Byfield. Attorneys Reuben R. Arnold, Lowry Arnold and James A. Branch represented Candler.

NEW HOUSE BILLS

The following bills were introduced in the house Thursday:

By Copeland of Lowndes and Fleming of Hancock—To appropriate $25,000 as emergency fund to military department.

By Camp of Campbell—To amend charter of town of Palmetto.

By Jordan of Wheeler—To provide time for holding superior court in Wheeler county.

By DeFoor of Clayton—To amend code, section 25, fixing compensation in attorney general's office relative to stenographer.

By Fulton Delegation—To repeal all laws relative to Manchester by amending relative to College Park.

By Reville and Rowe of Richmond—To amend charter of city of Augusta so as to provide a member on all boards and examinations from the seventh ward.

By Reville and Rowe of Richmond—To provide representation of seventh ward in Augusta on board of education.

By Wood of Fulton, Stewart of Atkinson and Others—To amend general tax so as to levy an occupation tax on "Drivelt-Youngell" enterprises.

By Arnold of Lumpkin—To amend act relative to commitments to the state sanitarium; to fix how patients may be committed and to re-enumerate commitments.

By Eve of Chatham—To permit Georgia mutual fire insurance companies to issue and sell surplus or guarantee fund certificates.

By Dykes of Dooly—To amend act relative to paving in town of Vienna.

By Vaughn of Rockdale—To relieve surety on a local bond.

SOUTHERN ROAD WILL BUILD 'TEAM TRACKS'

Despite inability to reach an amicable agreement with Boulevard Park residents, the Southern railway intends in the near future to start building "team tracks" along its right-of-way near the corner of North Boulevard and Park avenue, it was stated on good authority at city hall Thursday.

The railway company had submitted a petition to the planning commission and the ordinance committee of council asking that its right-of-way be rezoned from residence into industrial use and delegations of park residents appeared at meetings of both bodies to protest. The petition was denied.

The railway was given authority by the public service commission of Georgia to proceed with the work, regardless of the objections of property owners, and again submitted its petition to the municipal authorities in an effort to reach a friendly agreement with the protesting residents.

When another large delegation appeared at the ordinance committee meeting Thursday and declared through its spokesmen that the residents of the section were still opposed to the placing of the tracks, the petition was withdrawn by the railway, represented by W. G. Couch, chief clerk to the vice president.

Mr. Couch declined to reveal his company's plans but it was stated by others at the meeting that the railway would proceed shortly with the improvement without asking permission of the residents or of council again.

250 Musicians To Give Program On 'Memory Day'

Inspiring patriotic music, glorifying Atlanta's growth and phoenix-like progress since the great battle of Atlanta, will be an outstanding feature of the "Memory day" celebration at Five Points at noon July 22, when the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, assisted by other patriotic organizations will take occasion to commemorate the battle of sixty years ago which laid Atlanta in ashes and resulted in the herculean efforts of her pioneer citizens to build a new and greater Gate City.

For the first time in the history of its organization, the Atlanta Federation of Musicians, composed of 250 artists, will assemble in mass in a 15-minute program of inspirational music. Enrico Leide and Willard Patterson, of the Metropolitan Theater, are responsible for arranging this feature of the celebration for Mrs. R. M. Boykin, chairman of the day. Fred Wedemeyer, president of the Atlanta Federation of Musicians, and a director of wide fame, will lead the musicians. Mr. Wedemeyer, a northerner by birth, has proffered his services to the committee in charge as an expression of gratitude to the city of his adoption, and he is training the large number of musicians who will participate in the affair.

The musicians will assemble at the Grand theater a few minutes previous to the hour of the ceremonies and will then parade to Five Points, rendering brilliant musical numbers as they march. All traffic will be stopped during the short period, at which time Atlantans will pause and pay tribute to those heroes of the fray, both dead and living, whose contributions to Atlanta's history marked the way for the building of this great city.

Short patriotic addresses will be delivered by Governor Walker, Mayor Walter Sims and Major General David Shanks. The flag will then be raised, with brief exercises conducted by the American legion and United States army.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Frank H. West, commander of John B. Gordon camp, United Sons of Veterans; Colonel Thomas W. Jarrett and Captain Horace B. Smith, of the United States army, and Evan P. Howell and W. A. Simmon, of the American legion.

Final organization plans for the Atlanta Retail Druggists' association were completed at a meeting held Thursday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce building. Improvements in service of retail druggists to the buying public, and establishment of better business and personal understanding among druggists, were discussed at length.

Officers of the association are: President, I. A. Dent, of the South Pryor pharmacy; vice president, R. L. Brewer, of the Stewart Avenue pharmacy; executive secretary, C. V. Hohenstein.

ARREST FOURTH COTTON OFFICIAL ON FRAUD CHARGE

Robert MacCauley, who was arrested Wednesday at Walhalla, Ala., is the fourth official of the Anderson Cotton company, of Greenville, S. C., to be taken into custody for alleged misuse of the mails in the half-trillion dollar warehouse receipt forgery, it was reported Thursday to Chief Postal Inspector Joe P. Johnson. MacCauley was released under a $5,000 bond.

He is charged by postal authorities with conspiracy and fraudulent scheme in the use of mails. The others reported arrested were B. W. Harrison, K. D. Gilmore and A. B. Rivers.

CHARTER IS GRANTED PUBLISHING COMPANY

A 20-year charter of incorporation was granted the "First National Publishing Company" on petition of Henry W. Davis, Benjamin F. Johnson and Arthur B. Caldwell, Thursday by Judge J. D. Humphries in Fulton superior court. General publishing of papers, magazines and books and a general printing business is to be engaged in, according to the petition.

FOREST FIRE CRISIS APPEARS TO BE OVER

San Francisco, July 17.—With favorable reports coming from all zones, the forest fire crisis on the Pacific coast appears to be over.

High winds that had fanned the flames, making seething furnaces of once stately green forests, were reported to be dying. Cooler weather, with rains in some sections, came to the aid of the more than 10,000 warred fire fighters, most of whom had been battling incessantly against the red plague for more than ten days.

Most of these blackened, grimy fighters are enjoying their first real rest in weeks. Only skeleton crews, left to guard the smoldering areas, were being kept on duty by the forest officials.

In Idaho and eastern Washington, British Columbia and California, fires were reported as out or completely under control.

In Montana, fires which were raging in the Nez Perce and Kootenai forests were still engaging the efforts of more than 800 men, but it was believed they would be under control soon.

No accurate estimates of the forest fire losses can yet be made, but Paul G. Redington, U. S. district forester with headquarters in San Francisco, has placed the California timber loss alone at a figure well over $1,000,000.

Up to July 14, Redington declared in a statement issued Thursday, there have been 839 fires in this state, 631 in national forests and 188 in state preserves. Carelessness, his statement showed, has been responsible for 657 of these blazes, while the remainder were caused by lightning.

Sparta Adjourns Court.

Sparta, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—The July term of city court of Sparta adjourned Tuesday afternoon after a two-day session. All of the cases for the jury were disposed of Monday and the balance of the docket was cleared. Judge Lewis rushed many of the matters to adjustment so that the farmers on the jury could get back to their crops.

The Forsyth Street Bridge Is Closed—But Not Our Store

SINCE 1879, when the first small Cooledge store opened its doors, this company has always lent a willing hand in every movement for the good of Atlanta.

The closing of the Forsyth street underpass has had our support from the start. While the work on the viaduct is in progress we ask our many friends and customers not to forget that we are ready and anxious to serve them here, as well as at our four neighborhood stores.

F. J. COOLEDGE & SONS
Paint and Glass Manufacturers

12 N. Forsyth Street
807 Peachtree, near Tenth 224 Lee, near Gordon
432 Marietta 167 N. Moreland, near Euclid
Five stores—one near you.

Prompt Motor Truck Delivery From Every Store

JULY Clearance

HERE'S an old-time Clearance at old-time prices. When you can buy high quality clothing at less than regular prices, it's like getting gold dollars at a discount. These suits were great values at regular prices---they're wonderful values at these marked reductions. A tip: buy NOW!

TWO-PIECE SUITS	$7.75	$11.75	$18.75	$23.75
THREE-PIECE SUITS	$23.75	$33.75	$43.75

Shirts---	Neckwear---	Underwear---	Pajamas---	Straw Hats---
You'll want a half dozen of these clearance prices; all are included, fancies and whites.	Patterns that are up to the minute and priced so low to interest everyone, including all four-in-hands and bats.	Offered in every variety, including Vassar and Manhattan make.	Buy a half dozen at the prices we're offering them to you and then forget your pajama needs for a long, long time.	Including our entire stock of this season's finest straws at remarkable savings.
REDUCED TO	REDUCED TO	REDUCED TO	REDUCED TO	REDUCED TO
$1.25 $1.65	65c $1.15	95c $1.15	$1.65 $2.35	$1.95 $2.95
$2.35 $3.35	$2.15 $2.65	$1.65 $2.15	$3.35	$3.95

EISEMAN'S

56-58 Peachtree "Thru to Broad"

CRACKERS WIN OPENER FROM NEW ORLEANS, 5 TO 2

Yale Crew Sends America Into Olympic Regatta Lead

BY JOHN O'BRIEN.

Paris, July 17.—The same cedar silver that darted over American waters a few weeks ago, leading the swiftest boats in the American college fleet, went skimming along the River Seine Thursday afternoon, an easy winner of the Olympic 8-oared race, the classic event of the Olympic regatta. It was Yale's boat. And the winning of the started contest by the men with the blue-tipped sweeps brought the United States enough points to beat out Switzerland for the rowing championship of the meet and send the Stars and Stripes leaping again to the masthead.

There were seven races in various kinds of craft on the championship program, all of them 2,000 meters in length. Kelly and Costello in the double sculls won the only other victory for the U. S. A. and it was distinctly up to Yale to win the full crew race. When Yale's brawny young barge-hands yanked their boat across the line with smiles on their faces and their rudders at least three lengths ahead of the Canadian bow, the American point score in the regatta climbed to 23 points, which was just one point ahead of Switzerland's score.

England Is Third.

The American crew was made up as follows: Lindley, Spock, Kingsbury, Miller, Rockefeller, Wilson, Sheffield, Carpenter and Stoddard, Coxswain.

England was third with 27 points and France fourth with 21. Then came Holland and Italy with 12 each, Canada with 10 and Austria and Brazil with three each.

As W. Garrett Gilmore, of Philadelphia, had failed in his race with Jack Beresford, the diamond sculls champion, in the single sculls, a further race that was quite unexpected, the Americans along the shore were not confident but just hopeful of taking the championship as the pick of the world's eight-oared shells went to their buoys for the start.

Yale swung off in an easy stroke for a slow start and rowed just off the pace about half the distance. Then the American tourists who had dug in with their toes along the banks or twined themselves about overhanging fire escapes to watch the contest went frantic as they saw the blue sweeps beat the water as a faster rate and the prow of the Yale boat shoot easily and swiftly into the lead. The Yale men were making merry as they left their oars drag after the last tug at the tranquil waters of the suicide stream and the victory seemed to have taken less than their utmost. If they had been pressed perhaps they could have done better than their time of 6:23.25. Canada's time was 6:40. The Italian boat was third.

U. S. in Five Events.

The United States rowed in five races. Kelly and Costello were nine seconds ahead of the French crew, which was second in the double sculls. The American pair's time was 7:45. Switzerland was third.

The American boat was third and last in the two-oared race with coxswain. Switzerland won the race and France second. Time, 7:18.25.

Although Gilmore, the American entrant in the sculling race, had beaten Beresford in his trial, the Englishman won by 4.5 of a second in the final. Time, 7:49.15.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

GEORGE CONGDON

DOPE.

After a dreary, dismal silence for a day after one of its most cheerful outbursts, the brain (if any) of this here column has a few remarks to make concerning future happenings and the Crackers. We may say that Miss Wills' victory over the American women's championship last fall that doubt was allayed Thursday when they met on the Olympic courts.

Miss Wills won with ease and ease, 6-3, 6-3. On the courts at Forest Hills they met as American rivals for the American title and may have been some who believed that Miss Wills' victory over the American women's championship last fall that doubt was allayed Thursday when they met on the Olympic courts.

This time Mrs. Mallory was unable to extend Miss Wills' except in rare instances. The California girl on the other hand had her older rival leaping wildly from one side of the court to the other. There was a moment of unsteadiness for Miss Wills in the second set when she permitted Mrs. Mallory to take the lead.

In Little Rocking amuck of the games in Mobile, which we so cheerily wired up in the Crackers' court at least two of them—cured us forever and aye of the cure to prognosticate the outcome of a Cracker ball game.

Kind words. Day before yesterday we sat wrapped in a cloak of indigo thoughts and our able and efficient co-worker read what was passing through our cranium in regard to three knock-downs in Mobile. He offered solace in the form of a pretty little speech—long for the efficient Mr. Allen, who wrote for a typewriter just like ours—that was, in substance, that strong men had predicted a two out of three break on the Crackers' Mobile series.

We received this noble attempt at sympathy with little more than a word of acknowledgment. It was the running amuck of the conditions that hurt as much as the sting of three straight losses to the Bears after an even break in Memphis a few days before.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

Miss Wills' Superiority Proven in Mallory Match

Paris, July 17.—If there was any doubt about Miss Helen Wills' superiority over Mrs. Molla Mallory after their meeting for the American women's championship last fall that doubt was allayed Thursday when they met on the Olympic courts.

Miss Wills won with ease and ease, 6-3, 6-3. On the courts at Forest Hills they met as American rivals for the American title and may have been some who believed that Miss Wills' victory over the American women's championship last fall that doubt was allayed Thursday when they met on the Olympic courts.

This time Mrs. Mallory was unable to extend Miss Wills' except in rare instances. The California girl on the other hand had her older rival leaping wildly from one side of the court to the other. There was a moment of unsteadiness for Miss Wills in the second set when she permitted Mrs. Mallory to take the lead.

In Little Rocking amuck of the games in Mobile, which we so cheerily wired up in the Crackers' court at least two of them—cured us forever and aye of the cure to prognosticate the outcome of a Cracker ball game.

Kind words. Day before yesterday we sat wrapped in a cloak of indigo thoughts and our able and efficient co-worker read what was passing through our cranium in regard to three knock-downs in Mobile. He offered solace in the form of a pretty little speech—long for the efficient Mr. Allen, who wrote for a typewriter just like ours—that was, in substance, that strong men had predicted a two out of three break on the Crackers' Mobile series.

We received this noble attempt at sympathy with little more than a word of acknowledgment. It was the running amuck of the conditions that hurt as much as the sting of three straight losses to the Bears after an even break in Memphis a few days before.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

England took the four-oared final in which the United States was not represented. Canada was second and Switzerland third. Time, 7:08.55.

Holland won the pair-oared race without coxswain, with a lead of three-quarters of a length over France, in 19.25 seconds. The British crew forfeited the race.

she was much impressed for there had been an opinion that Miss McKane could not do her best on clay footing. Miss McKane and Miss Wills may meet again in the final. In their last meeting at Wimbledon, Miss McKane won the so-called world title. Richards weakened during the second and third sets with LaCoste but returned to the courts with a great burst of vigor after the rest period and swept the Frenchman off his feet by sheer speed and power.

R. N. Williams and Mrs. Wightman won a mixed doubles match from Scandinavia and Mlle. Zelandi, of Greece, 6-2, 6-1. Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman won a default match in the women's doubles from Mlle. Petery and Mlle. Krensky, of Hungary.

Richards and Mrs. Jessup beat Nielsen and Mrs. Mallory, of Norway, in another bout of the mixed doubles, 6-3, 6-2.

Weismuller Sets Record. American swimmers took great liberties with the old Olympic records. The Borg brothers, Arne and Alie, Sweden's star swimmers, swam far behind Weismuller's time in qualifying for the final at 400 meters.

Misses Kinn, Fletcher and Becker, of the American diving team, qualified ahead of Miss Johnson, of Sweden, and Miss Burnett, of Austria, for the final of the springboard competition.

White, of the United States, won the final of the men's springboard diving competition with Des Jardins and Pinkston, of the American team, second and third.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Mello, the American welterweight, lost to Christensen, of Norway, in the first round.

France won the Olympic water polo championship by defeating Belgium in the final match 3 to 0. Belgium was runner-up and Sweden was third.

U. S. Scrampers Win. In the abscure of the Velodrome d'Hiver, the scrampers of many nations applied goals all through the merry afternoon. The Americans fared well. Boylstein, of the United States, defeating Shorter, of Great Britain, on points in the star light-weight bout. Rothwell, another American lightweight, won from Graham, of Canada, on points. Hagerty, of the United States, won from Mankowski, of Poland, the bout being stopped in the second round.

Statistics

STANDING OF CLUBS.
SOUTHERN LEAGUE.
Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Memphis	48	33	.593
Atlanta	47	34	.580
Nashville	47	34	.580
Birmingham	46	35	.569
Chattanooga	45	36	.556
Little Rock	28	63	.308

Clubs—	WON.	LOST.
New York	48	36
Washington	48	37
Detroit	47	38
Chicago	42	41
St. Louis	40	43
Cleveland	39	44
Boston	38	46

THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE TWO-PANTS STORE IN ATLANTA

Forget the Profits

Trivers wires—

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

Form 1206A

Receiver's No. _____

Check _____

Time Filed _____

CLASS OF SERVICE DESIRED

Telegram
Day Letter
Night Letter

Patrons should mark on X upon the time of service desired. OTHERWISE THE MESSAGE WILL BE TRANSMITTED AS A FULL-RATE TELEGRAM.

Send the following message, subject to the terms on back hereof, which are hereby agreed to

NALL12 77 5 EXTRA NL

New York, N. Y., 9

Louis Adiger, Trivers Clothes, Atlanta, Ga.: Forget the profits and get the volume. July is the dullest clothing month of the year. We are no magicians, but we will make it the busiest of the whole twelve months by giving the men and young men of Atlanta such values that they will be compelled to purchase not one but two and three suits at a time. Start the fireworks off Friday and fire away until ammunition gives out.

NATHAN TRIVERS, Pres.
TRIVERS CLOTHES STORES CORP.

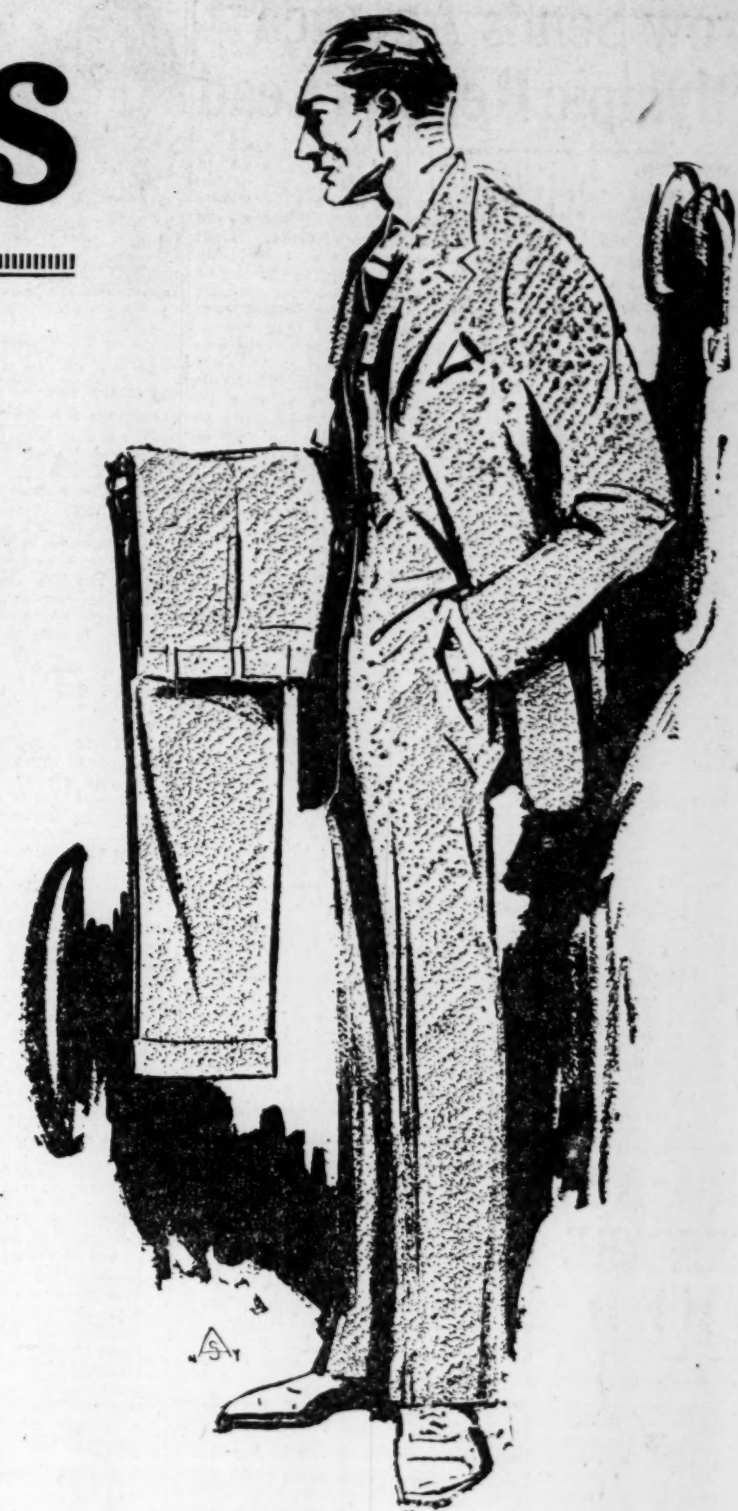

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT
GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE PRESIDENT

OPEN SATURDAY
TILL 10 P. M.

WASHABLE
2-Pants Suits

Genuine Lorraine Seersuckers,
Prado Cloths and Spanish Linens, well-fitting and well-tailored; every suit with two pairs of pants.

$10.50

MOHAIR
2-Pants Suits

Materials of the best quality will not crack or split, all hand-tailored, silk yoke and silk piped edges, conservative as well as form fitting young men's models.

$15.30

PALM BEACH
2-Pants Suits

Genuine Palm Beach cloth needs no introduction, every man that has ever worn one knows that they give entire satisfaction. Newest materials and patterns made in all models, including the belt back, form fitting and conservative, stouts, slims and stubs.

$14.40

GABARDINE
2-Pants Suits

If you want a cool Summer suit in an all-wool material and yet want something that will hold its shape get one of these Gabardine two-pants suits. All silk yoke and silk piped edges, beautiful stripe effects and the popular solid tan, all sizes in stock.

$22.50

2-PANTS MEDIUM WEIGHT SUITS

BUY YOUR FALL SUITS NOW AND SAVE

Many men wear a medium weight suit the year round and for that reason we keep a complete stock on hand at all times. For the man that wants a suit of this nature and at the same time is not overburdened with cash, we are showing a wonderful selection of all-wool worsteds and cashmeres and at a price that an ordinary light weight two-piece suit would cost him.

$22.50

This is De Luxe merchandise—every suit is hand-tailored of the best grade wools—all half lined and suitable for all-year wear. Here will be found the New English two-button coats for the young man, also the wide straight line trousers, the form fitting garment and the conservative models in stouts, slims and stubs; materials are newest shades, including the powder blue and gray pencil stripes.

$31.50

White and Gray Flannel Pants

Of fine French flannel, an unusual bargain at our regular price of $8.50;
for this sale.

ALTERATIONS FREE

$6.50

BOYS' SUITS

Mothers, here is your chance to buy a suit for the boy and have him ready for school this Fall. They are grouped into three lots.

$7.65

$9.45

$10.50

ALL BOYS' SUITS COME WITH EXTRA KNICKERS

TROPICAL WORSTED
2-Pants Suits

Beautiful all-wool tropical worsteds hand-tailored and made up in the very newest materials and shades; solid blue basket weaves, pencil stripes and also the light shades; every suit with two pair pants.

ALTERATIONS FREE

$22.50

Watch
Our Windows

Trivers
35 Peachtree St.
At Five Points

Clothes
Atlanta, Ga.

Watch
Our Windows

16 Stores in the South

The Largest Exclusive 2-Pants Suits Chain Store Organization In America

News of Society and Woman's Work

THE CONSTITUTION'S DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINE

Features Which Will Interest
Every Woman

Roof Garden Dinner-Dance Is Event at Capital City Club

The dinner-dance Thursday evening at the Capital City club roof garden was a delightful social event and assembled many guests, including prominent Atlantans, lovely members of the younger set and charming visitors.

The attractive tables were adorned with small baskets of summer flowers in the pastel shades.

A group of young people together were Misses Mary Louise Brumby, Mary Inman Pearce, Mary McCarthy, Mary Armstrong, Charles McFadden, Jr., John Jacobs, Joe Legg and Randolph Armstrong.

A congenial group together were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shelton and Major Archie Colley.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Speir entertained Mrs. Enrico Leide, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Goodyear and E. B. Malone.

Misses together were Mr. and Mrs. Casper Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Chambers, Mrs. William McKenzie, of Montezuma, and Winfrey Ramsey.

Misses James R. Gray had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gray, Jr., John S. Cohen, John Brice, Jackson Dick, Mrs. Galloway and Mrs. E. D. A. Pearce.

Miss Ruth Yarbrough, James Landauer, of New York, and A. J. Poole, Jr., were together.

John Hardisty entertained a large party.

War Mothers' Legion To Hold National Meeting in Atlanta

The national convention of the War Mothers' Service Legion will be held in Atlanta in June, 1925, at the invitation of the Atlanta chapter, of which Mrs. Sam D. Jones is the president for life.

Official acceptance of the invitation from the Atlanta chapter, presented at the 1924 meeting in Salt Lake City from June 22 to 28, was received by Mrs. Jones on Thursday and was sent by Mrs. Henry Fenimore Baker, of Baltimore, national president.

The Atlanta chapter looks forward to a probable attendance of 600 delegates, as the steady increase of membership and interest has led to very rapid expansion in the past year and is expected to continue in the coming year.

The Atlanta chapter was organized in 1917 by Mrs. Jones and numbers more than 200 members.

The national body was the outgrowth of a meeting called in Evansville, Ind. Representatives from 22 states responded to that call and formed a national organization known as the War Mothers of America. One year later they invited all similar organizations to meet with them in their second convention at Baltimore, Md. Those present on that occasion formed on large patriotic organization, and adopted a new name, "Service Star Legion." This name was suggested by the sentiment held for the service flag.

The general organizations thus united were: American Mothers of National Defenders, Daughters of Liberty, Daughters of the Nation, Mothers' Club of Virginia, Mothers of Democracy, Sammie's Mothers' Club, Sunset Division of Service League, War Mothers of America, White Star War Hospitality Service, Women of American Patriots, and Woman's Patriotic League of America.

The seven national meetings have been held at Evansville, Ind., 1918; Baltimore, Md., 1919; Des Moines, Iowa, 1920; Cleveland, Ohio, 1921; Chicago, Ill., 1922; Pittsburgh, Pa., 1923; Salt Lake City, Utah, 1924.

The National Service Star Legion is a member of the National Council of Women, of the Woman's Joint Congressional Committee, and was represented in the tentative formation of the National Post War Council, now under consideration.

Miss West is complimented.

Miss Sarah Dean West was the honor guest at a beautiful luncheon given by her aunt, Mrs. L. D. Watson, Thursday at her home in Ansley Park.

A silver basket of yellow gladioli and dahlias was used as a centerpiece on the table, the color scheme of yellow being carried out in detail.

Mrs. Watson was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. S. A. Campbell, and her sister, Mrs. Charles W. West.

The guests included Misses Sarah Dean West, Dorothy Coleman, Annie Lee Coleman, Emily Malone, Laura Hoke, Cornelia Orme, Augusta Porter, Hortense Sewell, Betty Bonn, of Palo Alto, Cal.; Adair McCarty, Nan Ingalls, Eugene Naff, Lida Merriweather, of Utah, Ala.; Ruth Brooke, Grace Jackson, Mary Belle Barrett, Martha Barrett, Dorothy Selman and Elizabeth Estes.

W. C. T. U. Announces
Basket Picnic.

The Mary Latimer McLendon W. C. T. U. will hold a picnic at Grant park, Monday, July 21, to celebrate the birthday of Miss Anna Gordon, national and world W. C. T. U. president.

Lunch will be served at the concrete pavilion at 1 o'clock. All white ribbons are requested to attend and bring basket lunches. Following the lunch an interesting program will be given.

West End Club
Gives Musicals.

The West End Woman's club entertained at the club room on Lee street last Friday.

Miss Ellen Brooks, chairman of art; Mrs. Fred Johnson, chairman of home economics, and Miss Willis Mae Brooks, chairman of public health, sponsored the party.

It was attended by a large crowd of club members, friends and visiting artists from different sections of the city.

The first artist on the program was Miss Mary Haynes, who was given an ovation.

Little Misses Sara and Jane Turner gave interpretive dances. These little artists are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Turner. Miss Margaret Allen, a young reader, rendered "Miranda on Automobiles."

Mrs. Morgan Stephens, of the Morgan Stephens Conservatory of Music, accompanied by her talented daughter, Miss Aileen Stephens, rendered beautiful violin solos.

Miss Estelle Bradley, a pupil of Mrs. Stephens, also rendered violin solos, accompanied by Miss Aileen Stephens. The audience gave these artists much applause.

Mrs. A. R. Burr, chairman of music, presented three of her pupils, Mrs. Latham and Messrs. Brooks and Tucker, who sang two trios. They were accompanied on the piano by Miss Grace Lackey, of the Mayer studio.

Other artists introduced by Miss Ellen Brooks were Robert Middleton and Messrs. Enrico Caruso Goldberger and Herbert Leroy Kinser. Miss Frankie Dill Sasser played several selections of popular music.

After the musical program a joke contest was enjoyed. H. H. Turner, J. S. Nunnally, Chester Johnson, Mrs. H. H. Turner and Miss Eleanor Marston, acting as judges, awarded the prize to Mrs. E. W. Brogdon. The judge's prize was won by Miss Marston.

Mrs. Brogdon, president of the W. E. W. clubs, expressed her appreciation and thanks to visiting artists and to the Mi-Grave company for its generosity.

The refreshment committee, composed of Mrs. Fred Johnson, Miss Willis Brooks, Mrs. J. S. Nunnally, Mrs. C. G. Park, Mrs. J. J. Edwards, Miss Sara Spier, assisted by Miss Weaver, of the Mi-Grave company, served punch and cake.

Party Honors
Mrs. N. V. Stewart.

A lovely bridge-tee on Thursday afternoon given by Miss Virginia Baker at her home in Ansley Park complimented her sister, Mrs. N. V. Stewart, of Westaco, Texas.

The house was decorated with summer garden flowers. After the game tea was served at the individual tables.

Miss Baker wore yellow and white georgette.

Mrs. Stewart wore powder-blue crepe.

Miss Baker was assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. A. Baker.

Those invited were Misses Jeanette Collins, Yolande Gwyn, Nell Branner, Margaret White, Suzanne Springer and Clarice Stewart.

My house furnished for two or three months. Reasonable. References required and given.

MRS. GEORGE A. SPEER
28 Peachtree Circle

Miss Bedinger Weds F. G. Fiedler at Home Ceremony

A wedding of simplicity and beauty was that of Miss Sue Bedinger to Frank Graves Fiedler, Ottumwa, Iowa, which took place on Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride on Kings Highway.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of palms and ferns by the bride's brother, Rev. H. G. Bedinger.

Gladioli and southern smilax were used together with palms and ferns as the decorations in the living room, reception hall and dining room.

Miss Peggy Nicolson sang a beautiful solo preceding the entrance of the bride party, and also played Lebegren's wedding march, which was used as a processional.

Miss Mary Fiedler, of Ottumwa, Iowa, sister of the groom, was first bridesmaid. She was given in yellow georgette, and carried an arm bouquet of cream roses.

Miss Sally Herbert, of Orangeburg, S. C., wore pink georgette, and carried pink roses.

Miss Julia Herbert, the third bridesmaid, also of Orangeburg, S. C., was given in blue georgette, and carried Columbia roses.

The bride was met at the altar by Mr. and Mrs. Fiedler and his best man, W. E. Bedinger.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Alice G. Fiedler, wore a bridal robe of white duchess satin trimmed in pearls. Her tulle veil was adjusted with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held.

Mrs. Alice Bedinger, mother of the bride, was given in blue Canton crepe.

After a bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Fiedler will be at home in Ottumwa, Iowa.

Miss Council and Miss Bowman Are Lovely Summer Visitors

Miss Elizabeth Council, of Americus, Ga., and Miss Dorothy Bowman, of New Orleans, arrived Thursday and will be central figures at many delightful affairs during their stay.

Miss Council is the lovely guest of Miss Martha Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lewis of Springdale, and will be honored at a luncheon today at which Miss Lewis will entertain.

Covers will be placed for Misses Council, Lewis, Dorothy Bowman, Mary Jernigan, Mark Orme and her visitor, Ella Parr Phillips, of Columbia, S. C.; Clara Belle King, Mary Armstrong, Frances Floyd, Mary McCarthy and Laura Candler.

Miss Bowman is the attractive guest of Miss Mary Jernigan at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jernigan, in Druid Hills, and will be central figure in a party at the Biltmore tea-dance Saturday afternoon, at which Miss Jernigan will entertain.

Invited to meet the visitor are Misses Martha Lewis, Elizabeth Council, Joe Duckworth, Hugh Carter, Guy Woolford, Thomas Walsh, Henry Miller and Van Jernigan.

Silver Tea To Be Given at Mrs. Hinman's.

The Young People's Service League of St. Luke's church will give a silver tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Hinman, 759 Piedmont avenue, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The proceeds to be used to defray the expenses of a delegate to be sent by the league to Suwanee.

A delightful program has been planned as a feature of the afternoon. Taking part will be Miss Edith Moore, vocal solo; George B. Hinman, reading; Miss Dora Duck, piano solo; Mrs. Jack Lester, vocal solo; Miss Dorothy Hinman, recitation.

Woman's Club To Be Scene of Teas.

The regular Friday afternoon tea at the Atlanta Woman's club will be a social event of today.

Among those having reservations are Mrs. John J. Simpson, Mrs. J. W. Millsaps, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. J. T. Hancock, Miss Virginia Woolley, Mrs. A. C. Noves, Mrs. W. A. Perkins, Mrs. E. R. Johnson, Mrs. T. J. Butters, Mrs. W. J. Williamson and Mrs. C. D. Dickinson.

Fourth Bank Club Gives Barbecue.

The Fourth National Bank club had a barbecue and dance at Cascade Springs Tuesday evening. About 125 of the employees, directors and officers of the bank were present.

Following barbecue supper, the club dance was held at the pavilion. The special entertainment feature of the program was the dance number given by Miss Marie Martin.

Vacation Footwear $7 to $9 Values

Reduced to $2.45

Sales
Are Final

Red—Green—Blue
White Kid or Canvas

Trimmed With Black or Brown

Every woman needs sport shoes for vacation wear, and she is sure to find one or more pairs in this group, all sizes collectively.

Main Floor

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Washington Seminary
1574 Peachtree Road
ATLANTA

THE SOUTH'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES:

1. Boarding Department limited, $100,000.00 in Grounds and Buildings.
2. New School Buildings, modern in equipment, with provision for open-air classrooms.
3. Departments: Grammar School, Eight Grades; Academic, College-Preparatory, Music, Art, Expression, Domestic Science and Arts.
4. Physical Training a feature.

46th Session begins September 18th, 1924.

Write for illustrated catalogue—L. D. and EMMA R. SCOTT, Principals.

Miss Bedinger Weds
F. G. Fiedler at Home Ceremony

Miss Council and Miss Bowman
Are Lovely Summer Visitors

Silver Tea To Be Given at Mrs. Hinman's.

Woman's Club To Be Scene of Teas.

Fourth Bank Club
Gives Barbecue.

Vacation Footwear
$7 to $9 Values

Reduced to $2.45

Sales
Are Final

Red—Green—Blue
White Kid or Canvas

Atlanta's Newest Exclusive Millinery Store

Opens Its Doors
And Bids You
Welcome
Today!

You'll find it a charming place in which to shop—a delightful rendezvous for women who love the beautiful in millinery.

The Nance Millinery Co.

Enrolls Itself Among Atlanta Institutions—Today

—Situated at 24, 26 and 28 South Broad St., easily accessible from any point of Atlanta's shopping district.

—One of the south's largest exclusive millinery stores, where the newest in styling will prevail at all times.

—Where Quality will rule, and Honest Values be the guiding star of every transaction.

—Where you'll be met with a smile, and served courteously, fairly and efficiently.

—Where beauty of appointment and spacious surroundings will make buying altogether pleasant.

Pay Us a Visit Today Without Fail

First Showing of the New Fall Styles

Exquisite French room models that are the consummation of the style-thought of the new season.

$12.50, $15.00,
$20.00

Popular priced lines that reveal variety and style and quality from which it will be a treat to select.

$3.95, $5.00,
$7.50, $10.00

New Sport Hats $1.50
and $1.95

In all the new wanted colors and combinations; the materials are felts, spread hemp, felt and hemp combinations.

The Nance Millinery Co.

24-26-28 South Broad St.
Opposite Rich's on Broad St.

Lovely Visitors Are Honor Guests.

An informal bridge-luncheon given by Mrs. Howard Bucknell on Thursday at the Piedmont Driving club complimented Mrs. Donnelly, of Rome, Italy, the guest of Miss Louise Fitten, and Mrs. Tanner, of Fort Myers, Fla., the guest of Mrs. C. E. Sciple.

Luncheon was served on the back porch overlooking the park. The table had as its central decoration a large wicker basket filled with the loveliest of midsummer flowers.

After luncheon bridge was played. Mrs. Bucknell wore an attractive white silk sport costume.

The guests included twelve close friends.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Among the social events at Decatur this week was the delightful spend-the-day party given by Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Kellett at their beautiful home on Clairmont avenue.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Petrie and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Petrie, of Marietta, Ga.; Charles Petrie and family, of Powder Springs, Ga.; Sam Jones Petrie, of Greenville, Ala.; Mrs. Fannie Tripp, of Taylorsville, Ga.; Luther Tripp, of Asheville, N. C.; Mrs. W. R. Allgood, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Phagan and Mrs. R. R. Petrie, Jr., of Atlanta.

Covers were laid for twenty-four guests.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

Spent-the-Day Party
In Decatur.

DAVISON-PAXON-STOKES Co

Excellent Savings for Today and until 1 o'Clock Tomorrow

In the Ready-to-Wear Dept.

Finest
Voile
Dresses
$15

THE dresses from which you have the opportunity of choosing at this price take rank easily and rightfully among the most elegant types that the season has produced. Mostly in plain voiles—a few prints—in really exquisite styles—beautiful laces adorning them in tasteful fashion. No detail has been overlooked in the effort to make them worthy of any wardrobe. Earlier in the season they were marked $19.75, $25.00 and $29.75. You have choice now at$15.00

Coats and Suits
Of the better types at HALF PRICE

Coats—of the types that have enjoyed great popularity all season—ideal to finish out this season, or even to begin the fall with. Some are of Poret twill—some of the favored fancy fabrics. Smartly styled and correctly finished in every detail, and they are to be cleared at just half former prices.

Suits have very largely come back into their own this season. And why not, for after all what garment is really more practical or serviceable? These are of Poret twill, plaids and fancy mixtures—jaunty types that have an air of real magnetism. Genuinely high class garments in every respect. Half price—

$19.75 Coats at	$ 9.88	$35.00 Suits at	$17.50
$25.00 Coats at	$12.50	$48.50 Suits at	$24.25
$29.75 Coats at	$14.87	$50.00 Suits at	$25.00
$35.00 Coats at	$17.50	$59.50 Suits at	$29.75

In the Children's Dept.

Paul Jones
Middies 95c

The name is the best evidence of their quality. Odds and ends of qualities that ranged regularly up to $4.00. Some all white, some with colored collars. Regulation styles with braid and emblems. Sizes 6 to 22. For clearance 95c

A Lot of Middy Skirts 49c

Oddments also—representing kinds previously priced as high as $3.00—brought together under one low price for quick clearance. Some white, some navy, some khaki. Sizes range from 6 to 16. While they last the price is 49c

Children's Gingham
Dresses 98c

For the rest of the vacation days, or for the beginning of school, these will come in fine. They are in plaids, checks and plain colors—attractively and appropriately trimmed. Sizes 6 to 14. Formerly up to $1.95—now 98c

Misses' and Girls'
Summer Hats $5.00

Hats that represent the best styling which the season has known for girls and misses. There are leghorns, bangkoks and milans—in small, medium or large shapes. Sport types or dresilly trimmed in flowers, fruits and ribbons. Also tailored models in red, lemon, henna and white. Formerly $10.00 and $15.00. Choice now at $5.00

Third Floor

CLAMS AND SALADS

By Louise Dooly

SUZANNE Lenglen says that "every woman says absurd things when cross."

Suzanne ought to know.

Ambitious women who would like to see their husbands go to Washington might consider seriously the remark of a long resident of the national capital when he referred to the wife of a certain senator who had put on 50 pounds since going to live in Washington:

"The wives of public men," she said, "have to go to so many luncheons and dinners and things that after a few months all this party food either makes them so fat they are unrecognizable or they ruin their digestions and can't eat at all."

Such a choice of prospects might even give patriotism pause.

QUEEN Marie of Roumania, we are told, has written a novel. But when did she make time for it between sittings for her picture?

We know of one rich man who says his sons may have automobiles of their own when they earn the money to buy them. Such democratic principle is unfortunately rare in this day.

The roads would be safer for such democracy; if all car owners had not only to earn them, but pay for them before driving them.

WE never saw keener pleasure in the ownership of a car than that of another man who made up his mind early in his career to subdue his desire for a car until his income should reach a certain figure. By that time, he calculated, taking care of a car would be no financial strain.

Which incident recalls the remark of another man who built up his own fortune: "I didn't want a car until I was on Easy Street financially," he said, "until one night in an ostentatious cafe when I was ordering dinner for a party of guests a la carte I was accosted by a man who said: 'I have to count the cost of the meal!'"

RICH American girls, going in for royal or noble husbands, seem to pay less and less attention to the quality of their bargains. They are still paying in dollars for titles computed in the best of our country only in francs or marks or roubles. Unfortunately the girls, while they inherit the acquisitive sense of their fathers who built up the fortunes that buy the dukes and princes and things, fail to lack the business acumen which prompted their fathers to go slow on what looked like too big a bargain.

Physician, Heal Thyself.

EDWIN MUIR in his "Book of Latitudes" says of the psychoanalysts: "They strive to attain health by becoming more sick, by exhausting all the possibilities of sickness, until there is nothing left. This is a most unusual way of getting well, but it is the orthodox method of psychoanalysts."

Somewhere else we forget who it was—touched on the same idea when he said that he had at last found something good in the worst of the novels of the psychoanalysts; to reach them is to be convinced of the depths of depravity to which intelligence can descend, and thus be brought up with a start by the realization that intelligence needs a doctor, and that the public has got to be the doctor.

Why not the fascist method—castor oil?

An Unabridged Night Help.

"I LIKED your slam which questioned the intelligence of the modern fiction heroine who declared that she would rather be considered intellectual than moral," says a letter to this department, of which the signature "Salah" continues the kindly spirit of the contributor.

He (or she) objects still more strongly to the application by so-called scientists and the press of the word "intellectual" to the criminal whose brain functioning is all towards base ends.

The observation brings us back to the old question: What is education? What is culture?

Is a man educated who knows all there is to know about chemistry and nothing about history?

Has a man culture when his brain has been highly cultivated and the qualities of his heart left fallow?

We have a net theory of our own.

that the difference between intellect and intelligence would cover the ground. If we had a dictionary handy, we should see.

To consult a dictionary, however, and bring the information back to the typewriter would require a trip of five stories down and five stories back up. True, there is an elevator; two of them. But we shall follow the line of least resistance and lexiconograph a bit on our own.

Intellect we have always considered purely a brain product not necessarily coupled up with emotion or consciousness. Intelligence according to this idea of our own may not include so much book learning or mental development for its own sake, but in plainest terms might be called horse sense; the ability to use to best advantage what brains one is blessed with.

Just plain intelligence would thus hold the man possessing it from perversion of his intellect, if for no other reason than that such perversion is obliged to lead to trouble.

Intellectual as applied thus to the criminal mind is not incorrect. Intelligent, however, would be entirely too complimentary a term.

The dictionary, when we do consult it—and if we do—may prove us by this very discourse both un-intellectual and un-intelligent.

Progressive Marriage.

The novel "Kimono," written a year or so ago, was suppressed, we are told, at the request of the Japanese government because of its revealing pictures, so-called, of Japanese family life.

How much broader are we Americans, was our reflection, when we saw recently an alleged comedy built around the attractive, although somewhat vulgar, personality of a famous film comedienne which showed her "progress" from one marriage (?) to another and still another, with a final return to real love (another question mark) with husband No. 1.

The moral, we suppose, was that after a girl has tried riches and social position, the experience will teach her that neither can give her the happiness there is in love; even love in a poverty-stricken flat.

On the whole, husband No. 1, the real love, he quite so patient and complacent in real life about the trial marriages?

The primitive sort of husband who loves blindly and is willing to undertake the support of a wife on nothing a year has not as a rule those highly evolved ideas about "personal freedom" and "outworn conventions" of marriage, etc.

Having somewhat primitive ideas about some things ourselves, we considered the comedy a distressing exaggeration. Then we read in the newspapers the next day of the latest smart American divorce in Paris. Both parties had been divorced before, and the lady had a third prospect waiting in Paris for the decree.

The spirit of the husband (retired) was very beautiful, when he told the newspapers that not only had "it all been most amicably arranged, but that positively no scandal attaches to the situation."

We Americans, unlike the Japanese, have no false pride about our family skeletons. Keep them in unhygienic closets! No, indeed. We air them constantly on the front pages of the newspapers.

Mrs. Young Honors Florida Visitor.

A social event of Thursday afternoon was the bridge-tee at which Mrs. B. J. Young entertained in compliment to her sister, Mrs. W. J. Pritchard, of Jacksonville, Fla. Roses, sweetpeas and pink gladioli in tall vases and bowls were used as the attractive decorations.

The honor guest was presented with a hand-made handkerchief and the top score and consolation prizes were French novelties.

Mrs. Young wore a model of blue georgette beaded in crystals. Mrs. Pritchard's gown was of green beaded georgette.

The guests included Mrs. W. E. Spell, Mrs. E. E. Jones, Mrs. Perry Brooks, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. P. E. Gentry, Mrs. E. G. Woodward, Mrs. J. W. Spryng, Mrs. W. J. Pritchard, Mrs. S. Y. Spring, of Philadelphia; Mrs. J. R. Farr, Mrs. R. J. Young, Miss Faye McCowan and Miss Grace McCowan.

Noted Educator and LaGrange Girls

Photo by Mathewson & Price.

Dr. Buford Johnson, who is professor of psychology at Johns Hopkins university, and who was formerly at LaGrange college, is seated in the group. Mrs. J. B. Buchanan, who was hostess recently at an afternoon tea in honor of Dr. Johnson, is the second figure from the left, and the others in the picture are Miss Sara Swanson at the extreme left, and Miss Hallie Smith and Miss Christine Stubbs. All are members of the LaGrange club, and were assembled on the beautiful lawn of Mrs. Buchanan's home.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mrs. Neal Kitchens, of Warm Springs, Ga., has been in the city several days as the guest of friends. Mrs. Kitchens is an active club worker and at one time was president of the Fourth District of Federated clubs.

Miss Valeria Manley has returned from Linville, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gately left for New York Wednesday and will sail on the S. S. Majestic Saturday for Europe.

Mrs. S. G. Wilkie and Mrs. H. S. Wilkie, of 1040 Marietta road, left Wednesday for New York to meet Mrs. Will Lowe and her four daughters, of Shanghai, China, who will arrive in New York Friday, after visiting Italy, Germany and France. They will return Sunday, and be at the home of Mrs. Wilkie for a few days, until they get into their home, which is being put in readiness for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nelson, of Chicago, formerly of Atlanta, are visiting relatives in Atlanta.

An interesting event of the past week was the studio tea given by Thomas James Delbridge, of New York, at the home of his mother, Mrs. M. M. Delbridge, on Spring street, in honor of the pupils of his art class and a few friends.

Turner Leathers has returned from an extended trip to New York, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Cleveland.

Mrs. and Mrs. Sidney D. Bolan, of Bayonne, N. J., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Beverly, in Kennesaw, and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Beverly at 253 Forrest avenue.

Mrs. Benjamin Smith, with her children, Mary, Thornton and Mary Elizabeth, is visiting relatives in Elberton, Hartwell and Greenville, South Carolina.

Mrs. G. W. Singer, of 19 Westwood avenue, is convalescing from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davis and children are spending the summer at Trenham Springs.

Miss Carrie Spurgeon has returned from a two weeks' visit in Hillsboro, North Carolina.

Miss Reba Smith, the recent guest of Mrs. Benjamin Smith on Walker terrace, is spending some time with relatives in Winder, Athens, Elberton and Hartwell before returning to her home in Greenville, S. C.

Mrs. V. L. Powers has returned to her home in Macon after spending a few days in Atlanta.

C. M. Hudgins, after spending a few days with friends at 418 Piedmont avenue, left Wednesday for his home in New York, making the trip by boat from Savannah. Mr. Hudgins and family resided in Atlanta before moving to New York some months ago, and since going to New York Mr. Hudgins has been made district sales manager of the southeastern territory for Butler Brothers.

Miss Elise Ewing has returned from a five weeks' stay in Goldsboro, North Carolina.

Miss Magie Smith has returned to her home in Elberton after a visit.

WHY WOMEN LOOK 60 AT 40.

With dark circles under their eyes, hollow cheeks, drawn expressions, drooping shoulders, a lagging step, many women of forty have the appearance of women of sixty. In many cases this condition is caused by overwork or neglect of such warning symptoms as headaches, back-ache, nervousness, displacements, and irregularities which indicate ailments peculiar to women. If all women so afflicted would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound it would restore them to a normal healthy condition, and the premature signs of age will soon disappear.—(adv.)

Mrs. Dan Lyle Entertains For Her Two Daughters

Mrs. Dan Lyle was hostess at her home in College Park on Wednesday afternoon at an elaborate reception in honor of her daughters, Mrs. Dan Lyle, Jr., whose wedding was a recent brilliant event, and Mrs. Douglas Lyle.

The handsome home was decorated throughout with a profusion of summer garden flowers, the color scheme of lavender and pink, yellow and green being artistically carried out. Attractive hand-made baskets holding quantities of pinks were placed on the mantel and on stands in the living room and the reception room.

Assisting Mrs. Lyle in receiving and entertaining were Mrs. A. J. Jones, mother of Mrs. Dan Lyle, Jr.; Mrs. Leo Stillman, Mrs. W. B. Martin, Mrs. C. M. Mount, Mrs. M. D. Francis, Moore, Sr.

Lewis Collier Estes, who has been ill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Estes, Jr., is convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bryan and family, who are now in Asheville, N. C., will visit Mrs. Bryan's mother in Seneca, S. C., before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Little and niece, Misses Mary and Julie Ricketts, are in Asheville, N. C., for a two weeks' stay.

De La Woodall, who has been critically ill at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Gay, on Harvard road, is slightly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. George Caldwell Spier will leave Saturday for Signal Mountain, where they will spend a month. Mrs. Spier will have as her guest next week Mrs. Enrico Zeide.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Blackshear announce the birth of a son July 11, who has been named David Philip.

Miss Isabelle Breitenbach will return Friday from a visit to Miss Phyllis Roby, in Lynchburg, Va.

Colonel Sam Wilkes is in Athens, Ga.

Voters' League Gives Successful Party.

An event of Wednesday afternoon was a lovely benefit bridge party sponsored by the eighth ward members of the Atlanta League of Women Voters at the Curry Tiffin Kedei.

Tables were arranged in the three large front rooms of the Tiffin Kedei. The color scheme of yellow and white, the league's colors, was carried out in the decorations and flowers, and yellow and white mints were served. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

Each table was furnished with a top-score prize selected by one of the ladies at each table from a variety of useful toilet articles and candy.

The following received prizes given them with the compliments of the league: Mrs. Carl Hutcheson, a beautifully iced cake; Mrs. M. D. Farnham, a lovely bed light; Mrs. E. C. Pring, a lawn vase; Mrs. Isabel O'Hair, a large bottle of olives; Mrs. W. C. Robinson, a beautifully iced cake; Mrs. J. A. Parker, six iced tea sippers; Mrs. M. B. Bockin, a Pyrex baking dish; and Mrs. E. E. Garrison, a certificate for six photographs at the Lewis photo studio. All of the prizes were donated by Tenth street merchants.

Mrs. Irving S. Thomas and Miss Ida Thomas returned Thursday from an extended trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Johnson will leave soon for a motor trip through the New England states and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Owens, Jr., have returned from their wedding trip and are at home at 37 West 11th street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Throver leave Saturday for a week's visit with Judge and Mrs. E. C. Kontz at Lakemont.

Mrs. and Mrs. Cliff Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Fain Thompson are at St. Simon's for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Coleman have returned from a visit to New York.

Mrs. Tommie Clower has returned to her home in Granville after spending the past three weeks as the guest of Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith at her home on West 11th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brandon at their home in Ansley park, left today for their home in Hopkinsville, Ky.

George H. Treadwell, who has been making his home in Savannah for several years, has returned to live in Atlanta and will be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Treadwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Jr., left Wednesday for a visit to New York and Buffalo, going first to Charleston and from there by boat to New York.

Mrs. John L. Moore, of Alabama, and Mrs. Hugh L. McKee are visiting.

Mrs. Eva L. Thornton, Mrs. Oscar Palmour, Miss Annie Thornton and a group of young friends of the honor guests, which included Mrs. Alfred Drake, Mrs. Glenn Bryant, Mrs. W. B. Hatchell, Miss Blanche Roberts, Miss Emma Proctor, Miss Eleanor Harrison, Miss Mary Thornton, Miss Elsie Old, Miss Mamie Jones and Miss Mary Gray and Mrs. Howard Stanley, who served punch.

Mrs. Dan Lyle, Jr., was wearing in her wedding dress of white georgette elaborately beaded in pearls and trimmed in lace.

Mrs. Douglas Lyle was costumed in white lace and georgette.

Two hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Literary Meeting Of West End Club Is Largely Attended

The Wednesday meeting of the West End Women's club, under the auspices of the literary department, was enthusiastically attended by a large group of members.

The subject of study was the pioneers among the women poets of America. Mrs. H. H. Turner discussed the historical part of the period, Lydia Sigourney, and the epic poets, Brock, Mrs. H. W. Wilder had for a subject the religious poets among the pioneers, Margaret Mercer, Hoebel, Brown and Emma Willard. Mrs. Wilder also read several of these poems. Mrs. M. B. Jones gave a discussion of the narrative and reflective poets, Sara Hall, Hannah Gould and Lavinia Stoddard. Mrs. L. A. Maury read a paper on Lydia Child.

This was the first program of the study course outlined for the year by the literary department under Mrs. H. H. Turner, chairman of the literary department. The year's program as adopted at the Wednesday meeting is as follows:

August, "American History;" September, "Great Ballads;" October, "Famous Single Poems;" November, "Patriotic Verse;" December, "Hymns by Women;" January, "Poems of Love and Passion;" February, "Representative Women Poets of Georgia;" March, "Present-Day Verse and Verse-Makers;" April, "Negro Women Poets;" May, "Humorous Poets" and original poems of club members.

Musical Program.

Mrs. A. A. Burt, as chairman of the music committee, presented a program in connection with the literary program. Mrs. Burt presented Miss Santa Mueller in a violin solo, "Berceuse," by Jarneldt. Mrs. Kurt Mueller sang "The Dark Days" and "My Dearest," two of Frank Stanton's poems that have been set to music by J. Lewis Brown. Mrs. Lucile Moore was accompanist for Mrs. Mueller. Another violin solo, "Gavotte," by Michailon, was given by Mrs. Mueller's daughter.

It was announced at the Wednesday meeting that the Friday evening open house will not be held either this week or on the next Friday, July 25, this being the date for the club barbecue at the home of Mrs. M. J. Wright on the Adamsville road.

From the rapidly with which the tickets are being sold for this barbecue it is probable that the largest affair undertaken by the club. The 'cue is under the direction of the child welfare department, Mrs. J. S. Nunnally, chairman.

There will be many interesting features in connection with the barbecue.

tures in connection with the barbecue. Ex-Governor Hardwick is to speak and the band of the Rotary club will furnish music.

Tickets may be secured at the Stewart Murray Cigar stores, Waseell Drug company, 101 Whitehall street, or from any member of the executive board of the club. Tickets are 50 cents each and the 'cue will be from 4 in the afternoon till 9 o'clock in the evening.

West End Civic Club Postpones Meeting.

On account of the bridge party given Wednesday afternoon at the Civic Club of West End the regular Friday afternoon tea has been postponed until Friday, July 25.

One of the many large parties planned for next week is that of Mrs. Hugh Caldwell, who will entertain in honor of Miss Alice Stewart and her bridal party.

Reservations can be secured through the house chairman, Mrs. T. S. Selis, West 2423-J, and all members are extended an invitation to participate in this social feature of the club.

Special Summer Rates, $9 per day, Grove Park Inn, Asheville, Finest Resort Hotel in the World.—(adv.)

JULY SALE

It's Clean-Up Time! With Us Every Shoe in Stock Reduced

Patents Whites Satins $3.79 A Pair See Them

Some of our Newest and Best Styles

Cool, Comfortable House Slippers at Black's Bargain Prices

Ladies' "Felts" New Shipment Best Quality Blue, Emerald, Sapphire

69c

1-Strap Leather House Slippers (Just as Pictured) 95c

Children's Shoes Reduced $2.79

PETERS "WEATHERBIRD"

Our Children's Shoes are the talk of Atlanta. Every new style is represented and at cut prices.

Prices 1 to 5..... 89c to $1.89 5 to 8..... $1.89 to $2.39 8 1/2 to 11..... $2.39 to $2.79 11 1/2 to 2..... $2.79 to $3.79

Trimmed Tennis 95c A Pair

Suction Soles—Our Best Grade. Brown or White

BLACK'S

7 and 9 Decatur Street Just Off Five Points

See How Quickly You Can Banish

Gray Hair

This Clean, Colorless Liquid Will Quickly Restore the Former Color

Amazing results are reported by thousands of people who have seen their gray hair return to its original color under the touch of the remarkable preparation known as Kolor-Bak. Many report results in a week.

In this clean, colorless liquid we have a true substitute for the natural pigmentation, which the hair has lost because of age, illness, shock, scalp disease or some other cause. Remarkable as it may seem, Kolor-Bak not only banishes the gray, but restores the actual former color to the hair, no matter what it was—black, brown, red, auburn. And the color is uniform throughout—the hair does not appear streaked, faded or dyed.

Kolor-Bak is not sticky or messy. It is just as easy to use as clear water. It also cleanses the head of dandruff, scurf or scale, keeps the scalp in good condition, gives the hair a beautiful, silky appearance and prevents it from becoming brittle and falling out.

As long as your hair retains its youthful appearance, you get credit for being young—and to be young is always an advantage in both social and business life. Both men and women have a reliable friend in Kolor-Bak.

No need to furnish samples of your hair to get the right preparation. Kolor-Bak is for all hair, no matter what its original color, so you don't have to do any "matching" or experimenting. Just try Kolor-Bak and see how quickly the lost color returns. Kolor-Bak is sold on money-back guarantee.

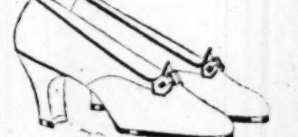

Kolor-Bak

Banishes Gray Hair SPECIAL SALE 3 Days Only

$1.29 Regular $1.50

Jacobs' Pharmacy Co.

12 Stores in Atlanta

Today---

Our Semi-Annual Clearance Offers

Your Choice of Any

White Shoe

1/2 Off

$15.00 Shoes ... $7.50

$13.50 Shoes ... $6.75

$12.50 Shoes ... $6.25

$10.00 Shoes ... $5.00

Special—

93 Pairs

Beautiful Colored Shoes Red, Green and Blue—Broken Sizes

$3.75 Formerly $12.50 and $15.00

No Mail Orders

Rich's Bargain Shoe Basement Specials

3500 Pr. Women's Shoes

$4.95 Values to $14.50

This lot not only includes a great many high-grade shoes from our Main Floor formerly selling at up to $14.50, but also about 1,000 pairs of "factory-damaged" shoes—the most wonderful women's shoe values in Atlanta.

Included are White Kid, Patent, Black Satin, and Suedes and Kids in all colors—all heels—sizes 2 1/2 to 8, AAA to D represented.

MAIL ORDERS state color, leather and heel. We'll send best values.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Francis Block will entertain in compliment to Mrs. Edward P. Donnelly, the guest of Miss Louise Fitten.

Teas at the Atlanta Woman's club.

Miss Mary Armstrong will give a bridge-tea this afternoon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue in compliment to Miss Ella Parr Phillips.

Miss Alice Stewart will be central figure at a bridge party at the woman's club, to be given by Mrs. J. J. Simpson.

Mrs. Hunt Chipley will be hostess to the Friday Morning reading class this morning at 4:30 o'clock at her home on Wesley road.

Mrs. Charles F. Rice will entertain at tea this afternoon at her home, 2696 Peachtree road, in honor of Mrs. Lida Williams Sykes, of Columbus, Miss., and Mrs. Irving S. Thomas.

Mrs. Joseph Raine will entertain at luncheon today at the Capital City club in compliment to Mrs. Roy James Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Martha Lewis will entertain at luncheon at her home on Springdale road in compliment to her guest, Miss Elizabeth Council, of Americus, Ga.

Mrs. P. E. Gentry will entertain at her home on Oak street this afternoon at a bridge party in honor of Mrs. W. J. Pitchford.

A dance will be given for the younger set by William H. Faith and Ira W. Deal at College Hall.

Mrs. Roger Malone will entertain at a bridge party this afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Wesley road in honor of Mrs. Edmund Eastman.

Miss Lillian Williamson will honor Mrs. William Ormsley at a bridge-tea this afternoon at the home of her sister on St. Augustine place.

Circle No. 2, of the W. M. S., of the Third Baptist church, will give an apron party at the home of Mrs. Byron Benson, 133 Venable street, this afternoon.

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The Young Woman's auxiliary of St. Philip's cathedral will hold its regular monthly meeting today at Piedmont park.

Gate City Chapter No. 233, Order of Eastern Star, will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in the Forsyth building, Forsyth and Luckie streets.

The Samuel M. Inman health center will be open today at 2 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the Decatur Woman's club will be held at the Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Fair-Weather Wives

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

"You are quite—happy?"

Marjorie stood by silently while Reed Hollister, bending over the open hood of her car, ran an immaculate handkerchief which he had taken from his pocket, along something within.

A minute later, touching the starter, he was rewarded with a welcome sound. He shut down the engine to make conversation possible and came to where she stood by the roadside, wiping his hands lightly on the handkerchief.

"You've got a bad look in that radiator. That's what caused the trouble."

Marjorie stammered that she was very grateful.

"Don't mention it, please. It was a pleasure. Glad I happened to come along when I did. Had you been tied up long?"

"It seemed like hours," she confessed ruefully, "but, as a matter of fact, it wasn't more than thirty minutes. But it was chilly and—" she shivered involuntarily.

He gave her a searching look, went over to his own car, and came back carrying a motor coat.

"Slip this on," he said matter-of-factly. "The night's turn chilly this early in the spring."

She obeyed as unquestioningly as a child. His soft warmth was pleasant. She snuggled down into its capacious depths gratefully and smiled her thanks.

"You're sure you won't be needing it?"

He shook his head. His eyes, with their intent, disturbing gaze, were fairly drinking in the youthful beauty of her face in the twilight.

"I don't suppose," he said a trifle wistfully, "that you'd consent to let me drive you home? Your radiator's in pretty bad shape, and you'd have to fill it constantly. It would take some time. Besides, the same trouble is likely to occur again. I could get you home in half an hour."

"Oh I couldn't—" she began startled. "It wouldn't be out of my way, in the least," he said quietly, as if to give the impression that her hesitancy was the result of her fear of inconveniencing him. He seemed quite determined to ignore their relationship. They might have been merely pleasant acquaintances.

She hesitated a moment longer. After all, it would be a beastly drive home having to fill that tiresome radiator. And she had barely time now to dress for the van Loring's dinner. What anyone who saw them would say!

She shrugged her shoulders defiantly in the shelter of Hollister's coat.

"Thank you. You're very kind," she murmured, and was amazed to find herself stepping into his car.

Once on the road, however, skimming along with the sense of lightness which she had felt in this same car on her wedding day, she was seized with sudden terror of the man, of the adventure. His proximity filled her with those same disquieting fears that had gripped her on each preceding occasion when she had been near him. She felt small and helpless, impotent to fight against the dominance of him.

She wished she had the courage to spring out of the car. To walk all the way home would be better than to have these perplexing emotions. She even figured on the possibility of some excuse to stop at an acquaintance's house and pretend she was dining there, and send Hollister on alone.

But she couldn't summon the necessary excuse, and he gave her no conversational opening to branch such an excuse. He drove in complete silence. She stole a glance at his profile and looked away again quickly. But his lines of strength, his clear-cut good looks, lingered with her in the darkness long after she had withdrawn her eyes.

The lights of Soundview brought a

HOME-BUILDING BOOM IN ATLANTA CONTINUES

Home-building in Atlanta during the first six months of 1924 maintained the fast rate of the previous year although total value of building permits was lower. It was shown in figures issued Thursday from the city building inspector's office.

Homes for 10,000 persons, in apartments, single and duplex dwellings, were authorized and a total of $7,795,834 was spent on building of all types. The largest item in the list is that for frame dwellings, for which 107 permits were issued and $2,728,107 was spent.

Other items are as follows:

Brick dwellings, three, costing $43,500.

Frame dwellings, duplex, 171, costing $625,650.

Brick dwellings, duplex, one, costing $11,000.

Stores and dwellings combined, 10, costing $31,050.

Apartment houses, 65, costing $2,063,300.

Churches, 10, costing $53,400.

Factories, eight, costing $131,300.

Brick business houses, 42, costing $676,700.

Frame business houses, 29, costing $53,800.

Private stations and public garages, 41, costing $157,500.

Private garages, 169, cost, $18,597.

School buildings, 17, cost, $234,150.

Miscellaneous buildings, 104, $22,635.

Furnaces, fire escapes, elevators and signs, 101, $93,532.

Alterations and repairs, 736, $849,317.

DR. ELLINGER TO SPEAK TO FORUM ON AUGUST 5

Dr. T. U. Ellinger, head of the Armour animal research bureau, and eminent scholar and agricultural authority, will speak before the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce forum luncheon, to be held Wednesday, August 5, at 12:30 o'clock. The subject will be "Live Stock With Reference to Utilizing Forest Lands in North Georgia."

Dr. Ellinger, who is a Dane, has been in America for fifteen years and has degrees from two universities. His father is president of the Agricultural College of Denmark and a sister is a member of the Danish cabinet, the first and only woman to hold such a position in that country. Mr. Ellinger is expected to offer suggestions for the agricultural betterment of the state.

GEORGE MORAN HELD IN AUTO THEFT CASE

George Moran, of Birmingham, was held Thursday for the United States grand jury under $500 bond following a hearing before Commissioner W. Colquhoun Carter on charges of stealing an automobile. Moran was arrested in company with Claude Braswell, of Birmingham, by department of justice agents. Braswell was released by Commissioner Carter.

Entering breath of relief from her lips.

"I'd best let you down at the gates, perhaps," suggested Hollister pleasantly, "unless, you don't mind being seen with me."

"The gates, please, will be better," she agreed hastily.

He halted the car, sprang down and held out a hand for her to alight.

"You can send a man back for your car, though it will be safe where it is, locked and on a seldom-traveled road."

"You have been very kind," Marjorie faltered.

She stood beside him on the drive trying to look at him, to meet his disturbing gaze, and succeeding only in flushing like a schoolgirl. To cover her confusion, she held out a slim hand.

He took it eagerly. It was his turn to flush. A light sprang into his fine eyes, but he only said, a bit wistfully:

"You are quite—happy?"

Marjorie longed to cry out "No." To tell him the truth that she was wretched and ashamed and unhappy. To beg him to release her, to take back his bounty, to set her free and give her back her self-respect.

But the thought of Dan and the realization that she was still tied by obligation and unable to ask for her freedom, curbed her impulse.

She answered his question with a faint smile, an affirmative nod: "Quite, thanks."

In the darkness.

A moment later, his car sped away (Continued)

Large Committee Is Named For Memory Day Souvenir Sale

Mrs. Stafford Seidel, vice president of the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, who is co-chairman with Mrs. A. O. Woodward and Mrs. H. M. Nicholas in arranging places for the sale of "Memory Day" souvenirs Tuesday, July 22.

Chairmen of places for the sale of souvenirs of the Battle of Atlanta, which will be a feature of the "Memory Day" celebration, July 22, inaugurated by the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, have been appointed by Mrs. B. M. Boykin, chairman for the day, assisted by Mrs. John A. Pedue, president of the chapter and a committee which includes Mrs. H. M. Nicholas, Mrs. A. O. Woodward and Mrs. Stafford Seidel.

These women are members of the various chapters, United Daughters of the Confederacy, including College Park chapter, Witches' club, the city federation, Hoosier club, West End Woman's club, West End Civic club, Buckeye Woman's club, Theater Guild, woman's auxiliary, Parent-Teacher association and other organizations and will be assisted by the junior members of the U. D. C. chapters, girls composing the group representing the 13 colonies and other groups of charming girls.

Following are the various chairmen: Mrs. George Corley, Mrs. Clea Webb, Mrs. N. O. Symmes, Mrs. W. H. Sanders, Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, Mrs. V. A. Armstrong, Mrs. J. P. Phillips, Mrs. Louise Spaulding Foster, Mrs. Nathan Bedford Forrest, Mrs. Stafford Seidel, Mrs. B. C. Ward, Mrs. M. A. Hardin, Mrs. Courtland Wilson, Mrs. May McAlpin, Mrs. Elsie Thomas, Mrs. W. G. Shearer, Mrs. Frank Golden, Mrs. J. K. Thompson, Mrs. J. S. Nicholls, Mrs. Annie Runch, Mrs. V. L. Patton, Mrs. T. W. Young, Mrs. W. A. Sanges, Mrs. Owen Sanford, Mrs. J. H. Thompson, Mrs. K. Ezell, Mrs. J. L. McCord, Mrs. J. M. White, Mrs. R. L. Proctor, Mrs. A. L. Milligan, Mrs. Chester Johnson, Mrs. C. L. Williamson, Mrs. Frederick Rice, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. Carl Hutcheson, Mrs. James Thornton, Miss Rose Moran, Miss Ellen and Willie May Brooks, Miss Florence Ohear, Miss Susie McClellan, Mrs. T. O. Baker, Mrs. Raymond Christian, Mrs. J. B. Phillips, Mrs. J. Edwin Lewis, Mrs. J. H. Parks, Mrs. D. E. Small and others.

The treasurers who will be stationed during Tuesday at the Piedmont hotel during Monday to give out buckets and souvenirs to the various chairmen. These ladies will be Mrs. A. O. Woodward, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Mrs. John M. Pedue, Mrs. H. M. Nicholas, Mrs. Arthur Hazzard and Mrs. E. S. Corrigan.

A committee will be at the Piedmont hotel during Monday to give out buckets and souvenirs to the various chairmen. These ladies will be Mrs. A. O. Woodward, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Mrs. John M. Pedue, Mrs. H. M. Nicholas, Mrs. Arthur Hazzard and Mrs. E. S. Corrigan.

Committee to visit the manufacturing plants includes Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, Mrs. Carl Hutcheson, Mrs. Newton Wing, Mrs. W. H. Sanders and Miss Anne Bennett.

Camp Wilkins Opens Formally With 200 Registered in Classes

Athens, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Camp Wilkins was formally opened here this week when 175 girls representing every section of the state registered for courses in cooking, clothing, needlework and basketry. The course will be one week in duration, after which the camp will be filled with quotas from other counties.

This is the only permanent camp for farm boys and girls in the United States, and was made possible through gifts of John J. Wilkins and other Athens citizens. It is located on the campus of the State College of Agriculture, and is operated under the direction of that institution.

It is expected that more than 2,000 farm boys and girls will be in attendance at the camp during the summer.

RAINS THREATEN CROPS IN THOMAS COUNTY

Thomasville, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—This section of south Georgia is having a great deal more rain of late than is wanted. Farmers who have planted cotton are worried about their crops on account of the excessive rains, which wash calcium arsenate off the plant and leave it to the boll weevil.

The corn crop is still in fine condition and has not been injured by the rains.

SIMPLICITY MARKS M'NEILY FUNERAL

Glen Allen, Miss., July 17.—Simplicity marked the funeral here today of Captain J. S. McNeily, veteran editor, politician and soldier, who died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Victor F. Krivin.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Philip Davidson Victor, rector of St. James Episcopal church, Greenville. Hundreds of men and women, gathered from the cities and towns of the delta, joined in the final tribute to the man who was a vital force in the development of this section of the state.

Thomas Cleans Highways.

Thomasville, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—The commissioners of Thomas county have put themselves on record as condemning the practice of billboard advertising on the highways of the county and have instructed Superintendent Brown to see that all such signs are removed from the right of way of the highways. This action was taken at the request of the members of the Thomasville Garden club, which, with other clubs of the city, is working to beautify the highways of the county and is arranging to plant trees and shrubs for that purpose.

Miss Floyd Honors Miss Ella Parr Phillips

Miss Frances Floyd entertained at a bridge-tea Thursday afternoon in compliment to Miss Ella Parr Phillips, the guest of Miss Mark Orme.

Variety of garden flowers were used in the reception rooms, as decorations. Tea was served in the garden, following the game, from a lace-covered table adorned with a silver basket of summer flowers.

Miss Floyd wore a lovely costume of cream, embroidered net over blue.

Mrs. James Floyd assisted her daughter in entertaining. She wore white beaded Georgette.

The guests included Misses Orme, Phillips, Mary Armstrong, Clara Belle King, Estelle Boynton, Virginia Howard, Yolande Gwyn, Runa Erwin, Ruth Osburn, Henrietta Mikel, Elizabeth Phillips, Mary McCarty, Mary de Give, Martha Lewis, Catherine Bayles, Bessie White, Ann Spalding, Martha Maddox, Mary Rhorer, Allene Longdale, Eleanor O'Beirne, Frances Arnold, Clayton Calloway, Nancy Carr, Isabel Breitenbucher, Virginia Campbell, Mary Inman Pierce, Mary Jernigan, Mary Ballenger and others.

W. M. S. To Give Apron Party

Circle No. 2 of the W. M. S. of the Third Baptist church will give an apron party at the home of Mrs. Byron Benson, 133 Venable street, this afternoon. The public is cordially invited.

IRVING'S Remarkable Clearance SALE

$5.50 Values to $11

Offers the season's best opportunity to beautify your feet at so low a cost.

A genuine clearance of high-grade footwear that is making hundreds of new friends and pleasing all of our old ones. White washable kids included.

Irving's CLEVER SHOES

Patents, Satins and Suedes

Blacks, Whites, Browns and Shades

93 Peachtree St.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

Linens Especially Priced

For Today and Saturday's Selling

Does your linen chest need replenishing? Would a few extra napkins or breakfast sets make the housekeeping easier? And towels! Can anyone have enough towels? The best housekeeper I know says to buy a few pieces of linen each month for real economy. Then be sure your linens "take their turn" to the wash; don't use the same sets over and over. You will be delighted at the results.

You have heard of the vogue for colored linens? Come in and let us show you our beautiful stock of them; it will be a pleasure to us and, we believe, to you!

- 14-in. Hemstitched Damask Tea Napkins—All linen, full bleached. A dozen.....$2.95
- 14-in. Hemstitched Linen Tea Napkins—Excellent quality, plain satin band, also dew-drop and floral designs. A dozen.....$3.95
- 55x55-in. Breakfast Cloth—All pure linen, grass bleached and very durable. Each.....$2.95
- 54x54-in. Belgian Linen Breakfast Cloth, with one-half dozen 16x16 napkins, extra heavy, grass bleached round thread linen, colored borders in blue, green, rose and gold. A set.....$5.75
- 16x16 Napkins like above—Sold separately. One-half dozen.....$2.25
- 55x55-in. Hemstitched Breakfast Sets—(6 matching napkins) in heavy linen damask. In blue, rose and gold. A set.....$6.95
- 22x42 Extra heavy Turkish Bath Towel—Athletic ribbed, colored stripes in blue, pink, and lavender.....39c

Linens—Main Floor

Final Clearance Blouses

Prices a Mere Fraction of Their Former Markings

At 59c

In this lot are blouses of Dimity, Pongee, Georgette, Crepe de Chine; some beautifully tailored, light and dark colors, some hand-made, with embroidery. Some overblouses in dimity.

At $1.95

The lace on these blouses is worth much more than the price quoted. Real Irish and filet laces, on exquisite hand-made blouses of imported voile. Some out sizes.

Blouses—Second Floor

As Announced in Last Night's Journal—Our Annual WHITE SHOE Clearance Begins TODAY

Any White Shoe In Stock

—White Washable Kid $3.95
—White Reigncloth (AAA to D) A Pair

UNRESTRICTED CHOICE

Doors Open Promptly at 8 O'Clock

A large force of Chandler-trained, painstaking salesmen to serve you efficiently and fit you correctly. We advise before noon attendance for best selection opportunity.

CHANDLER'S BOOT SHOP

Whitehall—Cor. Alabama

BEN HILL FARMERS PREDICT BIG CROPS FOR FALL HARVEST

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Ideal weather conditions prevailing in Ben Hill county and in this section of the state for the past several days have raised the hopes of farmers, and it is said that if present conditions continue, a satisfactory cotton crop is certain.

Tobacco is rapidly ripening and hundreds of people are working in the local tobacco fields, gathering the leaves and preparing them for the curing barns. The quality of the tobacco is especially fine in this section and a thousand pounds or over is expected to be harvested per acre. Other field crops are equally fine, especially the corn.

WAYCROSS TOT SWIMS Two-and-Half-Year-Old Girl Is Sensation.

Waycross, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—The swimming sensation of Waycross is the little two-and-a-half-year-old daughter of R. W. Davis, proprietor of the Davis swimming pool here. She takes her dip daily, and tries whatever she sees other people do. She dives from the high spring-board and is rapidly becoming a proficient swimmer.

BARBER'S BAND WILL PLAY AT ADAIR PARK

Clint Barber's band will play at Adair park from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock tonight. The program follows:

March, "Our Glorious Flag".....E. A. Barber
Overture, "Columbia".....L. A. Barber
Fox trot, "I Love You".....Archer
Waltz, "Glorious Evening".....King
Selection, "Fanny".....Gould
Tango, "Gone With the Wind".....Helly
Fox trot, "O Me, O My".....Barr
One-step, "Uncle Sam's Hootin'".....Witt
Indian characteristics, "Passing of the Red Men".....Miller
Fox trot, "Don't Mind the Rain".....Miller
Finale, "Star Spangled Banner."

UNDER CONSUMPTION CAUSE OF WORLD'S ILLS

London, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Under-consumption is the cause of the present troubles of the world, Winston Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, today told the International Advertising conference at its last general meeting at Wembley.

Mr. Churchill used a combination of his qualifications as statesman, author, warrior and economist, to tell the advertisers what was the trouble with the world and what must be done to bring it back to prosperity and normalcy. He also told them what they must do to have a hand in this world-soothing effort.

Mr. Churchill said that the war had affected both the producing and consuming powers of the world but that it had affected the consuming power to a much more serious degree.

He pointed out that higher taxation, improvident methods of national finance, new prejudices, bitter memories and the exchange rates all conspired against reviving trade and inducing greater consumption.

Must Nourish Consumption.

"These things, you must overcome," he continued. "Advertising nourishes consuming power. It creates wants. It is up to you advertisers to inspire a spirit of enterprise, confidence and good will because all of these conditions might exist in an unrelated fashion if publicity and propaganda were not used to fuse them together. It is this which advertisers can do."

Carrying out the keynote of this year's meeting, a resolution was adopted calling upon all nations and societies to pledge themselves to take all efforts towards an exchange of ideas for international peace and to adopt measures to safeguard against the recurrence of war. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Choice of Houston Approved.

The general session of the convention today adopted a resolution approving the choice of Houston, Texas, as the site of the 1925 convention.

The general session also confirmed the nominations made by the board of presidents of Louis E. Holland, president, and Jesse H. Neal as secretary-treasurer of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. They are incumbents.

MRS. W. G. MAHONEY DIES AT HOME OF HER SON

Charlotte, N. C., July 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. W. G. Mahoney, 76, of 4 "Acacia" place, Atlanta, died at the home of her son, W. M. Mahoney, here at 8 o'clock tonight of a stroke of apoplexy. Mrs. Mahoney had enjoyed a short automobile ride and was apparently in the best of health.

Mrs. Mahoney was Miss Belle Key, daughter of the late Rev. C. W. Key, of Georgia, for many years a member of the Methodist Episcopal church south. She was born in La Grange, Ga., at the time Rev. Mr. Key occupied a pastorate there. Her husband, W. G. Mahoney, of Tallahassee, died about 40 years ago. Surviving are three sons, Walter K. Mahoney, of Covington; Charles W.

DRINK OR DRUG

POISONING requires ELIMINATION. The New Treatment acts as an ANTIDOTE for these poisons, creates a longing for drink and overcomes the diseased condition. (No Brochure sent.) Dr. J. B. Conway, 10 years with the "Keely," in charge Keely Institute, 229 Woodward Ave., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

EXCURSION —TO— CHATTANOOGA

Your opportunity to visit Look-out Mountain, Chickamauga Park, Missionary Ridge, Orchard Knob, Cameron Hill, etc. All points easily reached by Electric, Sight-Seeing Cars or Automobiles.

—ONLY—
$3.50
ROUND TRIP
Leave Atlanta (Union Station)
4:00 P. M.
SATURDAY July 26
—OVER—
N.C. & St. L.
RETURNING

Special train will leave Chattanooga Union Station 11:30 p. m. Sunday, July 27, arriving Atlanta 8:30 o'clock Monday morning.
Separate coaches for colored people.
W. T. LIGHTFOOT, Gen. Pass. Agent,
G. B. HARRIS, Div. Pass. Agent,
101 Marietta St., Walnut 0033,
Atlanta, Ga.

Rich
Richard Says:

ALL that glitters is not gold. And all that's gold—including the money saving Classified Ads—doesn't glitter. But don't be fooled—
Read them today!

(Copyright, 1924, by Reall L. Smith)

Key, of Raleigh, and Will M. Mahoney, of Charlotte: four daughters, Mrs. L. D. McKee, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. E. L. Morris, Macon, Ga.; Mrs. J. C. Brinkley, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. home she lived; and Mrs. M. L. Ellis, Atlanta, and also surviving are two nephews, Jack Young, of Charlotte, N. C., and C. Bruce Young, of Augusta.

HENARD'S MAYONNAISE CO. GOES TO WHITEHALL

In order that it may be able to meet the demands for its products in this territory, the Henard Mayonnaise company has been forced to seek new quarters and again enlarge its plant and equipment.

Coming to Atlanta about 14 months ago, this firm's operations in a modest way at 112 East Ellis street, feeling that it was amply able to take care of every need in its line with that location and equipment for several years, but its products met with such instant and universal favor with the housewives and the trade of this territory that within a few months it was running night and day in order to supply the trade.

Later the plant was enlarged to twice the capacity, and now it becomes necessary to seek larger quarters and again add to the capacity and the force.

This rapidly growing firm has now leased the building at 477 Whitehall street, where it has 6,000 feet of floor space, facing Whitehall street and running back to railroad tracks, this railroad connection being necessary in order to properly take care of the shipments to points in this territory, the firm now occupying four states from this office.

The building has been remodeled entirely and made ideal for food manufacturing purposes, well lighted and ventilated, walls spotlessly white, concrete floors with drains, which permits of the regular daily washing.

Pat O'Brien, vice president, in charge, says that while moving and constantly enlarging are lots of trouble, he expects nothing more than to be forced out of this location into something still larger within another year and that regardless of the trouble he will move and enlarge as fast as is necessary to take care of his trade. New salesmen are being added to the firm, both city and territorial, and prospects are good for very satisfactory business this summer and fall.

Georgia Baptists Plan Campaign For $1,000,000

Macon, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Suggestions relating to closing up the campaign for $750,000,000 and plans for raising $1,000,000 in the state in 1924 featured addresses of three speakers at the regional conference of pastors and leading Baptists of six state associations held here today.

Speakers were Louie D. Newton, editor of The Christian Index; Dr. Arch C. Cree, executive secretary of the Georgia Baptist convention, and Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, president of Mercer university.

Half of the $1,000,000 it is proposed to raise in Georgia next year will go to the denomination in this state and the remainder to the Southern Baptist convention, according to suggestions put forward today.

A forerunner of the campaign will be the setting aside of September, 1924, as "Baptist Day," and all churches throughout the state will aid in increasing the circulation of The Christian Index, official organ, by 10,000 subscribers. November, 1924, will be designated "Round-Up Month," and efforts will be made to secure payment of all outstanding pledges in the $750,000,000 campaign.

Women, representing the Women's Missionary Union of the state, closed the conference in the afternoon with a meeting. Southern women have already made their full quota of the $15,000,000 on the five-year drive and are now making plans to raise more funds.

Pulaski, Blackley, Washington, Rebooth, Centennial and Central Ebenezer were the associations represented at the conference today.

Estonton, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Captain John S. Reid, 85, gallant veteran of the Civil war, statesman and the first teacher of Joel Chandler Harris, author of "Uncle Remus," who died last Wednesday at his home here, will be held from the residence Friday morning, Rev. T. Z. B. Everett, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Captain Reid taught Joel Harris at "the little red schoolhouse" over the Abercrombie hill. He died from less than one week's confinement.

Captain Reid was a veteran of the battle of Gettysburg and several years ago attended the first reunion of the Blue and the Gray held on the famous battlefield. He was well preserved and had an erect military bearing up to time of his death.

He was a member of a noted southern family and had represented Putnam county in the legislature and this district in the state senate besides serving as ordinary of this county for many years. His home had a state-wide reputation for true southern hospitality and many noted citizens have been entertained there.

Less than a week before his death he attended a sermon preached by Bishop Warren A. Candler, and remained to mingle with friends at the dinner on the grounds during Oxford district conference.

Captain Reid is survived by a son, Professor Dennis Reid, honor graduate of Georgia university and well-known teacher in both Georgia and Florida; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lucian Lamar Knight, widow of the late Dr. Edmund Hunter Reid, and a sister, Mrs. Susan Reid Walton, last of a noted Putnam family.

JUDGE APPOINTS WIFE TO BUTLER TAX OFFICE

Butler, Ga., July 17.—Mrs. A. H. Riley has been appointed by Judge A. H. Riley, her husband, as tax collector of Butler, to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of J. J. McCants, marking the first time in the history of this community that such a situation has prevailed.

The selection of Mrs. Riley is said to have untangled a "knotty problem," which confronted Judge Riley, there being about twenty applicants for the office.

WOMAN CONFESSES DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

Tampa, Fla., July 17.—Mrs. Edith M. Conway confessed this morning to participation in the daylight holdup of A. C. Clewis on April 23. She was personally transferring from a branch bank in West Tampa to the Exchange National bank here.

Sheriff Spencer says that Mrs. Conway made a written statement admitting her part in the plot that led to a hold stroke of banditry which mystified the public until this week, when five widely known Tampons were arrested.

In her confession, Mrs. Conway absolves her son, Byard, also arrested for the holdup, according to Sheriff Spencer. It is understood that she says he was only an inadvertent informer, or innocent "tip off" man, when he informed the others that Mr. Clewis made a practice of carrying large sums unarm.

A bag of silver currency in original packages, identified as part of the $24,000 snatched, was found yesterday afternoon in the house of H. B. Hogue, former finger print expert of the police department, and one of five prisoners held in the county jail on the charge of robbing Clewis. Another money bag, empty, bearing the name of the Exchange National bank was also found.

Further search uncovered two revolvers, used in the holdup, according to identification of Ted Albury, one of the five prisoners who is alleged to have confessed and implicated the others.

A coat discarded by Albury after the robbery was discovered yesterday by detectives in a search of the home of Mrs. Edith M. Conway, former police-woman, one of the prisoners.

The grand jury began investigation of the case this morning.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH IN SMALL COTTAGE

Ironton, Ohio, July 18.—Lindsay Barber, 9; Amy Barber, 11, and Cora Barber, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barber, were burned to death shortly after midnight last night when their home, a four-room cottage at Coal Grove, three miles east of here, was entirely consumed by fire.

Joe—"Ophelia is a funny flapper." Hank—"How's that?" Joe—"Well, last night when I stole a kiss from her, and it landed on her chin, she said, 'Heaven's above.'"—Pathfinder.

Madison, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Ten persons are taking the Pasteur treatment in Madison today and an order has been issued by the chief of police to shoot all dogs seen on the streets, following the biting of the individuals here Monday by a pointer dog belonging to Butler Atkinson.

Examination of the head at the state laboratories at Atlanta disclosed the fact that the animal was suffering from rabies at the time it was killed. Three sons of Mr. Atkinson are among the victims.

No dogs will be allowed on the streets until further notice, according to the order issued by city authorities, who declared that they are a menace to the safety of citizens. Owners have been notified to confine their canine pets.

"Woman now has the proud privilege of voting." "Yet," suggested Miss Cayenne, "if she goes to the polls wearing knickerbockers and short hair, and smokes cigarettes, what's the use? People will merely think it's another man."—Washington Star.

Tokio, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Both houses of the imperial diet today passed the government bill raising the tariff on about 250 articles classed as luxuries to an ad valorem duty of 100 per cent.

The date the increase will become effective will be announced in the imperial ordinance promulgating the act. It is understood that the measure will not affect goods already in transit.

The increased tariff was opposed bitterly by importers and other business interests dealing in imported luxuries. The foreign community of Kobe went on record in opposition to the increase, expressing the conviction that "it will make the maintenance of a European standard of living in Japan virtually impossible, thus doing a grave injustice to the foreign community."

The bill is not intended as a revenue producing measure, according to government spokesmen, but as a means of correcting a national tendency toward consumption of foreign made articles, to which it attributed, in part, the mounting of an adverse trade balance. It also is intended to protect domestic industry.

Trade with America is expected to be very slightly affected, owing to the fact that most of Japan's purchases in the United States are of staple articles, such as cotton, iron and machinery.

ELEVEN KNOWN DEAD
IN KANSAS CITY FIRE

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—The bodies of two firemen and nine negroes, who lost their lives in the explosion and fire that razed a two-story store and apartment building here today, had been recovered to-night. The extent of the death toll had not been definitely established, as the nine negro victims were among twenty negro roomers who are unaccounted for.

The two dead firemen were killed when a wall crumbled and buried them beneath the debris. Six other firemen were injured by the crumbling mass of brick and tile.

Origin of the explosion, which rocked buildings in the vicinity and broke windows within a radius of about a block, had not been determined to-night.

Even When Hayes Was President...
Dr. J. A. Dickey's Eye Water

10 Madisonsians Prey of Mad-Dog; Police War Opens

Madison, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Ten persons are taking the Pasteur treatment in Madison today and an order has been issued by the chief of police to shoot all dogs seen on the streets, following the biting of the individuals here Monday by a pointer dog belonging to Butler Atkinson.

Examination of the head at the state laboratories at Atlanta disclosed the fact that the animal was suffering from rabies at the time it was killed. Three sons of Mr. Atkinson are among the victims.

No dogs will be allowed on the streets until further notice, according to the order issued by city authorities, who declared that they are a menace to the safety of citizens. Owners have been notified to confine their canine pets.

"Woman now has the proud privilege of voting." "Yet," suggested Miss Cayenne, "if she goes to the polls wearing knickerbockers and short hair, and smokes cigarettes, what's the use? People will merely think it's another man."—Washington Star.

Tokio, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Both houses of the imperial diet today passed the government bill raising the tariff on about 250 articles classed as luxuries to an ad valorem duty of 100 per cent.

The date the increase will become effective will be announced in the imperial ordinance promulgating the act. It is understood that the measure will not affect goods already in transit.

The increased tariff was opposed bitterly by importers and other business interests dealing in imported luxuries. The foreign community of Kobe went on record in opposition to the increase, expressing the conviction that "it will make the maintenance of a European standard of living in Japan virtually impossible, thus doing a grave injustice to the foreign community."

The bill is not intended as a revenue producing measure, according to government spokesmen, but as a means of correcting a national tendency toward consumption of foreign made articles, to which it attributed, in part, the mounting of an adverse trade balance. It also is intended to protect domestic industry.

Trade with America is expected to be very slightly affected, owing to the fact that most of Japan's purchases in the United States are of staple articles, such as cotton, iron and machinery.

ELEVEN KNOWN DEAD
IN KANSAS CITY FIRE

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—The bodies of two firemen and nine negroes, who lost their lives in the explosion and fire that razed a two-story store and apartment building here today, had been recovered to-night. The extent of the death toll had not been definitely established, as the nine negro victims were among twenty negro roomers who are unaccounted for.

The two dead firemen were killed when a wall crumbled and buried them beneath the debris. Six other firemen were injured by the crumbling mass of brick and tile.

Origin of the explosion, which rocked buildings in the vicinity and broke windows within a radius of about a block, had not been determined to-night.

Even When Hayes Was President...
Dr. J. A. Dickey's Eye Water

During the Past 46 Years This Great Eye Water Has Successfully Relieved Millions of Inflamed Eyes. Original Marked Dr. J. A. Dickey.

Those who were living during the lifetime of President Rutherford B. Hayes can remember that Dickey's

Painless Eye Water was successfully used even then. During the generations that have followed, this famous Eye Water has continued to heal millions of eyes with unfailing certainty.

When treating the eyes, never trifle with experiments—get an eye water that has stood the test of time—Dr. J. A. Dickey's Painless Eye Water.

Only 25c at all dealers.—(adv.)

THE FIRST border state south of the Mason and Dixon line, Kentucky has aptly been termed "The Gateway to The South"; and, as such, it demands careful consideration in any advertising and selling campaign directed to The South—the fastest-growing and most inviting section of the Union.

"The Blue Grass State", world-famous for its thoroughbreds—first in horses and later in live stock of all kinds—has developed in keeping with the forward march of Progress, signalized by its Southern trend.

Kentucky's Varied Resources

Diversified, scientific farming has made Kentucky a great Agricultural State; having produced in 1922, over 88,000,000 bushels of corn, valued at $60,761,000—1,471,000 tons of Hay, valued at $21,330,000—4,282,000 bushels of Oats, valued at $2,398,000—6,740,000 bushels of Irish and Sweet potatoes, valued at $6,942,000—3,984,000 gallons of Sorghum Syrup, valued at $3,187,000—7,475,000 bushels of Wheat, valued at $8,820,000; and other products, bringing in a total of $219,333,000 for Agricultural products.

Up-to-date methods have put Kentucky prominently "on the map" for Live Stock breeding and shipping. The

10 Madisonsians Prey of Mad-Dog; Police War Opens

Madison, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Ten persons are taking the Pasteur treatment in Madison today and an order has been issued by the chief of police to shoot all dogs seen on the streets, following the biting of the individuals here Monday by a pointer dog belonging to Butler Atkinson.

Examination of the head at the state laboratories at Atlanta disclosed the fact that the animal was suffering from rabies at the time it was killed. Three sons of Mr. Atkinson are among the victims.

No dogs will be allowed on the streets until further notice, according to the order issued by city authorities, who declared that they are a menace to the safety of citizens. Owners have been notified to confine their canine pets.

"Woman now has the proud privilege of voting." "Yet," suggested Miss Cayenne, "if she goes to the polls wearing knickerbockers and short hair, and smokes cigarettes, what's the use? People will merely think it's another man."—Washington Star.

Tokio, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Both houses of the imperial diet today passed the government bill raising the tariff on about 250 articles classed as luxuries to an ad valorem duty of 100 per cent.

The date the increase will become effective will be announced in the imperial ordinance promulgating the act. It is understood that the measure will not affect goods already in transit.

The increased tariff was opposed bitterly by importers and other business interests dealing in imported luxuries. The foreign community of Kobe went on record in opposition to the increase, expressing the conviction that "it will make the maintenance of a European standard of living in Japan virtually impossible, thus doing a grave injustice to the foreign community."

The bill is not intended as a revenue producing measure, according to government spokesmen, but as a means of correcting a national tendency toward consumption of foreign made articles, to which it attributed, in part, the mounting of an adverse trade balance. It also is intended to protect domestic industry.

Trade with America is expected to be very slightly affected, owing to the fact that most of Japan's purchases in the United States are of staple articles, such as cotton, iron and machinery.

ELEVEN KNOWN DEAD
IN KANSAS CITY FIRE

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—The bodies of two firemen and nine negroes, who lost their lives in the explosion and fire that razed a two-story store and apartment building here today, had been recovered to-night. The extent of the death toll had not been definitely established, as the nine negro victims were among twenty negro roomers who are unaccounted for.

The two dead firemen were killed when a wall crumbled and buried them beneath the debris. Six other firemen were injured by the crumbling mass of brick and tile.

Origin of the explosion, which rocked buildings in the vicinity and broke windows within a radius of about a block, had not been determined to-night.

Even When Hayes Was President...
Dr. J. A. Dickey's Eye Water

During the Past 46 Years This Great Eye Water Has Successfully Relieved Millions of Inflamed Eyes. Original Marked Dr. J. A. Dickey.

Those who were living during the lifetime of President Rutherford B. Hayes can remember that Dickey's

Painless Eye Water was successfully used even then. During the generations that have followed, this famous Eye Water has continued to heal millions of eyes with unfailing certainty.

When treating the eyes, never trifle with experiments—get an eye water that has stood the test of time—Dr. J. A. Dickey's Painless Eye Water.

Only 25c at all dealers.—(adv.)

THE FIRST border state south of the Mason and Dixon line, Kentucky has aptly been termed "The Gateway to The South"; and, as such, it demands careful consideration in any advertising and selling campaign directed to The South—the fastest-growing and most inviting section of the Union.

"The Blue Grass State", world-famous for its thoroughbreds—first in horses and later in live stock of all kinds—has developed in keeping with the forward march of Progress, signalized by its Southern trend.

Kentucky's Varied Resources

Diversified, scientific farming has made Kentucky a great Agricultural State; having produced in 1922, over 88,000,000 bushels of corn, valued at $60,761,000—1,471,000 tons of Hay, valued at $21,330,000—4,282,000 bushels of Oats, valued at $2,398,000—6,740,000 bushels of Irish and Sweet potatoes, valued at $6,942,000—3,984,000 gallons of Sorghum Syrup, valued at $3,187,000—7,475,000 bushels of Wheat, valued at $8,820,000; and other products, bringing in a total of $219,333,000 for Agricultural products.

Up-to-date methods have put Kentucky prominently "on the map" for Live Stock breeding and shipping. The

10 Madisonsians Prey of Mad-Dog; Police War Opens

Madison, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—Ten persons are taking the Pasteur treatment in Madison today and an order has been issued by the chief of police to shoot all dogs seen on the streets, following the biting of the individuals here Monday by a pointer dog belonging to Butler Atkinson.

Examination of the head at the state laboratories at Atlanta disclosed the fact that the animal was suffering from rabies at the time it was killed. Three sons of Mr. Atkinson are among the victims.

No dogs will be allowed on the streets until further notice, according to the order issued by city authorities, who declared that they are a menace to the safety of citizens. Owners have been notified to confine their canine pets.

"Woman now has the proud privilege of voting." "Yet," suggested Miss Cayenne, "if she goes to the polls wearing knickerbockers and short hair, and smokes cigarettes, what's the use? People will merely think it's another man."—Washington Star.

Tokio, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Both houses of the imperial diet today passed the government bill raising the tariff on about 250 articles classed as luxuries to an ad valorem duty of 100 per cent.

The date the increase will become effective will be announced in the imperial ordinance promulgating the act. It is understood that the measure will not affect goods already in transit.

The increased tariff was opposed bitterly by importers and other business interests dealing in imported luxuries. The foreign community of Kobe went on record in opposition to the increase, expressing the conviction that "it will make the maintenance of a European standard of living in Japan virtually impossible, thus doing a grave injustice to the foreign community."

The bill is not intended as a revenue producing measure, according to government spokesmen, but as a means of correcting a national tendency toward consumption of foreign made articles, to which it attributed, in part, the mounting of an adverse trade balance. It also is intended to protect domestic industry.

Trade with America is expected to be very slightly affected, owing to the fact that most of Japan's purchases in the United States are of staple articles, such as cotton, iron and machinery.

ELEVEN KNOWN DEAD
IN KANSAS CITY FIRE

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—The bodies of two firemen and nine negroes, who lost their lives in the explosion and fire that razed a two-story store and apartment building here today, had been recovered to-night. The extent of the death toll had not been definitely established, as the nine negro victims were among twenty negro roomers who are unaccounted for.

The two dead firemen were killed when a wall crumbled and buried them beneath the debris. Six other firemen were injured by the crumbling mass of brick and tile.

Origin of the explosion, which rocked buildings in the vicinity and broke windows within a radius of about a block, had not been determined to-night.

Even When Hayes Was President...
Dr. J. A. Dickey's Eye Water

During the Past 46 Years This Great Eye Water Has Successfully Relieved Millions of Inflamed Eyes. Original Marked Dr. J. A. Dickey.

Those who were living during the lifetime of President Rutherford B. Hayes can remember that Dickey's

Painless Eye Water was successfully used even then. During the generations that have followed, this famous Eye Water has continued to heal millions of eyes with unfailing certainty.

When treating the eyes, never trifle with experiments—get an eye water that has stood the test of time—Dr. J. A. Dickey's Painless Eye Water.

Only 25c at all dealers.—(adv.)

THE FIRST border state south of the Mason and Dixon line, Kentucky has aptly been termed "The Gateway to The South"; and, as such, it demands careful consideration in any advertising and selling campaign directed to The South—the fastest-growing and most inviting section of the Union.

"The Blue Grass State", world-famous for its thoroughbreds—first in horses and later in live stock of all kinds—has developed in keeping with the forward march of Progress, signalized by its Southern trend.

Kentucky's Varied Resources

Diversified, scientific farming has made Kentucky a great Agricultural State; having produced in 1922, over 88,000,000 bushels of corn, valued at $60,761,000—1,471,000 tons of Hay, valued at $21,330,000—4,282,000 bushels of Oats, valued at $2,398,000—6,740,000 bushels of Irish and Sweet potatoes, valued at $6,942,000—3,984,000 gallons of Sorghum Syrup, valued at $3,187,000—7,475,000 bushels of Wheat, valued at $8,820,000; and other products, bringing in a total of $219,333,000 for Agricultural products.

The Fun Shop

MAXSON FORTUNE-JUBEL

OUR LESSON FOR TODAY.

By Wallace M. Bayless.
"By crackie, boy, you're getting fat!"
Whenever you tell the thin men that they're fat, they state with joy unfeigned.
How many ounces they have gained.
"By giner, man, you're getting thin!"
That always makes the fat men grin.
And instantly much talk is loosed.
To tell the pounds they have reduced.
But listen, children! Keep in mind
That talk like this must be confined
To men alone, for women folks
Regard such stuff as uncouth jokes.
A woman's never thin, you see,
She's slender, sylph-like, willowy;
Nor is a woman ever fat:
She's merely plump. And that is that.

These Days.

"When a love affair goes wrong, it's usually the woman that pays," remarked the professor.
"Not if she hires a good breach-of-promise lawyer!" chuckled the cynic.
—Edward H. Deschamps.

Too Much Heart.

Gardner—My heart is in my work.
Owner of Estate—That's fine. Now how about getting your hands into it?
—C. E. Stewart.

THE JINGLE-JANGLE COUNTER.

Sanshin follows a stormy weather;
Cheese and Crackers go together.
—Nathan M. Levy.

Blacksmiths keep the bellows going.

Boasters do a heap of blowing.
—Richard Barthelmeas.

In my jeans the coin did jingle—

But in those days I was single.
—George O. Reed.

Some numbers are even, others are odd—

Shall I, or shall I not, have my hair bobbed?
—Mrs. W. B. Connell.

If Popular Songs Were Illustrated.

Several minutes were lost while they sewed up the ball that became ripped. They will have a new ball
Saturday.

Too much gambling at the game.

Ya Scribe noticed several wagers running up to a quarter being made.
Baseball must not be commercialized.

The Awakening.

John (consoling): "I didn't think you'd break your engagement with Sue. You always said she was your 'dream' girl."
Jack: "She was my dream girl, but I woke up." —Joseph Cohen.

Jealousy.

Two little girls were talking about how pretty another girl was when one of them remarked: "I think her dimples are just too cute for anything."
Her little brother, playing on the floor, overhearing this remark, immediately looked up and said: "Dim-ples ain't nothing. I got warts." —
Evelyn Walker.

(Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

Readers are requested to contribute. All humor, epigrams (or humorous mottoes), jokes, anecdotes, poetry, burlesque, satires, and bright sayings of children, must be original and unpublished. Accepted material will be paid for at regular rates. All manuscripts must be written on one side of the paper only, should bear name of this newspaper, and should be addressed either to The Fun Shop, or to The Atlanta Constitution, Fun
Shop Headquarters, 110 West 40th street, New York City.
(Unaccepted manuscripts cannot be acknowledged or returned.)

For Divers Reasons.

Flapper—There must be something wrong. I can't swim a stroke in this bathing suit.
Tactful Clerk—Ah, no wonder!
The label reads, "Guaranteed to wear like iron." —Henry Fisher.

White Fang

BY JACK LONDON

Continued From Yesterday.

One Eye moved slightly and peered forth with increased eagerness. Something was happening. The porcupine had at last decided that its enemy had gone away. Slowly, cautiously, it was unrolling its ball of impenetrable armor. It was agitated by no tremor of anticipation. Slowly, slowly, the bristling ball straightened out and lengthened. One Eye, watching, felt a sudden moistness in his mouth and a drooling of saliva, involuntary, excited by the living meat that was spreading itself like a repast before him.

Not quite entirely had the porcupine unrolled when it discovered its enemy. In that instant the lynx struck. The blow was like a flash of light. The paw, with rigid claws curving like talons, shot under the tender belly and came back with a swift ripping movement. Had the porcupine been entirely unrolled, he had discovered its enemy a fraction of a second before the blow was struck, the paw would have escaped unscathed; but a side-flick of the tail sank sharp quills into it as it was withdrawn.

Everything happened at once—the blow, the counter-blow, the squeal of agony from the porcupine, the big cat's snarl of sudden hurt and astonishment. One Eye half arose in his excitement, his ears up, his tail straight out and quivering behind him.
The lynx had temper got the best of her. She sprang savagely at the thing that had hurt her. But the porcupine, squealing and grunting, with disrupted anatomy trying feebly to roll up into its ball-protection, flicked out its tail again, and again the big cat squalled with hurt and astonishment. Then she fell to backing away and sneezing, her nose bristling with quills like a monstrous pin-cushion. She brushed her nose with her paws, trying to dislodge the fiery darts, thrust it into the snow, and rubbed it against twice

JUST NUTS

Boys and Girls

Do You Like To Draw and Paint?

Watch next Sunday's Boys and Girls' Section of The Constitution's Magazine for another drawing and painting contest. Cash prizes, and 45 tickets to the Rialto Theater.

Noozie

THE GUMPS—A BUTTERFLY OF FASHION

denly. There was a final defiant dash of the long teeth. Then all the quills drooped quite down, and the body relaxed and moved no more.
With a nervous, shrinking paw.
One Eye stretched out the porcupine to its full length and turned it over on its back. Nothing had happened.
It was surely dead. He studied it intently for a moment, then took a careful grip with his teeth and started off down the stream, partly carrying, partly dragging the porcupine.
With head turned to the side so as to avoid stepping on the prickly mass. He recollected something, dropped the burden, and trotted back to where he had left the porcupine.
He did not hesitate a moment. He knew clearly what was to be done, and this he did by promptly eating the porcupine. Then he returned and took up his burden.

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—Nice but Nutty

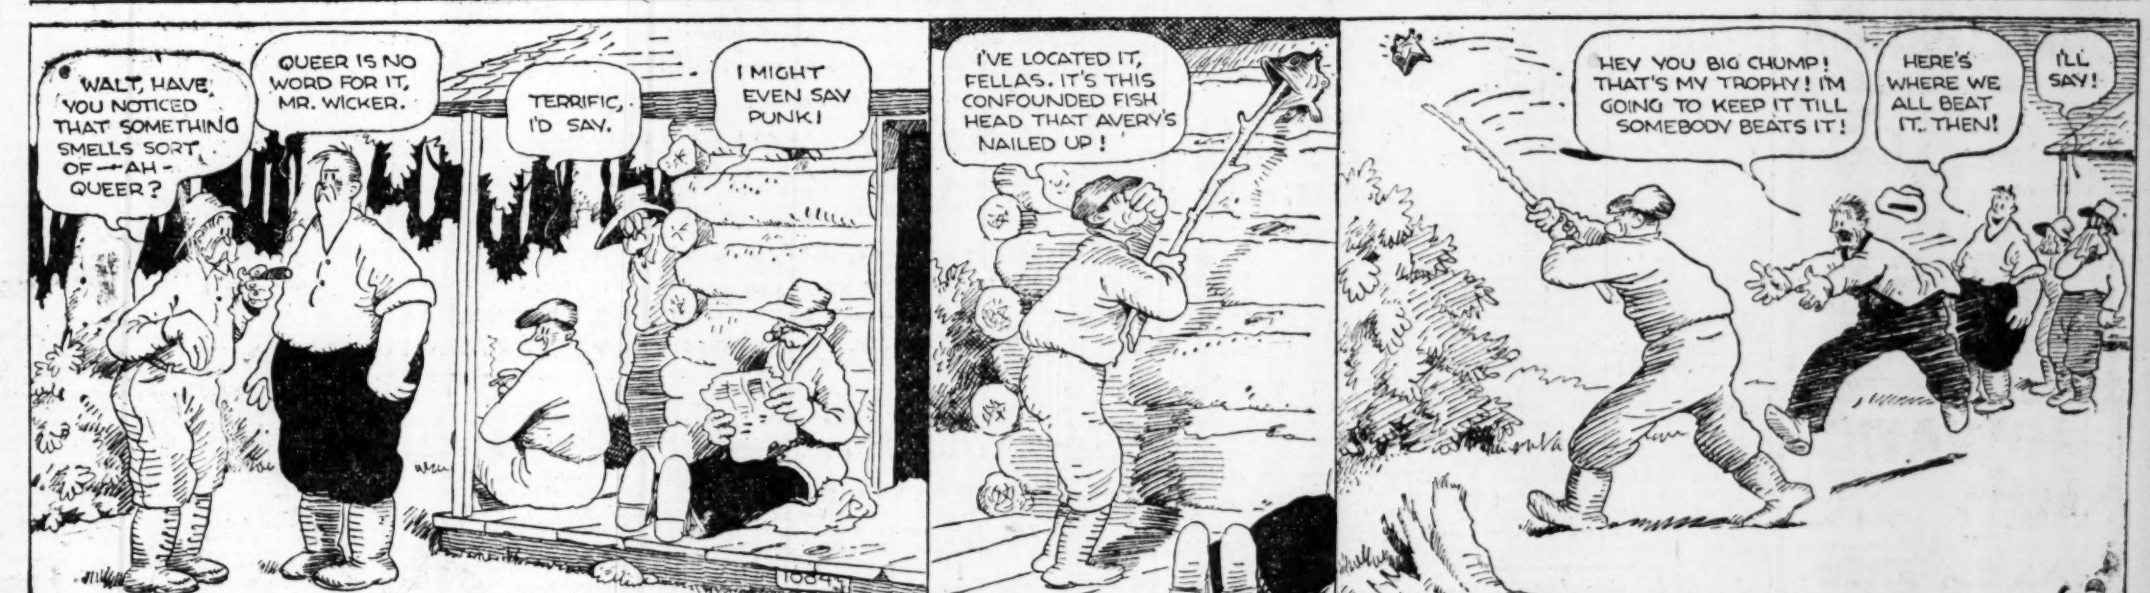

WINNIE WINKLE THE BREADWINNER

They Thought
Pa Was Spoofing

GASOLINE ALLEY—OH, BILL! HAVE A HEART!

MOON MULLINS—TOO MUCH OVERHEAD

AMUSEMENTS

Lyric Theatre—Lyric Players in "Officer 666."
Forsyth Theatre—Jimmie Hodges Musical Comedy Company in "All About Cuba."
Howard Theatre—"The Covered Wagon."
Metropolitan Theatre—"The Perfect Flapper."
Rialto Theatre—"The Bedroom Window."
Alma No. 2—Buster Keaton in "Hospitality."
Tudor Theatre—Tom Mix in "Just Tony."
Alpha Theatre—"The Trial Run."

"Officer 666."

(At the Lyric.)
Isabelle Lorne is to be seen only three more times in Atlanta, tonight, tomorrow afternoon and the tomorrow night when she closes her six months engagement in "Officer 666," the joyous melodramatic farce by Augustin Machug.

The players are all set for the opening in "Thank U" Monday night with beautiful Edith King, who created the leading role in New York under Winchell Smith's direction.

Hodges Musical Comedy.

(At the Forsyth.)
"The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," staged in the city theatre, the original New York drama, and for which Bobby Gore, dancing producer of the Jimmie Hodges musical comedy company has trained his girls for more than three weeks, is a big hit of this week's offering at the Forsyth theatre. "All About Cuba," the elaborate feature of the scenic effects and the extravagance of colorful costumes. The play was written by Jimmie Hodges himself.

"The Shoe Box Revue."

(At the Lyric.)
The beauty chorus in "The Shoe Box Revue," the feature headline at Lyric's Grand this week, is the subject of much favorable comment, as it is one of the prettiest and most fascinating of the season. The act staged by Ann Linn & Co. with Jack Thompson, came to Atlanta from New York, where it was a big success. All-star acts, "Half-a-Dollar Bill," starring Anna Q. Nilsson, is the feature play.

"The Covered Wagon."

(At the Howard.)
The week's engagement of "The Covered Wagon" at the Howard is speedily drawing to a close. The performances of this super picture will be given tomorrow and it is advisable for all who wish to see it to see it today. The Howard so far has been the house record with this Paramount picture and all indications point to the biggest week in the history of the house.

Colleen Moore.

(At the Metropolitan.)
"The Perfect Flapper," the first National picture now showing at the Metropolitan theatre, is being hailed as Colleen Moore's greatest success. The picture is supported by an unusual cast of all-star caliber, including Sydney Chaplin.

LYRIC THEATRE

TONIGHT AT 8:20
and Tomorrow Matinee

Cohan and Harris' Melodramatic Farce,

"OFFICER 666"

With Edith King, the New Leading Woman.

"THANK U"

With Edith King, the New Leading Woman.

"THE COVERED WAGON"

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

Performances:
10, 11:40, 1:30, 3:20, 5:20,
7:10 and 9:05

MEETROPOLITAN

11:00-12:30
2:15-4:00-5:45-7:30-9:15

COLLEEN MOORE

IN
"THE PERFECT FLAPPER"

OUR GANG COMEDY
LEIDE AND HIS ORCHESTRA

RALTO

COOLEST SPOT IN TOWN
THE BEDROOM WINDOW
WITH MAY McAVOY AND MADOLIN MACREGOR

THE PARAMOUNT

THE HONORABLE SCENIC CLASSIC
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in
"The Three Musketeers"

Alexander Dumas' Immortal Story

Try the Vienna Restaurant
1113 Peachtree St.
UNEXCELLED CUISINE

"The Bedroom Window."

(At the Rialto.)
Matilda Jones, known to the literary world as Ruth Rome, a writer of lurid detective stories, played by Ethel Wales, is at a loss for a plot for a new novel when she reads of the mysterious murder of her brother-in-law. She goes to Ruth (Mary McAvoy), daughter of the slain man, to comfort her and finds herself soon in an earnest effort to solve the mystery.

At the Paramount.

(For Colored Only.)
"The Three Musketeers," coming to the Paramount today for a two-day stage is announced by the house manager as the most gripping and spectacular film ever produced by Douglas Fairbanks.

LOEB MURDER TALESSTYLED PROPAGANDA

Chicago, July 17.—Stories that Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers-slayers of Robert Franks, first planned to make their victim, have been characterized by the prosecution as mere propaganda designed to further the insanity theory of the defense.
The defense is endeavoring to make the youths appear as diabolic as possible in order to prove that both are crazy, according to Dr. William O. Kronin, alienist, who will testify for the state. The prosecution contends that the boys were sane and intelligent and expected to introduce evidence in support of that contention at their trial, scheduled to start August 4.

CRIMINAL ASSAULT SUITBROUGHT AGAINST YOUTHS.

Chicago, July 17.—Details of the alleged assault on Mrs. Louise Pophy, mother of three children, charges were made upon her by Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, accused of kidnaping and killing Robert Franks, were revealed in a declaration filed today in her $100,000 damage suit against the two youths.
The declaration charges that she was kidnaped by two youths while standing in front of a theater and assaulted in an automobile. She declares she recognized the two youths as her assailants from newspaper photographs.

Walton in RaceFor Senate Hits*At Ku Klux Klan

Oklahoma City, July 17.—The Ku Klux Klan campaign against the foremost political issue in Oklahoma, with Jack Walton, impeached governor, leading the anti-klan hosts in a bitter fight for supremacy at the approaching state primaries.

PLOT TO EXTORT$5,000 IS FOILED*AND MAN SEIZED

Bridgeton, Conn., July 17.—A plot to extort $5,000 from Mrs. Marie van Tassel, daughter of the late Edward Sterling, manufacturer, was frustrated today. A police arrested Robert W. Nighthale, a 21-year-old boy, on suspicion of complicity in the affair.

Charter Is GrantedTo "Independent*Order of Clansmen"

A charter incorporating the "Independent Order of Clansmen" was granted by Judge E. D. Thomas in Fulton superior court Thursday to J. J. Nelson, John Wilson and John L. Childers, of Atlanta.

Movie Houses Must PayPublishers' License Fee*for Copyright Music*By Alabama Planters

Philadelphia, July 17.—The United States district court yesterday ordered proprietors of motion picture houses must pay music publishers a license fee for the privilege of playing copyrighted music in their establishments.

STANDARD OIL CUTSGASOLINE ONE CENT

Chicago, July 17.—The Standard Oil company of Indiana today announced a reduction in price of gasoline in the price of gasoline for its entire territory, effective tomorrow.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

Alexander Dumas' Immortal Story

Try the Vienna Restaurant
1113 Peachtree St.
UNEXCELLED CUISINE

REDUCED RATESUPON GRAIN REFUSED*'Run Row Doctor*Given Courtesies*And Safe Custody

Washington, July 17.—Reductions in western railroad rates on grain, grain products and hay, sought by ten states of the Mississippi-Missouri valley cereal growing region under the leadership of Kansas and supported by most farm organizations concerned, were definitely refused today by the interstate commerce commission.

At the same time, the commission decided that the results of an independent investigation it had conducted into the level of rates on these same products in all sections of the United States had demonstrated no need for any changes, and proceedings before it bearing upon both issues were dismissed.

Graduate of Two Universities.

Foulkes said he was a native of Sydney, Australia, and a graduate of medicine from universities at Glasgow and London. When he left school last fall, he signed on the four-master Rask for a three months' voyage to Bermuda. He sought experience as a doctor, while in general, he was one of a sailor near death, he was sent back to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.

Assured Safe Custody.

As S. O. S. from the Elsie B. took Foulkes aboard last yesterday to administer to a sailor, Ralph Conrad, of Longbeach, Nova Scotia, who passed money for "Rask" with 20,000 cases of whisky. She had become a rum ship and her crew were rum runners.

Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.'Run Row Doctor*Given Courtesies*And Safe Custody

New York, July 17.—Official courtesies of the United States government were extended today to Dr. Royston ("Run Row Doc") Foulkes, of Australia, England and the twelve-mile limit.

When it was learned his mission was one of mercy, undertaken in behalf of a sailor near death, he was sent back to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.

Graduate of Two Universities.

Foulkes said he was a native of Sydney, Australia, and a graduate of medicine from universities at Glasgow and London. When he left school last fall, he signed on the four-master Rask for a three months' voyage to Bermuda. He sought experience as a doctor, while in general, he was one of a sailor near death, he was sent back to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.

Assured Safe Custody.

As S. O. S. from the Elsie B. took Foulkes aboard last yesterday to administer to a sailor, Ralph Conrad, of Longbeach, Nova Scotia, who passed money for "Rask" with 20,000 cases of whisky. She had become a rum ship and her crew were rum runners.

Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.*Storms crowded the Rask into a harbor at Bermuda. Soon thereafter she was taken to the Rask in a special cutter, with a special escort and under a white flag of truce.

Street Anxiously Watching Moves at Reparations Meet

J. S. Cosden resigned today as president of the Cosden company. He will remain as a director and member executive committee.

Daily production of crude oil in the country again shows an increase in the average for the week ending July 12, being 1,922,480 barrels, a gain over the previous weekly-yearly statement of 24,300 barrels. This is only 288,000 barrels below the high average daily production for all time made during the week ending September 8, 1923. Today's statement showing a further increase in daily crude oil production accounts for the weakness in oil issues.

For many years business men throughout the country have willingly taken hats off to Standard Oil officials and other individuals prominent in the oil industry for rare business ability and judgment. In view of the high position in business which would thus long held by oil men, it seems strange that the oil industry should have been permitted during the closing months of the ending September 8, 1924 to repeat the very same mistake which brought heart breaking losses in the 1923 oil company annual reports.

Folk production of crude oil reached during the week ending September 8, 1923, was brought about through crude oil price "window dressing" in an effort to market some of the flood of oil which had been produced in the many stock dividends declared in 1922 and 1923.

MARKET
1700 Ohio Copper	1-10 1/2	1	1-10 1/2
2000 Plymouth Lead64	.61	.64
1000 Red Warrior31	.31	.31
3000 Silver Horn01	.01	.01
1000 Silver King01	.01	.01
600 Spearhead08	.07	.07
1000 Tech Hopper	1 1/4	1 1/4	1 1/4
1000 Tupper Divide21	.24	.24
200 Tulepeth Extension53	.54	.54
1000 Tulepeth Extension	1 1/4	1 1/4	1 1/4
8000 U S Cont. Mine	1 1/4	1 1/4	1 1/4
1000 United Verde Ext.	1 1/4	1 1/4	1 1/4
1000 United Verde Ext.	1 1/4	1 1/4	1 1/4
8000 Western Utah Cop.06	.05	.05
Domestic Bonds
1 Aluminum 1-1623	103	103	103
1 Aluminum 7-1083	107 1/4	107 1/4	107 1/4
1 Amn Gas & Elec. Co.	95 1/2	95 1/2	95 1/2
1 Amn. Gas. Pub. Tr.	95 1/2	95 1/2	95 1/2
3 Amn. Gas. Co.	103 1/2	103 1/2	103 1/2

1	Anglo-Am Oil	4 1/2...	102 1/2	102 1/2	102 1/2
5	Asso Sim Hdwr	6 1/2...	78 1/2	78 1/2	78 1/2
1	Beaver Board	8...	76	76	76
3	Bethlehem Stl	7s 1935	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4
5	Can Nat Ry	eq 7s.	110 1/4	110 1/4	110 1/4
6	Childs Co	6s	103 1/4	103 1/4	103 1/4

13	City Service 7a C	94½	94½	94½
7	City Service 7a D	94½	94	94
1	Con Gas Balt 6s...	104½	104½	104½
4	Con Textile S...	80	77	80
2	Con Pap & Bag 6½s	91½	91½	91½
10	Cuban Tel 7½s...	106	106	106
12	Cudahy Pack 5½s...	86½	86	86½
8	Deere & Co 7½s...	102½	101½	102½
7	Det City Gas 6s...	102½	102½	102½
11	Detroit Edison 6s...	106½	106½	106½
6	Duquesne Lt 5½s...	102½	102½	102½
3	Fed Sud 6s 1933...	100	100	100

11	Fisher Body Co	$6,1825	101%	101%	101%
1	Fisher Body Co	$6,1828	101%	101%	101%
2	Robert	67	101%	101%	101%
6	Galena Signal Oil	$7.10	105%	105%	105%
1	Grand Trunk	8%.	107%	107%	107%
1	Gulf Oil	$6.1828	101%	101%	101%
2	100	101%	101%	101%	101%
1	Kennecott Cop	7%.	106%	101%	106%
4	Lehigh Power Sec	$6.101	100%	101%	101%
12	Libby, McNeil &
	Libby, McNeil &
	Manitoba T.	98%	99%	98%
	Morris & Co	7%.	98%	98%	98%
2	National Leather	8%	97	97	97
1	O. Dub Roy	8%.	87%	87%	87%
3	Nor States Pub	9%	97%	97%	97%
4	Nor States Pow cvt
	8%.	110%	110%	110%

[illegible]

WEEKLY STATEMENT BANK OF ENGLAND

London, July 17.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds:

Total reserve increased 1,059,000; circulation decreased 1,067,000; bullion increased 1,794; other securities increased 230,000; other deposits decreased 3,428,000; public deposits increased 1,811,000; notes reserve

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liabilities this week is 18.30 per cent, last week it was 17.17 per cent.

Rate of discount, 4 per cent.

Sunstrike Kills Carpenter.

Little Rock, Ark. July 17.—A. J.

Little Rock, Ark., July 11.—A. G. Tarpley, 56, carpenter employed by the Little Rock school board, suffered a sun stroke today while working on the south side of a school building and died en route to a hospital.

Orvis Brothers & Co.
Established 1872
60 Broadway, New York City
Branch Office: 44th St. & Madison Ave.
We Invite Accounts for Future Delivery Orders in Cotton, Cotton-Seed Oil, Coffee

Sugar, Grain, Provisions
STOCKS AND BONDS
For Investment or Carried on Conservative Margin
MEMBERS
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
N. Y. COFFEE & SUGAR EXCHANGE
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE

& BEANE

BOOKERS NEW YORK

BRANCH OFFICE
2nd Floor, Healey Building
t 1092-1093-1094-5703

Members
All
Principal Exchanges

Memphis, Chicago and throughout the South.

CURED WITHOUT SURGERY

fers from Piles can be quickly and the use of knife, scissors, "hot"
other cutting or burning method, bed and no hospital bills to pay.
persons afflicted with piles. Call ation and advice.

HUGHES 18½ N. Broad
Atlanta, Ga.

14

Reading This Page of Opportunities Will Show Its Importance

DEMOCRATS MOVE TO ABOLISH RULES

Chicago, July 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Concerted action by members of the democratic national committee for a number of western and southern states in an endeavor to make both the unit rule and two-thirds majority inoperative in future national conventions had advanced today to the stage of formal interchange of views on the subject, a member of the committee revealed.

A committee member from one western state has prepared a formal declaration on the subject for submission to the proposed meeting of the national committee at Clarksville, Va., early in August.

Under this resolution the committee would declare both rules contrary to democratic principles and recommend to the various state bodies that all plans for the convention of 1928 and thereafter be calculated on the basis of majority rule in the nominations and with every delegate free, no far as binding party rules are concerned, to vote his own preference.

More than a fourth of the committee members have given assent to the proposition since the national convention adjourned a week ago, a leader in the move said today. Additional members have been solicited on the question and have promised to assist in bringing the proposed resolution before the full committee.

Thomas E. Love, national committee member from Texas, W. W. Hovey, of South Dakota, and Clyde Herring, of Iowa, are understood to have taken the lead in the move with a primary view of making a recurrence of the situation which developed in the recent convention unlikely, if not impossible.

$150,000 Sought Of Seaboard Road For Bridge Crash

Athens, Ga., July 17.—(Special).—Two suits aggregating $150,000 were filed today against the Seaboard Air Line railroad here, one by Miss Nellie Eberhardt, trained nurse injured in the automobile wreck on the Athens-Jefferson road last April when Dr. J. P. Proctor and Miss Irene Day, another nurse, were killed. Mrs. Nellie Day, mother of Mrs. Irene Day, of Oconee county, filed the other suit.

Plaintiffs in both cases base their action on the ground that the bridge maintained by the Seaboard over its tracks on the Athens-Jefferson road was defective and dangerous.

Miss Nellie Eberhardt, who is suing for $100,000 damages, claims that she has been permanently injured and incapacitated for work as a result of the injuries received in the wreck. The petitioner claims that the car, driven by Dr. Proctor, was traveling at between 24 and 25 miles per hour when it ran through the railing on the overhead bridge and plunged to the tracks below.

Blame Peach Market As Ft. Valley Bank Is Forced To Close

Fort Valley, Ga., July 17.—The Exchange Bank of Fort Valley, in the heart of the peach belt, closed its doors today. Inability to liquidate old peach crop, because of present unfavorable marketing conditions, is said to have been the cause.

W. C. Wright is president and S. B. Brown, cashier.

The Exchange bank had capital and surplus of $86,000, according to the last report. Deposits totaled $288,000. Liabilities amounted to approximately $472,000.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY FOR PHILIP D. BURIE

Last services for Philip D. Burie, well-known Atlantan who died Thursday at the residence on Chattahoochee avenue, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from St. James Methodist church. Other arrangements will be announced later by Atwell & Lowndes.

Mr. Burie, who was 68 years old, was born at Charleston, S. C. He moved to Atlanta when a small boy and for the past 40 years was connected with the Atlanta Press company. He was a member of St. James church for many years.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Jordan Smith and Mrs. James Cook, and three sons, David, Charles and Benjamin Burie.

FAIRBURN NEGRO TO FACE CHARGE OF RIFLING MAILS

Fairburn, Ga., July 17.—(Special).—Jacob Beck, negro porter at A. & W. P. railroad, who was employed by postal authorities to carry mail from postoffice to and from trains, was arrested this morning by Postal Inspector Cole of Grantville, on charges of having stolen large quantities of wearing apparel from the mails.

Inspector Cole and Chief of Police C. W. Gullatt searched the house of Beck where the missing articles were located and the negro is now lodged in Campbell county jail preparatory to being moved to Fulton tower.

The negro has a good reputation here.

KANNAPPEL PROMOTED BY RAILROAD COMPANY

Announcement of promotion of E. C. Kannappel, general agent of the Erie Railroad company in Atlanta for a number of years, to the Kansas City office, was made Thursday following a business visit there by T. C. Powell, of New York, vice president of the system.

Charles Patton, general agent of the Birmingham office, was transferred to succeed Mr. Kannappel. Mr. Patton is widely known here, having resided in Atlanta at intervals during the past 35 years.

Accompanying the vice president, who is making a tour of southern cities, was J. B. Ford, of Chicago, traffic manager of the Erie Railroad company.

BIRMINGHAM TROLLEY KILLS 2-YEAR-OLD TOT

Birmingham, Ala., July 17.—Ollie Dean Walton, 2-year-old girl, was killed instantly here this morning when she was run over by a trolley on the water street car. The child, according to witnesses, ran in front of the car while crossing the street after her mother, who had gone to a vegetable wagon on the opposite side of the street from the home.

The Atlanta Constitution Classified Advertising

All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Constitution style of type. Publishers reserve the right to edit or reject classified advertising copy.

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the one-time insertion rates, no ad taken for less than two lines.

CLASIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rate per line for consecutive insertions:

One line 15 cents

Three lines 35 cents

Seven lines 75 cents

Fourteen lines 1.40

Advertisement under the following classifications will only be inserted when cash accompanies the order:

1—Automobiles

2—Business Service

3—Real Estate

4—Help Wanted

5—Situations Wanted

6—Lost and Found

7—Personal

8—Medical

9—Legal

10—Religious

11—Public Notices

12—Lost and Found

13—Automobiles

14—Business Service

15—Real Estate

16—Help Wanted

17—Situations Wanted

18—Lost and Found

19—Personal

20—Medical

21—Legal

22—Religious

23—Public Notices

24—Lost and Found

25—Automobiles

26—Business Service

27—Real Estate

28—Help Wanted

29—Situations Wanted

30—Lost and Found

31—Personal

32—Medical

33—Legal

34—Religious

35—Public Notices

36—Lost and Found

37—Automobiles

38—Business Service

39—Real Estate

40—Help Wanted

41—Situations Wanted

42—Lost and Found

43—Personal

44—Medical

45—Legal

46—Religious

47—Public Notices

48—Lost and Found

49—Automobiles

50—Business Service

51—Real Estate

52—Help Wanted

53—Situations Wanted

54—Lost and Found

55—Personal

56—Medical

57—Legal

58—Religious

59—Public Notices

60—Lost and Found

61—Automobiles

62—Business Service

63—Real Estate

64—Help Wanted

65—Situations Wanted

66—Lost and Found

67—Personal

68—Medical

69—Legal

70—Religious

71—Public Notices

72—Lost and Found

73—Automobiles

74—Business Service

75—Real Estate

76—Help Wanted

77—Situations Wanted

78—Lost and Found

79—Personal

80—Medical

81—Legal

82—Religious

83—Public Notices

84—Lost and Found

85—Automobiles

86—Business Service

87—Real Estate

88—Help Wanted

89—Situations Wanted

90—Lost and Found

91—Personal

92—Medical

93—Legal

94—Religious

95—Public Notices

96—Lost and Found

97—Automobiles

98—Business Service

99—Real Estate

100—Help Wanted

101—Situations Wanted

102—Lost and Found

103—Personal

104—Medical

105—Legal

106—Religious

107—Public Notices

108—Lost and Found

109—Automobiles

110—Business Service

111—Real Estate

112—Help Wanted

113—Situations Wanted

114—Lost and Found

115—Personal

116—Medical

117—Legal

118—Religious

119—Public Notices

120—Lost and Found

121—Automobiles

122—Business Service

123—Real Estate

124—Help Wanted

125—Situations Wanted

126—Lost and Found

127—Personal

128—Medical

129—Legal

130—Religious

131—Public Notices

132—Lost and Found

133—Automobiles

134—Business Service

135—Real Estate

136—Help Wanted

137—Situations Wanted

138—Lost and Found

139—Personal

140—Medical

141—Legal

142—Religious

143—Public Notices

144—Lost and Found

145—Automobiles

146—Business Service

147—Real Estate

148—Help Wanted

149—Situations Wanted

150—Lost and Found

151—Personal

152—Medical

153—Legal

154—Religious

155—Public Notices

156—Lost and Found

157—Automobiles

158—Business Service

159—Real Estate

160—Help Wanted

161—Situations Wanted

162—Lost and Found

163—Personal

164—Medical

165—Legal

166—Religious

167—Public Notices

168—Lost and Found

169—Automobiles

170—Business Service

171—Real Estate

172—Help Wanted

173—Situations Wanted

174—Lost and Found

175—Personal

176—Medical

177—Legal

178—Religious

179—Public Notices

180—Lost and Found

181—Automobiles

182—Business Service

183—Real Estate

184—Help Wanted

185—Situations Wanted

186—Lost and Found

187—Personal

188—Medical

189—Legal

190—Religious

191—Public Notices

192—Lost and Found

193—Automobiles

194—Business Service

195—Real Estate

196—Help Wanted

197—Situations Wanted

198—Lost and Found

199—Personal

200—Medical

201—Legal

202—Religious

203—Public Notices

204—Lost and Found

205—Automobiles

206—Business Service

207—Real Estate

208—Help Wanted

209—Situations Wanted

210—Lost and Found

211—Personal

212—Medical

213—Legal

214—Religious

215—Public Notices

216—Lost and Found

217—Automobiles

218—Business Service

219—Real Estate

220—Help Wanted

221—Situations Wanted

222—Lost and Found

223—Personal

224—Medical

225—Legal

226—Religious

227—Public Notices

228—Lost and Found

229—Automobiles

230—Business Service

231—Real Estate

232—Help Wanted

233—Situations Wanted

234—Lost and Found

235—Personal

236—Medical

237—Legal

238—Religious

239—Public Notices

240—Lost and Found

241—Automobiles

242—Business Service

243—Real Estate

244—Help Wanted

245—Situations Wanted

246—Lost and Found

247—Personal

248—Medical

249—Legal

250—Religious

251—Public Notices

252—Lost and Found

253—Automobiles

254—Business Service

255—Real Estate

256—Help Wanted

257—Situations Wanted

258—Lost and Found

259—Personal

260—Medical

261—Legal

262—Religious

263—Public Notices

264—Lost and Found

265—Automobiles

266—Business Service

267—Real Estate

268—Help Wanted

269—Situations Wanted

270—Lost and Found

271—Personal

272—Medical

273—Legal

274—Religious

275—Public Notices

276—Lost and Found

277—Automobiles

278—Business Service

279—Real Estate

280—Help Wanted

281—Situations Wanted

282—Lost and Found

283—Personal

284—Medical

285—Legal

286—Religious

287—Public Notices

288—Lost and Found

289—Automobiles

290—Business Service

291—Real Estate

292—Help Wanted

293—Situations Wanted

294—Lost and Found

295—Personal

296—Medical

297—Legal

298—Religious

299—Public Notices

300—Lost and Found

301—Automobiles

302—Business Service

303—Real Estate

304—Help Wanted

305—Situations Wanted

306—Lost and Found

307—Personal

308—Medical

309—Legal

310—Religious

311—Public Notices

312—Lost and Found

313—Automobiles

314—Business Service

315—Real Estate

316—Help Wanted

317—Situations Wanted

318—Lost and Found

319—Personal

320—Medical

321—Legal

322—Religious

323—Public Notices

324—Lost and Found

325—Automobiles

326—Business Service

327—Real Estate

328—Help Wanted

329—Situations Wanted

330—Lost and Found

331—Personal

332—Medical

333—Legal

334—Religious

335—Public Notices

336—Lost and Found

337—Automobiles

338—Business Service

339—Real Estate

340—Help Wanted

341—Situations Wanted

342—Lost and Found

343—Personal

344—Medical

345—Legal

346—Religious

347—Public Notices

348—Lost and Found

349—Automobiles

350—Business Service

351—Real Estate

352—Help Wanted

353—Situations Wanted

354—Lost and Found

355—Personal

356—Medical

357—Legal

358—Religious

359—Public Notices

360—Lost and Found

361—Automobiles

362—Business Service

363—Real Estate

364—Help Wanted

365—Situations Wanted

366—Lost and Found

367—Personal

368—Medical

369—Legal

370—Religious

371—Public Notices

372—Lost and Found

373—Automobiles

374—Business Service

375—Real Estate

376—Help Wanted

377—Situations Wanted

378—Lost and Found

379—Personal

380—Medical

381—Legal

382—Religious

383—Public Notices

384—Lost and Found

385—Automobiles

386—Business Service

387—Real Estate

388—Help Wanted

389—Situations Wanted

390—Lost and Found

391—Personal

392—Medical

393—Legal

394—Religious

395—Public Notices

396—Lost and Found

397—Automobiles

398—Business Service

399—Real Estate

400—Help Wanted

401—Situations Wanted

402—Lost and Found

403—Personal

404—Medical

405—Legal

406—Religious

407—Public Notices

408—Lost and Found

409—Automobiles

410—Business Service

411—Real Estate

412—Help Wanted

413—Situations Wanted

414—Lost and Found

415—Personal

416—Medical

417—Legal

418—Religious

419—Public Notices

420—Lost and Found

421—Automobiles

422—Business Service

423—Real Estate

424—Help Wanted

425—Situations Wanted

426—Lost and Found

427—Personal

428—Medical

429—Legal

430—Religious

431—Public Notices

432—Lost and Found

433—Automobiles

434—Business Service

435—Real Estate

436—Help Wanted

437—Situations Wanted

438—Lost and Found

439—Personal

440—Medical

441—Legal

442—Religious

443—Public Notices

444—Lost and Found

445—Automobiles

446—Business Service

447—Real Estate

448—Help Wanted

449—Situations Wanted

450—Lost and Found

451—Personal

452—Medical

453—Legal

454—Religious

455—Public Notices

456—Lost and Found

457—Automobiles

458—Business Service

459—Real Estate

460—Help Wanted

461—Situations Wanted

462—Lost and Found

463—Personal

464—Medical

465—Legal

466—Religious

467—Public Notices

468—Lost and Found

469—Automobiles

470—Business Service

471—Real Estate

472—Help Wanted

473—Situations Wanted

474—Lost and Found

475—Personal

476—Medical

477—Legal

478—Religious

479—Public Notices

480—Lost and Found

481—Automobiles

482—Business Service

483—Real Estate

484—Help Wanted

485—Situations Wanted

486—Lost and Found

487—Personal

488—Medical

489—Legal

490—Religious

491—Public Notices

492—Lost and Found

493—Automobiles

494—Business Service

495—Real Estate

496—Help Wanted

497—Situations Wanted

498—Lost and Found

499—Personal

500—Medical

501—Legal

502—Religious

503—Public Notices

504—Lost and Found

505—Automobiles

506—Business Service

507—Real Estate

508—Help Wanted

509—Situations Wanted

510—Lost and Found

511—Personal

512—Medical

513—Legal

514—Religious

515—Public Notices

516—Lost and Found

517—Automobiles

518—Business Service

519—Real Estate

520—Help Wanted

521—Situations Wanted

522—Lost and Found

523—Personal

524—Medical

525—Legal

526—Religious

527—Public Notices

528—Lost and Found

529—Automobiles

530—Business Service

531—Real Estate

532—Help Wanted

533—Situations Wanted

534—Lost and Found

535—Personal

536—Medical

537—Legal

538—Religious

539—Public Notices

540—Lost and Found

541—Automobiles

542—Business Service

543—Real Estate

544—Help Wanted

545—Situations Wanted

546—Lost and Found

547—Personal

548—Medical

549—Legal

550—Religious

551—Public Notices

552—Lost and Found

553—Automobiles

554—Business Service

555—Real Estate

556—Help Wanted

557—Situations Wanted

558—Lost and Found

559—Personal

560—Medical

561—Legal

562—Religious

563—Public Notices

564—Lost and Found

565—Automobiles

566—Business Service

567—Real Estate

568—Help Wanted

569—Situations Wanted

570—Lost and Found

571—Personal

572—Medical

573—Legal

574—Religious

575—Public Notices

576—Lost and Found

577—Automobiles

578—Business Service

579—Real Estate

580—Help Wanted

581—Situations Wanted

582—Lost and Found

583—Personal

584—Medical

585—Legal

586—Religious

587—Public Notices

588—Lost and Found

589—Automobiles

590—Business Service

591—Real Estate

592—Help Wanted

593—Situations Wanted

594—Lost and Found

595—Personal

596—Medical

597—Legal

598—Religious

599—Public Notices

600—Lost and Found

601—Automobiles

602—Business Service

603—Real Estate

604—Help Wanted

605—Situations Wanted

606—Lost and Found

607—Personal

608—Medical

609—Legal

610—Religious

611—Public Notices

612—Lost and Found

613—Automobiles

614—Business Service

615—Real Estate

616—Help Wanted

617—Situations Wanted

618—Lost and Found

619—Personal

620—Medical

621—Legal

622—Religious

623—Public Notices

624—Lost and Found

625—Automobiles

626—Business Service

627—Real Estate

628—Help Wanted

629—Situations Wanted

630—Lost and Found

631—Personal

632—Medical

633—Legal

634—Religious

635—Public Notices

636—Lost and Found

637—Automobiles

638—Business Service

639—Real Estate

640—Help Wanted

641—Situations Wanted

642—Lost and Found

643—Personal

644—Medical

645—Legal

646—Religious

647—Public Notices

648—Lost and Found

649—Automobiles

650—Business Service

651—Real Estate

652—Help Wanted

653—Situations Wanted

654—Lost and Found

655—Personal

656—Medical

657—Legal

658—Religious

659—Public Notices

660—Lost and Found

661—Automobiles

662—Business Service

663—Real Estate

664—Help Wanted

665—Situations Wanted

666—Lost and Found

667—Personal

668—Medical

669—Legal

670—Religious

671—Public Notices

672—Lost and Found

673—Automobiles

674—Business Service

675—Real Estate

676—Help Wanted

677—Situations Wanted

678—Lost and Found

679—Personal

680—Medical

681—Legal

682—Religious

683—Public Notices

684—Lost and Found

685—Automobiles

686—Business Service

687—Real Estate

688—Help Wanted

689—Situations Wanted

690—Lost and Found

691—Personal

692—Medical

693—Legal

694—Religious

695—Public Notices

696—Lost and Found

697—Automobiles

698—Business Service

699—Real Estate

700—Help Wanted

701—Situations Wanted

702—Lost and Found

703—Personal

704—Medical

705—Legal

706—Religious

707—Public Notices

708—Lost and Found

709—Automobiles

710—Business Service

711—Real Estate

712—Help Wanted

713—Situations Wanted

714—Lost and Found

715—Personal

716—Medical

717—Legal

718—Religious

719—Public Notices

720—Lost and Found

721—Automobiles

722—Business Service

723—Real Estate

724—Help Wanted

725—Situations Wanted

726—Lost and Found

727—Personal

728—Medical

729—Legal

730—Religious

731—Public Notices

732—Lost and Found

733—Automobiles

734—Business Service

735—Real Estate

736—Help Wanted

737—Situations Wanted

738—Lost and Found

739—Personal

740—Medical

741—Legal

742—Religious

743—Public Notices

744—Lost and Found

745—Automobiles

746—Business Service

747—Real Estate

748—Help Wanted

749—Situations Wanted

750—Lost and Found

751—Personal

752—Medical

753—Legal

754—Religious

755—Public Notices

756—Lost and Found

757—Automobiles

758—Business Service

759—Real Estate

760—Help Wanted

761—Situations Wanted

762—Lost and Found

763—Personal

764—Medical

765—Legal

766—Religious

767—Public Notices

768—Lost and Found

769—Automobiles

770—Business Service

771—Real Estate

772—Help Wanted

773—Situations Wanted

774—Lost and Found

775—Personal

776—Medical

777—Legal

778—Religious

779—Public Notices

780—Lost and Found

781—Automobiles

782—Business Service

783—Real Estate

784—Help Wanted

785—Situations Wanted

786—Lost and Found

787—Personal

788—Medical

789—Legal

790—Religious

791—Public Notices

792—Lost and Found

793—Automobiles

794—Business Service

795—Real Estate

796—Help Wanted

797—Situations Wanted

798—Lost and Found

799—Personal

800—Medical

801—Legal

802—Religious

803—Public Notices

804—Lost and Found

805—Automobiles

806—Business Service

807—Real Estate

808—Help Wanted

809—Situations Wanted

810—Lost and Found

811—Personal

812—Medical

813—Legal

814—Religious

815—Public Notices

816—Lost and Found

817—Automobiles

818—Business Service

819—Real Estate

820—Help Wanted

821—Situations Wanted

822—Lost and Found

823—Personal

824—Medical

825—Legal

826—Religious

827—Public Notices

828—Lost and Found

829—Automobiles

830—Business Service

831—Real Estate

832—Help Wanted

833—Situations Wanted

834—Lost and Found

835—Personal

836—Medical

837—Legal

838—Religious

839—Public Notices

840—Lost and Found

841—Automobiles

842—Business Service

843—Real Estate

844—Help Wanted

845—Situations Wanted

846—Lost and Found

84

